

Foreword

A Note From Cory Barlog

Thank you video games.

For introducing me to fantastic worlds, interesting characters and sometimes maddening challenges. Thank you for transporting me from the real world of awkwardness and anxiety to the expansive fields of Hyrule where I was able to experience what it would be like to be a hero and change the world.

Thank you for teaching about what it truly means to cooperate by allowing me to completely ignore my teammates in favor of jumping around the map firing rockets in random directions and, in the end, accidentally killing everyone on the opposing team. I carry this lesson with me always. Some say I never really learned the right lesson from that, though.

You may not always be perfect; hell, sometimes you downright infuriate me and make me want to throw my controller into an active volcano. However, even in the lowest of moments, I am thankful that you exist.

Most importantly, I am eternally grateful to the legions of creators that have toiled away over the decades since the inception of this wonderful medium to craft the experiences that helped make me a creator today.

So, thank you video games. You have changed me in so many great ways, and made my time on this planet so much more interesting. I would say you made me a better human, but who am I kidding? I still rage quit Injustice 2 :)

I hope you enjoy the adventure as much as everyone here at SMS enjoyed creating it!

The Basics

Overview

Welcome to a new chapter of God of War. Those familiar with the series are used to a brutal and free-flowing combat system, challenging boss fights, and puzzle-solving. This rendition expands on that formula with a wide array of customization options, numerous Favors, Labors, and other optional content, and hours and hours of solid, satisfying gameplay.

Our guide provides everything you need to complete the father-son Journey and beyond. We walk you step-by-step through every playable area of Midgard and the surrounding realms. We get you efficiently from Point A to Point B while stopping to call attention to all items of interest along the way, in every region.

But be sure to check out this Basics section first. It will add profound layers of depth to your understanding of the game. The reason: much of the rich, detailed information in here comes directly from the horse's mouth. Our four weeks spent on-site at Sony's Santa Monica Studio included meetings with the entire senior game design team, as well as regular sessions with Sony's outstanding Quality Assurance testing crew.

A good example: Check out our sections on "Power Level" and "Combat." This is information you won't (and can't) find anywhere else, because it's buried deep in the game systems. Our generous Sony hosts shared it all with us, and with you.

So, all of us, authors and readers alike, owe thanks to Team Sony not only for creating such a fun game, but also for helping us understand its basic mechanics at a fundamental level. Which, for many of us, makes great games even more fun.

The Basics

Difficulties

There are four difficulties available in God of War, which you select at the start. You can change to any difficulty at any time from the Settings Menu, except for “Give Me God of War” difficulty. The toughest difficulty must be selected at the start and cannot be lowered.

GIVE ME A STORY

Experience the story without too much of a gameplay challenge.

- Enemies deliver less damage and take more damage
- Enemies have reduced resistance to hit reactions
- Enemies are much easier to Stun
- Enemies are much less aggressive
- Enemies are weaker to Leviathan’s ranged attacks
- Kratos is more resistant to status effects

GIVE ME A BALANCED EXPERIENCE

An adventure that’s reasonably challenging.

GIVE ME A CHALLENGE

A more demanding combat experience.

- Enemies gain a small Power Level advantage, improving many Stats
- Many enemies gain 50 health bonus
- Enemies deliver more damage and status effect damage
- Enemies have an 8 boost to Defense, forcing the player to get 8 more Strength to deliver bonus damage
- Enemies are harder to Stun in general, with slight bonus resistance to axe and bare-handed attacks
- Enemies are more resilient to Leviathan’s ranged attacks
- Enemies are more resistant to Atreus’ Runic Summons
- Enemies are more aggressive
- Enemies absorb impact from basic attacks
- Building up Permafrost/Immolation takes more time

GIVE ME GOD OF WAR

As difficult as possible, requiring god-like reflexes and strategy. This difficulty cannot be changed mid-game, so a new game must be started to lower the difficulty.

- All previous attributes (Give Me a Challenge)
- Most enemies power up and turn Elite after taking damage. Elite enemies are stronger and more aggressive, so preventing the turn is key to success
- Enemies take slightly less damage
- Enemies deliver much more status damage
- Harmful status effects last longer and are more potent
- Enemies have a defense boostSlight increase in damage delivered to enemies in midair
- Enemies can only be wall-pinned in the air
- Enemies can counterattack quickly after taking hit reactions or blocking an attack
- Kratos motion during attacks is more precise
- Fewer advantages when the hero has a greater Power Level than an enemy
- Frost status effect reduces Kratos’ invincibility frames on evades
- Poison status effect reduces Kratos’ Power Level
- Burn status effect does much more damage
- Spartan Rage gain rate significantly reduced
- Health pickups reduce status damage and can clear active status effects
- Enemies are more resistant to status effects
- Parry attacks are less effective
- Elite enemies do not take ledge reactions and take significantly reduced reactions to Spartan Rage

The Basics

User Interface

HEAD-UP DISPLAY

The HUD conveys important information that assists the player in exploration and combat.

1 Witch's Compass: The compass shows the direction that Kratos is facing. The current objectives for the Journey and selected Favor are also shown, along with the distances to these destinations. Use this information to get your bearings when unsure of where to go next.

2 Talisman Ability (L1 + Circle): If you have a Talisman equipped with a bonus ability, this icon lets you know when it's available.

3 Light/Heavy Runic Attack (L1 + R1 / R2): The upper icon represents your equipped Light Runic Attack, while the lower icon is the Heavy. After using an ability, you must wait for the icon to refill before it can be performed again.

4 Leviathan Axe Permafrost / Blades of Chaos Immolation: In order to use Permafrost or Immolation, you must purchase the corresponding Skill. This meter builds as you attack with the appropriate weapon (successive hits without getting hit) until momentum is achieved. At that point, every hit is more powerful, with Frost/Burn damage applied on every hit. This icon itself represents the currently equipped weapon and does not require any Skills. The fill and flourish is related to the momentum abilities.

5 Health, Rage, and Status Effect Meters: The green bar represents Kratos' health, and orange is his Spartan Rage. Small circular meters appear above the health bar when you're hit by status effects. The middle fills up each time the effect hits. Once it's full, you're inflicted, and a line around the outside of the icon indicates the time remaining until the infliction goes away. Get hit with more of the status effect before it drains, and the meter builds.

8 Enemy Level, Health, Status: Important information for each enemy is displayed above its head. Enemy level, health, Stun meter, and status effects are shown only when engaged with the enemy.

9 Threat Indicator: These indicators point toward nearby off-screen threats. White signifies nearby enemies, flashing red points out an incoming attack, and flashing purple indicates an incoming projectile. Prepare accordingly.

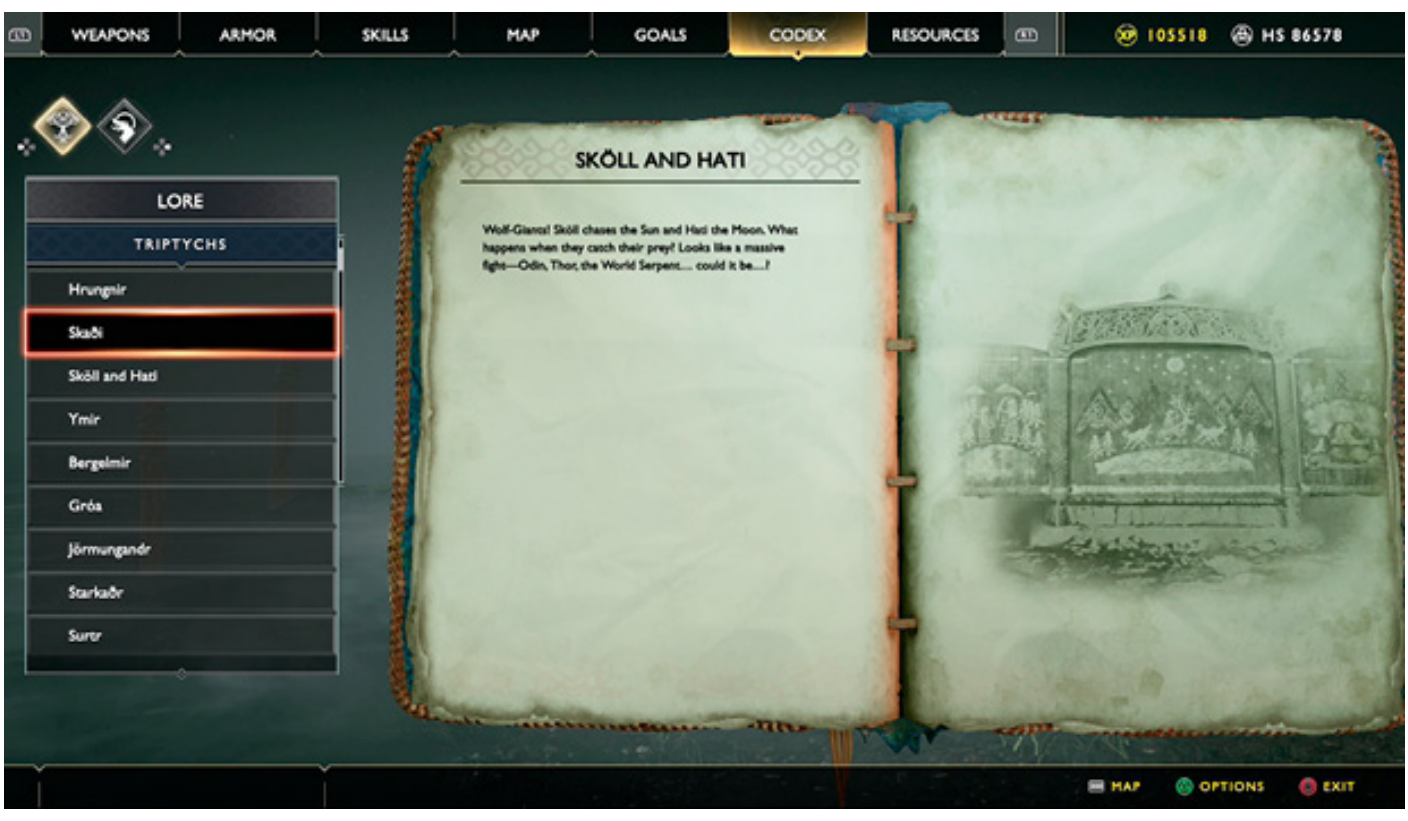

10 Perk Activations: Temporary perks triggered from Kratos' gear are shown here along with their corresponding timer.

Other On-Screen Notifications

- Boss Health and Stun Meters:When facing a miniboss or boss, a segmented bar displays remaining health. As you damage the enemy, a portion of the bar turns red, representing the amount of health removed with the previous attack. Deplete the entire bar to defeat the enemy. Fill the thin meter displayed below the health to Stun the boss.
- Journey Updates:Each time you receive a new objective, it's shown in the upper-left corner of the screen.
- Progress Updates:Updates to current objectives and Labors appear on the right side of the screen.
- New Locations:As you discover new locations, the region name appears below the compass. A small amount of XP is earned for each new region discovered.
- Button Prompts:Button prompts and other useful information appear above Kratos' health bar.

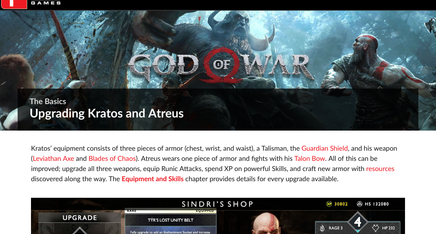

THE PAUSE MENU

Throughout the Journey, Atreus logs observations into his journal. Press the Options button to pause the game and access the journal, where you can view the following tabs. Tap the Touchpad at any time to display the map.

- Weapons: Change and upgrade Runic Attacks and pommels for the Leviathan Axe and Blades of Chaos. Select a Runic Summon for Atreus.
- Armor: Equip chest armor, wrist armor, waist armor, and a Talisman for Kratos. This is also where you insert Enchantments into the armor. Select armor for Atreus.
- Skills: Spend your hard-earned XP on Skills for the Leviathan, shield, Blades, and bow.
- Map: A map for each realm you've visited is available here. They're not accurate representations of the environment, but they provide a good idea of where you are with respect to other regions.
- Current objectives for the Journey and selected Favor are displayed with matching icons on the map. Locations of Mystic Gateways, docks, shops, and more are displayed once you discover that region. A summary for the highlighted region lists everything you've found, along with the total number available.
- Goals: Current objectives for the Journey, Artifacts, Favors, and Labors are listed here. Also find the Treasure Maps currently in your possession.
- Codex: Lore (Jötnar Shrines, Lore Markers, Rune Reads, Scrolls, Mimir's Tales, Lessons) that you discover along the way is logged under the Lore Tab. As you defeat enemies, entries are added to the Bestiary Tab. At first Atreus notes observations about each type of enemy, but eventually tips are added.
- Resources: All resources and special items you gather are listed here. Resources are used at the shops to craft and upgrade your gear. Special items are used during the Journey and while completing Favors and Labors.

The Basics

Upgrading Kratos and Atreus

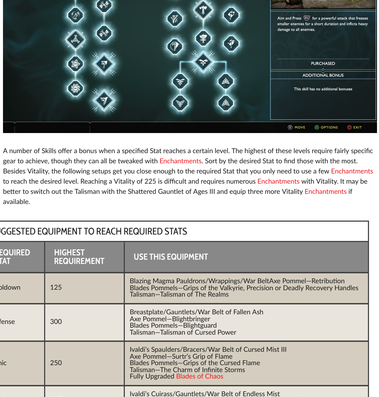

Kratos' equipment consists of three pieces of armor (chest, wrist, and waist), a Talisman, the Guardian Shield, and his weapon (Leviathan Axe and Blades of Chaos). Atreus wears one piece of armor and fights with his Talon Bow. All of this can be improved; upgrade all three weapons, equip Runic Attacks, spend XP on powerful Skills, and craft new armor with resources discovered along the way. The Equipment and Skills chapter provides details for every upgrade available.

WEAPON UPGRADES
WEAPON	HOW TO UPGRADE	NUMBER OF UPGRADES
Leviathan Axe	Return Frozen Flames to Brok or Sindri	5
Blades of Chaos	Return Chaos Flames to Brok or Sindri	4
Talon Bow	Spend Hacksilver and Svartalfheim Steel at a Huldra shop	5

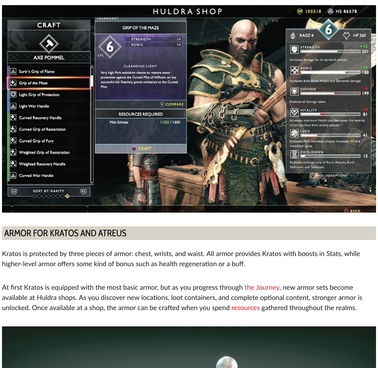

RUNIC ATTACKS AND SUMMONS

Special abilities are available for the axe, Blades, and bow. Kratos can equip a Light and Heavy Runic Attack on each of his weapons, while Atreus has a Runic Summon that may be used in and out of combat. Hold L1 + R1 to perform the Light Runic Attack and L1 + R2 for the Heavy. Hold Square, and Atreus sends out his Runic Summon. All specials require a cooldown time before they can be used again. Increase Kratos' Runic and Cooldown Stats to improve the effectiveness of the abilities.

SKILLS

Passive and active Skills are available for the Leviathan Axe, Blades of Chaos, Guardian Shield, Talon Bow, and Rage Mode. The three weapons (but not the Guardian Shield) must be upgraded to unlock all of the Skills. Spend XP at the journal's Skills Tab to purchase Skills.

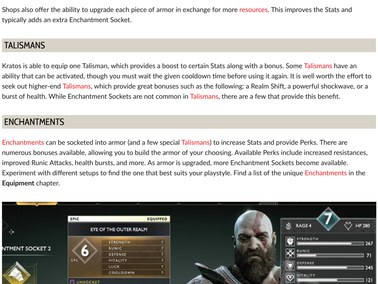

A number of Skills offer a bonus when a specified Stat reaches a certain level. The highest of these levels require fairly specific gear to achieve, though they can all be tweaked with Enchantments. Sort by the desired Stat to find those with the most. Besides Vitality, the following setups get you close enough to the required Stat that you only need to use a few Enchantments to reach the desired level. Reaching a Vitality of 225 is difficult and requires numerous Enchantments with Vitality. It may be better to switch out the Talisman with the Shattered Gauntlet of Ages III and equip three more Vitality Enchantments if available.

SUGGESTED EQUIPMENT TO REACH REQUIRED STATS
REQUIRED STAT	HIGHEST REQUIREMENT	USE THIS EQUIPMENT
Cooldown	125	Blazing Magma Pauldrons/Wrappings/War BeltAxe Pommel—Retribution Blades Pommels—Grips of the Valkyrie, Precision or Deadly Recovery Handles Talisman—Talisman of The Realms
Defense	300	Breastplate/Gauntlets/War Belt of Fallen Ash Axe Pommel—Blightbringer Blades Pommels—Blightguard Talisman—Talisman of Cursed Power
Runic	250	Ivaldi's Spaulders/Bracers/War Belt of Cursed Mist III Axe Pommel—Surtr's Grip of Flame Blades Pommels—Grips of the Cursed Flame Talisman—The Charm of Infinite Storms Fully Upgraded Blades of Chaos
Vitality	225	Ivaldi's Cuirass/Gauntlets/War Belt of Endless Mist Axe Pommel—Mistbourne/Blades Pommels—Grips of the Forgotten Flame Talisman—Hrvegelmir Stone III (18 Vitality)

Our Equipment and Skills chapter lists every Skill available, along with requirements and XP cost for each one.

POMMELS FOR THE AXE AND BLADES

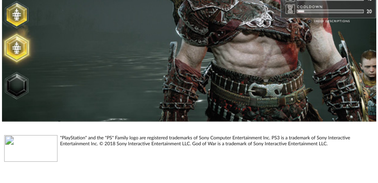

Equip pommels on the Leviathan Axe and Blades of Chaos for increased Stats and a unique Perk. The Perk is activated at varying rates after a specific combat action. Upgrading pommels at a shop increases the Stats. Check out our full listing of available pommels in the Equipment chapter.

ARMOR FOR KRATOS AND ATREUS

Kratos is protected by three pieces of armor: chest, wrists, and waist. All armor provides Kratos with boosts in Stats, while higher-level armor offers some kind of bonus such as health regeneration or a buff.

At first Kratos is equipped with the most basic armor, but as you progress through the Journey, new armor sets become available at Huldra shops. As you discover new locations, loot containers, and complete optional content, stronger armor is unlocked. Once available at a shop, the armor can be crafted when you spend resources gathered throughout the realms.

Nearly all armor includes slots called Enchantment Sockets, where Enchantments are inserted for Stat boosts and bonus Perks. Enchantments are found in containers, dropped by enemies, rewarded for completing objectives, and purchased from shops. Each component includes zero to three sockets.

Shops also offer the ability to upgrade each piece of armor in exchange for more resources. This improves the Stats and typically adds an extra Enchantment Socket.

TALISMANS

Kratos is able to equip one Talisman, which provides a boost to certain Stats along with a bonus. Some Talismans have an ability that can be activated, though you must wait the given cooldown time before using it again. It is well worth the effort to seek out higher-end Talismans, which provide great bonuses such as the following: a Realm Shift, a powerful shockwave, or a burst of health. While Enchantment Sockets are not common in Talismans, there are a few that provide this benefit.

ENCHANTMENTS

Enchantments can be socketed into armor (and a few special Talismans) to increase Stats and provide Perks. There are numerous bonuses available, allowing you to build the armor of your choosing. Available Perks include increased resistances, improved Runic Attacks, health bursts, and more. As armor is upgraded, more Enchantment Sockets become available. Experiment with different setups to find the one that best suits your playstyle. Find a list of the unique Enchantments in the Equipment chapter.

The Realms
Beyond the Journey

EXPLORATION

There are plenty of activities to keep you busy outside of the main Journey. Explore every nook and cranny to find valuable loot and challenging enemies. After the water drops in the Lake of Mimir, optional content becomes available, allowing you to visit new regions on Midgard. There are also the numerous quests and sections of the lake to earn more XP and loot. As you progress through this journey, you'll gain more Artifacts for revealing new areas.

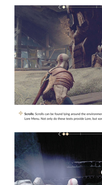

LORE

Aside from things you found throughout your adventures, which provide additional information about the land and characters that inhabit it. As you discover Lore, Atreus translates the runes and makes an entry in the Journal. These are found under the Codex Tab. There are several types of Lore:

- Atreus Writings. These generally explain a puzzle Kratos or Atreus has to make sense of. Besides XP earned, the 101 Atreus Stories also count toward a Lake and Trophy.

- Lore Markers. These tell markers are covered in blue runes. Sometimes a crystal must be inserted into a nearby stand to power the Lore Marker.

- Rune Reads. A word or phrase is written in runes on a wall.

- Scrolls. Scrolls can be found lying around the environment. Kratos'll have to collect the scroll, and he tags it into the Lore Menu. Not only do these texts provide Lore, but some may lead you to available optional content.

- Mimir's Tales. Atreus tags some of Mimir's tales into the journal.
- Lorekeep. Tutorials that pop up during the game can be reviewed from the Codex.

FAVORS

Favors are also known near the World Serpent, the land of Lake of Mimir slope, revealing new locations and unlocking a type of optional content called Favors. When the water drops a second time, even more Favors become available. These Favors are located in Alfheim, Jotunheim and the Realm Tree.

THE FAVORS

ARTIFACTS

Valkyrie Artifacts are scattered throughout the Nine realms.Each one provides a small amount of XP and can be sold to Beli for Hacksilver. Once you've collected all the Artifacts in a realm, you'll receive a Trophy. Some Artifacts are found in Chests in the Vault Tab of the journal. The following table lists the seven types of Artifacts, along with the region where they're found.

ARTIFACTS

ARTIFACT	TOTAL	REGION FOUND
Idris Tiara	4	Alfheim
Hilaire	4	Rivo Pass
Ella Figurehead	4	Lake of Mimir
Rose Artifact	4	Alfheim
Coin	4	The Mountain
Hanna	4	Vanheyjard
Bracers	4	Helheim

LABORS

Each half are valuable items by completing specific objectives called Labors. There are five categories of Labors, which are accessible at Kratos' Labors Journal. Check your progress by viewing the Labors Tab of the journal. Updates are also briefly shown on the right side of your HUD.

- Crafting. Upgrade the axe and Blades. Deliver valuable resources to Brok or Sindri to unlock powerful armor sets.
- Lift. Use specific abilities during combat to deliver great opponents.
- Kill. Kill various grunts, regular grunts, and minibosses.
- World. These Labors promote exploration as you travel the Nine realms. Explore the Lake of Mimir, unlock the Hidden Chambers in Helheim, light the realm tower braziers, release the three Mimir Dragons, save Realm Tears, and all Odin's Ravens.
- Muspelheim. Complete the 11 trials as you climb Muspelheim.

RUNES

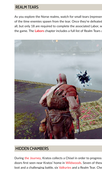

Runes are found in the Treasure Maps as you explore Midgard. They typically lie on the ground out in the open, although you may need to enter a side room to find them. A Squish button icon appears above the map when Kratos approaches one. When you're near a Rune, press the Touch Pad to collect it. Collecting Runes fills the Rune Meter on the Journal screen and unlocks a piece of a buried treasure. Behind the Rune, an image illustrates the location's reputation: approaching Normal, if you haven't found them.

There are 12 Treasure Maps in all. Use the inscription and image to figure out where the treasure is buried. At each location, find a small mound of dirt and mound and add it to collect the treasure. Find locations for all 12 Treasure Maps and treasure in the Alfheim Shrines and Trophies chapter.

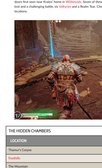

REALM TEARS

As you explore the Nine realms, search for small tears disseminated by a blue tidal in the fabric of reality and slow them. Most of the time enemies spawn from the tear. Once they're defeated, interact with the tidal to close it. There are 25 Realm Tears in all. Find the locations for all 25 Realm Tears and rewards for closing them in the Alfheim Shrines and Trophies after a certain point in the game. The Labors chapter includes a full list of Realm Tears and what to expect from each one.

HIDDEN CHAMBERS

During the Journey, Kratos collects a Chisel in order to progress in the story. At this point, you can access the magically locked doors from your new Kratos' home in Vanheyjard. Seven of these doors lead to Hidden Chambers. Each location holds valuable loot, challenging battle, an Artifact, and a Realm Tear. Check out our Labors chapter for more information on these locations.

THE HIDDEN CHAMBERS

LOCATION	OPPONENT
Thanir's Canyon	Valkyrie Queen
Svarrels	Valkyrie Gatekirtul
The Mountain	Valkyrie 20
Rivo Pass (Witch's Basement)	Valkyrie Kara
Helheim	Valkyrie Skaa
Alfheim	Valkyrie Jitrus
Helheim	Realm Tear

VALKYRIES

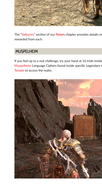

Eight Valkyrie foes have been imprisoned throughout the Norse realms. Six are located inside Hidden Chambers of Odin or mentioned previously. The seventh Valkyrie is found at the top of Muspelheim, while the eighth hides in the Cursed Mist of Helheim. Defeating a Valkyrie rewards you with a piece of Valkyrie armor. Valkyries are located on the north side of Lake of Mimir. They give the attention of the most powerful Valkyrie at the Queen Sigrun.

The "Valkyries" section of our Bosses chapter provides details on how to defeat all nine bosses, as well as a list of items rewarded from each.

MUSPELHEIM

Muspelheim is a real challenge, it's your hand at 10 trials inside the realm of Muspelheim. First you must collect five Runes found in the realm. Collect Good Ones inside secret Legendary Chests, and then you can use the travel room inside Tyr's Temple to access the realm.

For your convenience, Brok has set up a shop just inside the realm. Use him regularly as you climb Muspelheim. Along the way, you'll encounter Muspelheim Chests. Each one contains a Muspelheim Key. Some of these hidden within specific Legendary Chests. Be sure to read Valkyrie at the final trial, The Ascension, for details about the Realm. Another provides details on every trial.

NIFLHEIM

Niflheim is a challenging realm, where the Cursed Mist limits the amounts of time Kratos and Atreus can spend there. To unlock the realm, you must collect the Rune of Niflheim. Some are hidden within specific Legendary Chests. At that point, you can use the travel room at Tyr's Temple to access the realm.

Inside you set up a shop at the end of the bridge within a relic zone. He offers three Runes that level you through all that the realm has to offer. Niflheim is a challenging realm, where the Cursed Mist limits the amounts of time Kratos and Atreus can spend there. If you have remaining before the Cursed Mist knocks Kratos out. Be certain that Tap, and the enemies, traps, and loot reset, creating a unique experience every time. Refer to the "Niflheim" portion of our Realms chapter for more information on everything found in the realm.

Equipment and Skills

Introduction

As Kratos and Atreus progress through their Journey and explore the vast realms, new weapon components and armor can be gathered and equipped — improving Stats and providing bonuses and special abilities. Loot chests and coffins, complete objectives, and kill enemies to score new gear.

Kratos' protection consists of a set of armor (Chest, Wrist, and Waist Armor), a Talisman, and Enchantments. His Leviathan Axe and Blades of Chaos have a selection of special abilities, Skills, and Pommels that can be modified. For added defense, Kratos uses the Guardian Shield, which also provides its own set of Skills.

Atreus wears one piece of armor with its own added bonuses and fires the Talon Bow with another set of Skills and a special Runic Summon ability.

There is a lot to keep track of, but upgrading the father and son with the latest and greatest creates a significantly enhanced combat experience. This chapter lists every item and Skill available to the duo and states how to obtain them all.

Use Stat gains to build Kratos into the fighting machine that best suits your needs. If you prefer to observe enemies' attacks and learn to evade damage, Defense and Vitality may not be as important to you.

If you tend to take a beating, these Stats are vital. Runic Attacks and Summons have the potential to provide devastating damage against your opponents; build up Runic and Cooldown to greatly improve them. Luck is the rarest Stat, but it can speed up your upgrades by providing extra XP and Hacksilver. The following table lists the six Stats and what each one does for Kratos.

STATS

STAT	DESCRIPTION
Strength (STR)	Increases damage for all standard attacks.
Runic (RUN)	Increases both Runic Attack and Elemental Damage.
Defense (DEF)	Reduces all damage taken.
Vitality (VIT)	Increases maximum Health and decreases the severity of hit reactions from enemy attacks.
Luck (LCK)	Increases activation chance on perks (Axe Pommels, Enchantments) and increases XP and Hacksilver gains.
Cooldown (CLD)	Decreases cooldown time of Runic Attacks, Runic Summons, and Talisman Abilities.

Weapons and Shield

Overview

Kratos attacks with his Leviathan Axe, Blades of Chaos, or a combination of his shield and fist. The Leviathan Axe is hard-hitting, deals out Frost damage, and can be thrown. His Blades of Chaos have a wide hit radius, can cause Burn, and are capable of pulling smaller foes in close for melee attacks.

The collapsible Guardian Shield is used to block or parry incoming attacks and for bare-handed combat. Atreus also gets into the action with his Talon Bow, which fires arrows that are capable of stunning and staggering enemies. In addition, he gains the ability to use his bow in melee combat. All of this equipment can be improved by purchasing and finding upgrades.

Skills

How to obtain: Unlock with Weapon Upgrades, Purchase with XP

Both of Kratos' weapons, his shield, and Atreus' bow all have a set of Skills that can be acquired by spending XP. The Skills may add a new ability, improve an existing one, or provide a bonus. The three weapons must be upgraded in order to unlock all Skills. Many Skills also offer an Additional Bonus once a specified Stat reaches the required level.

Runic Attacks and Summons

How to obtain: Loot Legendary Chests, Complete Favors, Defeat Large Enemies

Special abilities are available for the axe, Blades, and bow. Kratos can equip a Light and Heavy Runic Attack on each weapon, while Atreus has an Runic Summon that may be used in and out of combat. Hold L1 + R1 to perform the light Runic Attack and L1 + R2 for the heavy. Hold Square and Atreus sends out his Runic Summon.

SWITCHING ATTACKS AND SUMMONS

Note that you cannot switch out the equipped Runic Attacks or Summon while the cooldown is active. Wait for the ability to become available again before making the change.

All specials require a cooldown time before they can be used again. Increase Kratos' Runic and Cooldown Stats to improve the effectiveness of the abilities. Three Attributes are provided for each Runic Attack/Summon: Damage, Elemental (Frost for axe and Burn for Blades), and Stun. Based on a scale of 0 to 5, these numbers represent the amount of damage and Stun effect produced by each special. The type of Elemental damage depends on which weapon is used. The axe slows enemies with Frost, the Blades add Burn, and Atreus' arrows Weaken and Shock your targets.

Runic Attacks and Summons hidden inside chests throughout the Journey become available in the shops later on if they were missed. At that point, they must be purchased with Hacksilver and Aegir's Gold. These prices are listed in the following tables within the Catch-Up column.

Pommels

How to obtain: Loot Legendary Chests, Complete Favors, Defeat Large Enemies, Craft at Shops

Pommels for your axe and Blades can be swapped out with better versions as they are crafted or found. These give a boost to Stats and may provide a Perk.

Blades of Chaos

Midway through the quest, Kratos obtains them from a merchant. He's not the strongest at earlier the Hydra he must locate. He must forward. Kratos can also mend the axes using the Anvil of Hephaestus locations. With the Blades of Chaos equipped to the series, Kratos now has a spectacular alternative to his axe.

Within their upgrade tree they have a lot of damage with several rolls like the Blades of Chaos have a wider area of attack. The axe blades Boomerang Blades, while the Blades have the potential to cause damage over time with Burn. Moreover other Runes are also available, and it is good when you want to switch your playstyle.

Upgrades

The Upgrade Station leads to Ancient Chaos Fragments, which can be taken to Brok or Sindri in exchange for an upgrade to the Blades of Chaos. Each of them can be upgraded to a maximum of level 10.

The following table shows how each Chaos Flame is obtained and how much Runes is increased.

ELEMENTAL

Guardian Shield

Kratos carries a collapsible shield attached to his left gauntlet. When you hold down the L1 button, the shield extracts, allowing you to block incoming strikes. Weaker attacks are deflected without incident, while stronger foes may push you back or break the block.

Kratos uses the shield in bare-handed combat, stringing together fist and shield strikes into combos. The shield is best used for parrying an enemy's attack.

By tapping the L1 button just before an enemy's strike makes contact with Kratos, you can turn the attack against the enemy and follow up with your own counterattack.

Parries are extremely effective, but the timing required to pull them off can be tricky. A Draugr swings its sword in a deliberate motion; by parrying midway through the move, Kratos knocks it back with the Guardian Shield. Other attacks may take more practice to figure out, but it's well worth the effort.

Parries are most effective against equal- or lower-level enemies.

Skills

The Shield Combat Skills available to Kratos build on the bare-handed move set and greatly improve counterstrikes. You can even gain the ability to send projectiles back at a long-range attacker with Countering Blast. The Rage Combat Skill tree provides new attacks when in Rage Mode. Invest early in the following Skills and practice your counters to become more effective in combat.

SHIELD COMBAT
Block Break Double-tap L1 to break an enemy's block. This allows you to attack a shield enemy from the front, knocking their shield out of the way and following up with an attack. Block Break can also be used against enemies who block with a two-handed weapon. Weaker enemies can be knocked into the air with this move, allowing you to juggle.	500	None	Create a massive concussive blast on impact that sends enemies flying into the air.
			Defense	300
Countering Strike Press R1 after a last-second block to counter the attack with a powerful shield strike. This great follow-up to your counters knocks weaker enemies backward. Add extra damage to this attack by knocking the enemy into a wall.	1000	Block Break
Countering Crush Press R2 after a last-second block to counter the attack with a shield slam. Kratos plows his shield into the ground just in front of the enemy, causing damage to anyone in the immediate area. Lighter monsters may pop up into the air, allowing you to juggle them.	1500	Countering Strike
Countering Blast Blocking a projectile attack at the last second absorbs the impact and redirects a projectile back toward the attacker. This works against missile-type attacks, such as the Hel-Shadow Archer's javelin or Projectile Draugr's fireball. Time slows down for a second, giving you time to alter your aim; you don't have to deflect the attack back at the caster. Making no adjustment sends the projectile back at the sender.	3000	None
SHIELD COMBAT
Guardian Sweep While bare-handed, hold R1 to sweep enemies off their feet and inflict a moderate amount of Stun damage. Kratos performs a powerful strike with his right fist, followed by a shield sweep. This attack has the greatest effect against smaller enemies, as it knocks them off their feet. Bigger foes may become staggered for a moment. You're vulnerable for a second while performing this move, so use it just after evading or when the enemy is staggered.	1500	None	Adds a medium-range concussive blast that inflicts additional Stun damage.
			Defense	250
Guardian's Justice While bare-handed, hold R2 to perform a shield slam and inflict a moderate amount of Stun damage. After a short pause, Kratos spins around and lunges forward, putting all his momentum into a shield bash. This is a powerful move, but be careful not to start the move with an incoming attack, since there's a moment of vulnerability.	2000	None	Adds a medium-range concussive blast that inflicts additional Stun damage.
			Defense	250
Guardian's Judgement Press R2 after performing a Guardian's Justice to a concussive blast to the attack that inflicts a massive amount of Stun damage on enemies. This adds a second powerful attack to the shield slam, significantly increasing the enemy's Stun meter. The two-hit combo has a great chance to stagger your opponent.	3000	Guardian's Justice
Agile Strike While bare-handed and evading, hold the left stick forward and press to perform a quick attack. Use the Agile Strike to dash in against a vulnerable enemy, and follow it up with a combo. This attack has the ability to knock a weaker foe into the air.	1000	None	Adds a medium-range concussive blast that applies Stun damage.
			Defense	250
Haymaker's Crush While sprinting Bare-Handed, Press R1 to perform a powerful running haymaker attack that sends enemies tumbling a great distance. Catch an enemy off guard by rushing in and hitting with this strong bare-handed strike. If this staggers the enemy, follow up with a combo. Be ready to quickly evade if your opponent is unimpressed.	1500	None	Increased resistance to interruption during this attack.
			Vitality	75
Shoulder Barrage While sprinting bare-handed, press R2 to perform a powerful shoulder-ram attack that sends enemies flying back. Rush into a pack of enemies and perform this maneuver to clear the area. Add bonus damage by knocking them into a wall. The distance enemies are knocked back depends on their size and level.	2000	None	Adds a medium-range concussive blast that applies Stun damage.
			Defense	250
Guardian's Revenge Switch stances by quickly pausing after any Bare-Handed attack. Once in new stance, Press R1 to perform a powerful uppercut. Kratos takes a moment to thrust his arms back to the sides, leaving you temporarily vulnerable. The uppercut attack is capable of launching multiple enemies into the air.	3000	None	Increased resistance to interruption during this attack.
			Vitality	200
Guardian's Fury Switch stances by quickly pausing after any Bare-Handed attack. Once in new stance, Press R2 to perform a leaping shield attack. This provides the ability to attack from a distance out of the delay stance.	2000	Guardian's Revenge	Increased resistance to interruption during this attack.
			Vitality	200
RAGE COMBAT
Fury Strike (In Spartan Rage) Press R1 to perform a dashing punch to an enemy. Press again repeatedly to deliver a combo of rapid blows.	0	None
Fury Drive (In Spartan Rage) Hold R1 to deliver a forceful haymaker that knocks enemies backward at great speed. Hit the enemy into another or the wall for added effect. Fury Drive has the potential to greatly increase a foe's Stun meter.	500	Fury Strike
Fury Beatdown (In Spartan Rage) Continue pressing R1 to extend the length of punches after a Fury Strike.	1500	Fury Drive
Spartan Stomp (In Spartan Rage) Press L1 to do a quick stomp that damages and disrupts all nearby enemies. Use the stomp to clear out a group of enemies and stagger them.	1000	None
Spartan Surge (In Spartan Rage) Hold L1 to charge up a powerful stomp that can launch nearby enemies airborne.	3000	Spartan Stomp
Raging Smash (In Spartan Rage) Press R2 to jump into the air and slam back down with extreme force, blasting away enemies in front of you.	0	None
Raging Ultimatum (In Spartan Rage) Hold R2 to perform a more powerful Raging Smash attack with a much wider area-of-effect. Use this stronger attack against groups of grunts to quickly wipe them out in Rage Mode. Adjust your aim while charging the leap when your enemies are on the move.	4500	Raging Smash
Seething Earth (In Spartan Rage) Press L2 to pick up and hurl a large boulder from the ground that explodes on impact and deals massive damage. Bring out your inner Ogre with this powerful attack.	10000	Raging Ultimatum

Talon Bow

Atreus assists Kratos in combat with his trusty Talon Bow. At first he can be called on to shoot his standard arrows, but eventually he begins attacking enemies directly with his bow, using melee strikes and a grapple move. Complete the Alfheim portion of the Journey to receive Light Arrows, then defeat the dragon at the top of the Mountain for Shock Arrows.

By this time, Atreus is a fighting machine and a huge asset in combat. His bow is improved with upgrades, along with Magic and Expert Combat Skills. You also find Runic Summons as you explore the realms, which give Atreus the ability to call on animal spirits to aid in battle. In this section, we list all of these improvements, when they become available, and what they cost.

Upgrades

Atreus' Talon Bow can be upgraded five times at specific points during the Journey by visiting Brok or Sindri. There's a cost of Hacksilver and a second resource for each upgrade. You must purchase the upgrades in order; in other words, each upgrade is a prerequisite for the next.

The bow's power is increased and Skills are unlocked at each upgrade. With bow upgrade level VI, your quiver is fully recharged with arrows after summoning animals.

UPGRADE		WHEN AVAILABLE	HACKSILVER COST	RESOURCE COST
BOW UPGRADE
Level I	N/A	Wildwoods Troll Fight	Start
Level II	Increases arrow damage and makes new Talon Bow Skills available for purchase.	Start of River Pass	5000	Soft Svartalfheim Steel 2
Level III	Increases arrow damage and makes new Talon Bow Skills available for purchase.	Arrival at Lake of Nine	10000	Solid Svartalfheim Steel 3
Level IV	Increases arrow damage and makes new Talon Bow Skills available for purchase.	Return to Midgard after Alfheim	22500	Solid Svartalfheim Steel 3
Level V	Increases arrow damage and makes new Talon Bow Skills available for purchase.	Return to Mountain Summit to obtain Mimir's Head	45000	Hardened Svartalfheim Steel 3
Level VI	Increases arrow damage. Runic Summons fully recharge Atreus' quiver with arrows.	Heal Atreus	80000	Hardened Svartalfheim Steel 3
QUIVER UPGRADE
Level II	Reduces the Talon Bow's arrow recharge time.	Arrival at Lake of Nine	5000
Level III	Reduces the Talon Bow's arrow recharge time.	Return to Mountain Summit	25000
Level IV	Increases arrow capacity to 4.	Second water drop	45000

Skills

Atreus' Magic Combat Skills improve the effectiveness of his Light and Shock Arrows. Improve the Light Arrows in order to Weaken and Stun enemies more quickly. Purchasing the Shock Arrow Skills improves the Shock status effect and the Shocking Arc.

The Power and Dextrous Shot Skills increase Atreus' damage and bowshot firing rate. The final three Skills improve on his melee combat abilities.

Runic Summons

There are six Runic Summons that provide unique abilities for Atreus. These are found inside chests throughout the realms of Midgard and Alfheim. One Runic Summon can be equipped at a time and called into action by holding the Square button. After each use, a cooldown time must elapse before it can be used again. Atreus can use Light or Shock Arrows with each one.

Each summon can be upgraded twice, providing improved Attributes and effects. The XP cost for each level is as follows:

UPGRADE	XP COST
Level 1	N/A
Level 2	3250
Level 3	13000

BOAR STAMPEDE

COOLDOWN	60 seconds
LOCATION	Thamur's Corpse—Stonebeard King Drop
TYPE OF ATTACK	Area

	LEVEL 1	LEVEL 2	LEVEL 3
Damage	0	1	1
Runic	1	2	2
Stun	3	4	5

Hold Square to summon a stampede of boars that charges forth where Kratos is facing. Put target(s) between Kratos and Atreus and be sure to look their way, since that decides the direction in which the boars charge. The boars run in a cone formation with three stragglers in the rear. This staggers weaker enemies in a wide area.

Level 2 - Summons an additional stampede of boars. Several more boars are tacked onto the back of the original stampede.

Level 3 - Summons two additional stampedes of boars. Adds even more boars onto the back of the stampede.

STORM OF THE ELKS

COOLDOWN	75 seconds
LOCATION	River Pass Witch's Yard Legendary Chest (Sand Puzzle)
TYPE OF ATTACK	Area

	LEVEL 1	LEVEL 2	LEVEL 3
Damage	3	4	5
Stun	1	1	1

Hold Square to summon a deer that discharges energy as it walks toward Kratos. As it discharges energy, nearby enemies are staggered for a moment. As the deer vanishes, it detonates and knocks nearby weak enemies into the air. Since the deer moves toward the player, place your target(s) between Atreus and Kratos for greatest effect. Hanging around the deer against melee enemies allows you to pummel them while they're zapped with the energy.

Level 2 - Increases duration to nine seconds, and range to eight meters.

Level 3 - Increases duration to 12 seconds, and range to 10 meters.

FALCONS' DIVE

COOLDOWN	90 seconds
LOCATION	The Mountain Legendary Chest
TYPE OF ATTACK	Area

	LEVEL 1	LEVEL 2	LEVEL 3
Damage	2	3	4
Runic	1	1	1
Stun	2	3	4

Hold Square to summon a cast of spectral falcons. The falcons fly around for a second before dive-bombing into the ground. This is best used while Kratos is engaged in close combat with a group of enemies, though the size of the area affected is fairly big.

Level 2 - Summons an additional cast of falcons.

Level 3 - Summons two additional casts of falcons.

MURDER OF CROWS

COOLDOWN	135 seconds
LOCATION	River Pass Legendary Chest

Damage	0	0	1
Runic	3	4	5
Stun	1	1	1

Hold Square to summon a murder of crows that swarms enemies.

The birds hassle any enemies in front of Kratos for several seconds before each one targets an enemy and hits with a small explosion of energy. Take advantage of the opportunity, as weaker enemies are staggered by the pests.

Level 2 - Increases duration to nine seconds, and summons nine total crows.

Level 3 - Increases duration to 10 seconds, and summons 12 total crows.

BITTER SQUIRREL

COOLDOWN	180 seconds
LOCATION	Light Elf Outpost Legendary Chest
TYPE OF ATTACK	Support

	LEVEL 1	LEVEL 2	LEVEL 3

Hold Square to summon a squirrel, Ratatoskr, to unearth consumables. If Atreus uses Light Arrows to call the squirrel, a Healthstone is dug up. With Shock Arrows, a Ragestone is found. The stones disappear after about 20 seconds, so don't forget about them. His Ragestones are handy in Muspelheim Trials, where your Rage is reset at the start. Send the squirrel out just before beginning and nab the stones right away.

Level 2 - Ratatoskr unearths an extra consumable. Use Light Arrows for two Healthstones, and Shock Arrows for two Ragestones.

Level 3 - Ratatoskr unearths even more consumables. Light Arrows provide three Healthstones, and Shock Arrows provide three Ragestones.

WRATH OF THE WOLF

Damage	1	1	1
Runic	2	3	4
Stun	2	3	4

Hold Square to summon a wolf that pounces enemies three times. This is most effective against a group of enemies lined up ahead of Atreus. The wolf pounces back and forth, hitting the group three times. The wolf always targets an enemy, so it will turn in order to hit the next one. The wolf does a little damage each pounce, but better yet, it hits with Light or Shock energy and adds Stun.

Level 2 - Summons an additional wolf to aid in combat. The wolves spawn together but split up to manage groups.

Level 3 - Summons two additional wolves to aid in combat. Three wolves are able to cover more enemies.

Kratos' Armor

Overview

Kratos is a strong fighter with evasive maneuvers and a shield. It is possible to take him into the toughest battles with base armor and survive the fight. This requires meticulous timing and extensive knowledge of your enemies. Thankfully we don't need to rely on near-perfect evasion as Kratos benefits from the protection of three pieces of armor: Chest, Wrist, and WaistArmor.

All armor pieces offer a boost in select Stats, while higher-level armor also provide some kind of bonus, such as health regeneration or a buff. While all of Kratos' standard armor can be crafted from a shop once available, many are found or rewarded as you progress through the game. All accumulated armor can be selected from the Armor tab in the Pause menu.

Nearly every piece of armor can be upgraded at a shop in exchange for resources. Upgrades not only increase Stats, but often increase the number of Enchantment Sockets (more on this later in the chapter).

Kratos' standard armor is split into six tiers with recipes unlocked at specific moments during the Journey. Once unlocked, these items can be crafted at Brok and Sindri's shops. These six tiers of armor can be sold back to a shop in exchange for Hacksilver. Armor is sold for a percentage of the Hacksilver you put into it.. You do not receive any other resources in return.

Along with the six tiers of standard armor, a number of "special armor" can be unlocked at the shop by completing the tasks listed in the right column. Similar to in game, the color of the left column indicates the rarity of each item: Common, Rare, Legendary, or Epic. Typically, the rarer the armor, the better the Stats.

Kratos' Armor

Talismans

Kratos is able to equip one Talisman, which provides a boost to certain Stats along with a bonus. Some Talismans have an ability that can be activated, though you must wait the given cooldown time before using it again. It is well worth the effort to seek out higher-end Talismans, which provide great bonuses such as the following: a Realm Shift, a powerful shockwave, or a burst of health. While Enchantment Sockets are not common in Talismans, there are a few that provide this benefit.

THE SHATTERED GAUNTLET OF AGES' TRUE POTENTIAL

A decent Talisman as is, the Shattered Gauntlet of Ages sees its full potential once fully upgraded and equipped with the appropriate Enchantments. While the location of the enchantments remains a mystery, finding them is likely to increase the power of the gauntlet greatly.

Kratos' Armor
Enchantments

Enchantments are bonuses that can be added to Kratos' equipment. They all provide a small boost to select Stats, but many also give some kind of bonus, such as a burst of health or Strength at specified activation points. These Enchantments are divided into your equipment via Enchantment Sockets.

Much of the armor that you find, earn, and purchase features Enchantment Sockets. The most basic pieces do not start out with any, but anything upgraded to Level 3 or above should have at least one slot. Better sets possess three sockets only fully upgraded. A couple of select Talismans also have this feature.

Randomly Generated Enchantments

Many Enchantments found as you explore the realms are randomly generated. The names of these perks give you a clue what they do, and their descriptions confirm their effects. The Stat Boost Enchantment is the most common Enchantment. Common Enchantments costs 3000 Hacksilver and 3 Enchanted Dust. Rare is 10000 Hacksilver and 10 Enchanted Dust. Epic Enchantments cost 18000 Hacksilver and 50 Enchanted Dust. Yet will see back 15000 Hacksilver and 250 Enchanted Dust.

Stat Boost

The last word in the name specifies which Stats are given a boost. As you can see from the following table, if only one Stat is affected, it is given the name of that Stat. If two Stats are boosted, a unique name is given.

The Hubby Shops offer a variety of Symbol of ____ Enchantments for sale. Keep an eye out for a random Epic Enchantment called Strength _____ of the Realm that can boost any Stat for a maximum of 15.

	STRENGTH	DEFENSE	VITALITY	RUNIC	LUCK	COOLDOWN
Strength	Courage	Hurt	Berserk	Rune-Fighting	Triumph	Vigor
Defense		Perseverance	Survival	Determination	Providence	Confidence
Vitality			Heroics	Fervor	Resilience	Tenacity
Runic				Cunning	Bounty	Concentration
Luck					Shadows	Fortune
Cooldown					Fervor	Defiance

Burst and Buff Effect

If the first word in a generated Enchantment is one of the following, it has a chance to provide the corresponding burst or buff effect:

PERK EFFECT	ADJECTIVE
Cooldown Burst	Inscribed
Runic Buff	Etched
Health	Polished
Shield	Inlaid
Defense Buff	Sturdy
Offense Buff	Sharp
Rage	Jagged

The burst or buff is activated by one of six actions. The following list shows how the middle term in the Enchantment name reflects the activation method:

TERM	BURST/BUFF ACTIVATED...
Brand	on any successful axe chown attack
Crest	on a successful block or parry
Relic	at Low Health
Sigil	whenever an enemy is defeated
Sign	after taking damage

Enchantment Perks

Here is a list of possible burst/buff bonuses. As you can see, some have a higher chance of success than others.

Kratos' Armor

Atreus' Armor

Atreus has his own armor that offers unique abilities and bonuses. He begins the game with the Tunic of Hope, which offers no bonuses. As you progress through the Journey, three tiers of armor are unlocked at the shops. Only Hacksilver is required to purchase them, and it is well worth the investment to get him into the best available armor. Atreus wears only one piece of armor—either a Vestment, Garb, or Tunic. Each of these has unique bonuses. The Vestment gives him better support abilities, the Garb is for long-range fighting, and the Tunic is best for close combat. Choose the one that suits your playstyle the best, or mix it up based on the current situation.

Fodder and Grunts

Overview

A NOTE ABOUT ENEMIES

The vast majority of foes faced in the Norse realms are lesser creatures that can be classified in ascending order as fodder (easy to kill), minor grunt (moderately difficult), and major grunt (requires advanced skill). Although these enemies are categorized lower than boss-level creatures, don't expect to button-mash your way through encounters. Each variant presents unique and dangerous challenges. Enemy squads often feature insidiously clever combinations of units with complementary skills, forcing you to make tactical adjustments in the heat of battle.

Fodder and Grunts

Brood

Faction	Seiðr
Class	Minor Grunt
Strengths	Attacks in large numbers
Weaknesses	Weak to Stun, Rage, and Flyback
Power Level Growth	Increased stun resist
Unique Elite Enhancement	Flyback reactions no longer instantly kill them

Brood are extremely weak bipeds, although they make up for it by always hanging out in large packs. Avoid running into the group; instead, lure them out or use ranged attacks when possible. They're small, fast, and grow their arms into sharp points. Don't underestimate them.

Their primary move is a forward-jump attack that can be evaded by stepping to the side. Rapidly tap the Circle button if a Brood manages to latch on to Kratos' back.

The jump attack can also be countered with perfect timing. Just after the Brood's forward summersault, tap the Block button to knock it back. If that finishes it off, it detonates when contact is made with the ground or another foe. Dodge away from a dying Brood to avoid the Poison cloud. Brood are also capable of inflicting Poison with their attacks.

Though not as effective against the Seiðr Brood as the Hel-Brood, the Blades of Chaos's wide radius helps manage the pack better. Area-of-effect abilities are also useful in this situation.

In-Game Tips: "They can poison us, and we need to be extra careful of their leaping attack."

"The Brood explode when they die. We can use this to damage and knock away any nearby enemies."

Fodder and Grunts

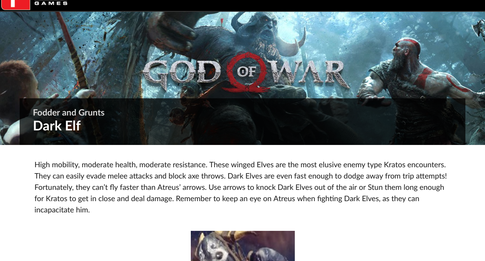

Legion

Faction	Seiðr
Class	Minor Grunt
Strengths	Attacks in large numbers
Weaknesses	Weak to Stun, Rage, and Flyback
Power Level Growth	Increased stun resist
Unique Elite Enhancement	Flyback reactions no longer instantly kill them

Legion are similar to Brood; they only appear in big packs and like to jump on Kratos. Fortunately, they also go down very easily. You only fight Legion at a couple of locations, but they can be a major annoyance if not quickly dealt with.

Fodder and Grunts

Dark Elf

High mobility, moderate health, moderate resistance. These winged Elves are the most elusive enemy type Kratos encounters. They can easily evade melee attacks and block axe throws. Dark Elves are even fast enough to dodge away from trip attempts! Fortunately, they can't fly faster than Atreus' arrows. Use arrows to knock Dark Elves out of the air or Stun them long enough for Kratos to get in close and deal damage. Remember to keep an eye on Atreus when fighting Dark Elves, as they can incapacitate him.

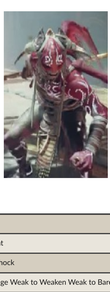

DARK ELF

Faction	Elves
Class	Minor Grunt
Strengths	Strong to Shock
Weaknesses	Weak to Rage Weak to Weaken Weak to Bare Handed Weak to Atreus' damage
Power Level Growth	Weaknesses Improve Increased Damage Increased Status Power
Unique Elite Enhancement	Increased damage Resistant to all reaction (+50 Resistance)

The standard Dark Elf soldier can shoot an unblockable projectile that lands near Kratos and knocks him over with its explosive power. Sprint out of range to avoid taking damage from the attack.

In-Game Tips: "Dark Elves like to attack as a group. When Father lands a heavy hit or parries, it tends to break the swarm."

"If we can freeze or weaken the Dark Elves, it will prevent them from using air recoveries when launched."

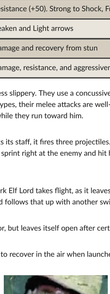

DARK ELF WARRIOR

Faction	Elves
Class	Minor Grunt
Strengths	Increased resistance (+50). Strong to Shock
Weaknesses	Weak to Rage Weak to Weaken Weak to Bare Handed Weak to Atreus' damage
Power Level Growth	Weaknesses Improve Increased Damage Increased Status Power
Unique Elite Enhancement	Increased damage Resistant to all reaction (+50 Resistance)

The Dark Elf Warrior is tougher than the standard Dark Elf, and wields a heavier lance. This weapon hits so hard it creates a nasty shockwave that isn't easy to dodge.

In-Game Tips: "We should watch out for their charge attacks. They can cause temporary blindness. It's hard to fight when you can't see anything!"

"They are much easier to kill when grounded. Tripping them up seems to work pretty well."

DARK ELF SUMMONER

Faction	Elves
Class	Minor Grunt
Strengths	Strong to Shock
Weaknesses	Weak to Rage Weak to Weaken Weak to Bare Handed Weak to Atreus' damage
Power Level Growth	Weaknesses Improve Increased Damage Increased Status Power
Unique Elite Enhancement	Increased damage Resistant to all reaction (+50 Resistance)

This Dark Elf is distinguishable by its glowing wings and bright orange chest rune. His agility and fighting moves are similar to other Dark Elves with one major twist—as the name implies, the Dark Elf Summoner can summon friends! If left unchecked, the Summoner flies high in the air briefly before slamming his staff to the ground and summoning two Dark Elf minions. His summon ability is flashy and a bit lengthy; stop it with an arrow or an axe throw.

In-Game Tips: "When he spins his weapon, it means he's about to call in more Dark Elves. We should stop him before he slams it into the ground."

"He can block axe throws, but if we catch him off guard, Father's heavy axe throw will freeze him and negate his speed."

DARK ELF LORD

Faction	Elves
Class	Major Grunt
Strengths	Increased resistance (+50). Strong to Shock, Frost, Burn, Rage and Axe Toss
Weaknesses	Weak to Weaken and Light arrows
Power Level Growth	Increased damage and recovery from stun
Unique Elite Enhancement	Increased damage, resistance, and aggressiveness Gain new combo attack chains.

These Dark Elves have better attacks but are less slippery. They use a concussive rush attack that breaks Kratos' guard and applies a Blind status effect. Like other heavy types, their melee attacks are well-telegraphed, making them easy to evade. Kratos can parry the rush attack or trip them while they run toward him.

When the Dark Elf Lord takes to the air and lifts its staff, it fires three projectiles. It is often best to sprint out of the area instead of attempting to dodge roll. Better yet, sprint right at the enemy and hit him with a powerful combo while the projectiles detonate behind you.

Dodge out of the immediate area when the Dark Elf Lord takes flight, as it leaves a bomb behind in its place. Watch for its jump attack as it flies at you swinging its weapon and follows that up with another swing. These strikes can be parried.

In-Game Tips:"It's so strong and has thick armor, but leaves itself open after certain attacks."

"If we can freeze or weaken it, it won't be able to recover in the air when launched or knocked out of aerial attacks."

GLOOM NIGHTMARE

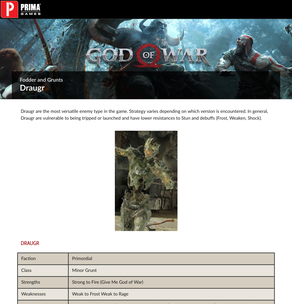

Faction	Elves
Class	Fodder
Strengths	N/A
Weaknesses	Weak to Shock, Stun and Rage
Power Level Growth	Increased aggressiveness and status effects
Unique Elite Enhancement	Increased damage and gains a new kamikaze divebomb attack like the Exploding Nightmare

This variant of Nightmare spits projectiles that can inflict the Blind status effect. As with all Nightmares, target them with Atreus' arrows to kill or knock them down. The Blades of Chaos are also effective against Nightmares, as long as you can get a hold of one, turning the flier into a bomb that can be used against other enemies.

In-Game Tips: "Father can hit them twice on the same axe throw; once on the throw and again on the recall."

"These Gloom Nightmares would make good target practice for me and my bow. Just a couple of arrows would probably bring them down."

Fodder and Grunts

Draugr

Draugr are the most versatile enemy type in the game. Strategy varies depending on which version is encountered. In general, Draugr are vulnerable to being tripped or launched and have lower resistances to Stun and debuffs (Frost, Weaken, Shock).

DRAUGR

Faction	Primordial
Class	Minor Grunt
Strengths	Strong to Fire (Give Me God of War)
Weaknesses	Weak to Frost Weak to Rage
Power Level Growth	Weaknesses improve Stronger against Axe Stun Stronger against Arrow Stun Increased Aggression (Power Levels 7 & 8)
Unique Elite Enhancement	Resistant to all reaction (+50 Resistance) Heavily Resistant to ring out reactions

Draugr are the first enemy Kratos faces in the Wildwoods, and one of the more prevalent foes throughout Midgard. They lack attack variety and those attacks are heavily telegraphed, giving the player ample opportunity to evade or parry. Those standard Draugr are easily stunned, easily tripped, and aren't very fast. Bamboozled attacks used with Atreus' arrows work best here. After a trip, follow up with a launcher and a juggle combo to make short work of them. If range is your thing, they can be killed easily with axe throws. These foes cause problems for Kratos only if they appear in numbers large enough to swarm and surround.

In-Game Tips: "Draugr fight with dangerous weapons, but they aren't very skilled with them. Not like Father and his axe. If we watch their movements, it should be easy to dodge or block their attacks."

"These basic Draugr aren't very fast or strong. We can dodge or block them, and take them down pretty easily."

HEAVY DRAUGR

Faction	Primordial
Class	Minor Grunt
Strengths	Strong to Fire (Give Me God of War) Strong to Rage Increased Health Resistant to all reaction (+50 Resistance) Heavily Resistant to Ring Out reactions
Weaknesses	Less Weak to Frost
Power Level Growth	Weaknesses improve Stronger against Axe Stun Stronger against Arrow Stun Increased Aggression (Power Levels 7 & 8)
Unique Elite Enhancement	Resistant to all reaction (+50 Resistance) Heavily Resistant to ring out reactions

The Heavy Draugr cannot be tripped or launched by normal means, and has attacks that are difficult to interrupt at low tiers. While Heavy Draugr boast higher defenses, they're extremely slow swinging, which makes them vulnerable to evades. Use Atreus to draw their attention, leaving them open to backside attacks. Beware, however: the Heavy Draugr can incapacitate Atreus if left unchecked.

When Kratos performs a stun grab on a Heavy Draugr, he picks the enemy up and runs before tossing it straight ahead. Use the Draugr as a shield and rush through other enemies before aiming the body at another target or at a wall for increased damage.

In-Game Tips: "It takes a beat for him to recover after swinging, if we dodge, he'll be open to a counter-attack."

"His attacks are so strong, it makes blocking them really hard. Father should probably just dodge them."

DRAUGR (SHIELD)

Faction	Primordial
Class	Minor Grunt
Strengths	Strong to Fire (Give Me God of War)
Weaknesses	Weak to Frost Weak to Rage
Power Level Growth	Weaknesses improve Stronger against Axe Stun Stronger against Arrow Stun Increased Aggression (Power Levels 7 & 8)
Unique Elite Enhancement	Resistant to all reaction (+50 Resistance) Heavily Resistant to ring out reactions

Defensive specialists. A frontal assault doesn't work against these Draugr. They can parry any melee attack and most ranged attacks (including Atreus' arrows and some projectile-based specials!). Using the Block Break skill is the best way to deal with them up close, as it sends them reeling back, giving Kratos an opportunity to counterattack. At range, a light axe throw aimed at their legs can bypass their shields and send them to the ground.

In-Game Tips: "Swinging wildly won't break his guard, but if Father uses his Block Break, he should be able to find an opening (Double Tap L1)."

"Parrying his attacks can also break his guard."

DRAUGR (DUAL WIELD)

Faction	Primordial
Class	Minor Grunt
Strengths	Strong to Fire (Give Me God of War) Decreased Health
Weaknesses	Weak to Frost Weak to Rage Weak to Stun
Power Level Growth	Weaknesses improve Stronger against Axe Stun Stronger against Arrow Stun Increased Aggression (Power Levels 7 & 8)
Unique Elite Enhancement	Resistant to all reaction (+50 Resistance) Heavily Resistant to ring out reactions

Relentless assault Draugr. Their low health and resistances are similar to those of standard Draugr. Dual-Wield Draugr should always be your first focus if encountered in a group. Left unchecked, they can deal massive amounts of damage due to their combo potential. At higher tiers they can rush Kratos' guard, and if you're hit by their first attack, the second attack is guaranteed to land. They can be dealt with in the same manner as any other Draugr type, but with emphasis on avoiding or parrying their attack strings.

If possible, get the jump on the Draugr by tripping it up from distance. Keep an eye on the dangerous foes and evade their rush attacks.

In-Game Tips: "These Draugr really know how to use their weapons. We need to be ready for several attacks at once."

"With two weapons, they like to combo their attacks, but we can disrupt their flow by parrying their attacks."

DRAUGR POWER-UPS

Draugr can power-up their bodies, giving them access to devastating abilities. Any Draugr type can harness these abilities and can utilize more than one power-up. When encountered, powered-up Draugr should be Kratos' top-priority targets.

DRAUGR (PROJECTILE)

Faction	Primordial
Class	Minor Grunt
Strengths	Strong to Fire (Give Me God of War)
Weaknesses	Weak to Frost Weak to Rage
Power Level Growth	Weaknesses improve Stronger against Axe Stun Stronger against Arrow Stun Increased Aggression (Power Levels 7 & 8)
Unique Elite Enhancement	Resistant to all reaction (+50 Resistance) Heavily Resistant to ring out reactions

Arm power-up. This is the ranged attack Draugr type, easy to identify by the orange glow of the free arm. Draugr with the Projectile enhancement can be fought in the same manner as any other Draugr. In most cases, their projectiles can be blocked or evaded easily, and the Countering Blast skill works well too, letting you parry their projectiles right back at them.

In-Game Tips: "They can attack from long range, but we should be safe if we dodge or block."

"He has to create his projectile before launching it. If either of us can interrupt his attack, he'll have to create it again."

DRAUGR (SPEED)

Faction	Primordial
Class	Minor Grunt
Strengths	Strong to Fire (Give Me God of War)
Weaknesses	Weak to Frost Weak to Rage
Power Level Growth	Weaknesses improve Stronger against Axe Stun Stronger against Arrow Stun Increased Aggression (Power Levels 7 & 8)
Unique Elite Enhancement	Resistant to all reaction (+50 Resistance) Heavily Resistant to ring out reactions

Leg power-up. Mobile and evasive Draugr, identified by the distinctive yellow glow of both legs. These foes zip in and out of melee range, making them difficult to pin down. After they've attacked, Draugr with the Speed enhancement can quickly retreat to safety if Kratos doesn't immediately counter or parry. Atreus' arrows are vital in dealing with this Draugr type. A well-timed arrow barrage interrupts their movement and pins them down long enough for Kratos to mount an assault. Their charge attack can also be parried.

In-Game Tips: "These speedy enemies can be hard to hit. Father should wait for them to rush him and parry their attacks."

"I see them stomp their feet right before they charge. Should help us spot their incoming attacks."

DRAUGR (EXPLOSIVE)

Faction	Primordial
Class	Minor Grunt
Strengths	Immune to Burn. Increased Resistance +50 (Give Me God of War)
Weaknesses	Weak to Frost Weak to Rage
Power Level Growth	Weaknesses improve Stronger against Axe Stun Stronger against Arrow Stun Increased Aggression (Power Levels 7 & 8)
Unique Elite Enhancement	Resistant to all reaction (+50 Resistance) Heavily Resistant to ring out reactions

Torso power-up. Think of this Draugr type as a bomb that can detonate repeatedly. Draugr with the Explosive enhancement feature a glowing midsection. They can leap from a distance and trigger an unblockable explosion of normal damage in a small radius around them; the explosion inflicts a Burning status effect that causes Kratos to take fire damage over time. The enhancement also makes these Draugr invulnerable to melee attacks when active. So, it's best to attack from a distance in order to detonate them, which briefly deactivates the ability and leaves the Draugr momentarily defenseless.

Kratos and Atreus can also capitalize on the volatility of this enemy's power-up for offensive purposes. An axe throw or an arrow causing the Draugr to explode inflicts damage on any other foes caught in the blast radius!

Their explosions are deadly, so always keep them in your sights and if their midsection glows, hit it with an axe throw or arrows. Be careful when going in for melee attacks. If it raises its sword, steer clear until you have detonated it.

In-Game Tips: "We should avoid hitting them with melee attacks when they're powered up; we'll be knocked back by an explosion."

"Father should throw his axe at them when they're powered up. They'll explode and damage all nearby enemies."

DRAUGR (POWER WEAPON)

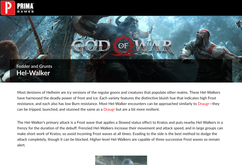

Faction	Primordial
Class	Minor Grunt
Strengths	Strong to Fire (Give Me God of War)
Weaknesses	Weak to Frost Weak to Rage
Power Level Growth	Weaknesses improve Stronger against Axe Stun Stronger against Arrow Stun Increased Aggression (Power Levels 7 & 8)
Unique Elite Enhancement	Resistant to all reaction (+50 Resistance) Heavily Resistant to ring out reactions

Weapon power-up. Identify these Draugr by the bright glow of the weapon-holding arm. The Power Weapon enhancement lets them set their swords ablaze to unleash an unblockable lava wave that inflicts a burning effect on Kratos if it hits. The deadly wave travels a good distance but is fairly narrow and easy to evade. It's also the only attack these Draugr use, and has a long start-up. Take advantage of this by evading to the side or using an axe toss to interrupt the move.

In-Game Tips: "They power-up their weapon and attack with a forward-moving shockwave."

"They have a strong attack, but if we dodge to the side we should be okay."

Raider and Ghosts

Hel-Walker

Hexed denizens of Helheim are try versions of the regular goons and creatures that populate other realms. These Hel-Walkers have harnessed the deadly power of Frost and Ice. Each variety features the distinctive bluish hue that indicates high Frost resistance, and each also has low Burn resistance. Hexed Hel-Walker encounters can be approached similarly to Draugr: they can be tripped, launched, and stunned the same as a Draugr variety but are a bit more resilient.

The Hel-Walker's primary attack is a Frost wave that applies a Slowed status effect to Kratos and puts nearby Hel-Walkers in a frenzy for the duration of the debuff. Frenzied Hel-Walkers increase their movement and attack speed, and in large groups can make short work of Kratos, to avoid incurring Frost waves at all times. Evading to the sides is the best method to dodge the attack completely, though it can be backed. Higher-level Hel-Walkers are capable of three successive Frost waves in remain alert.

HEL-REAVER

Faction	Hel-Walker
Class	Minor Grunt
Strengths	Strong to Frost
Weaknesses	Weak to Rage
Power Level Growth	Weaknesses improve Increased Aggression Increased Status Effect damage
Unique Elite Enhancement	Resistant to all reaction (+50 Resistance) Take less damage

The basic Hel-Walker boasts moderate health and defense, carries a sword, and has low resistance to fire. They're prevalent in the Helheim realm and are frequently encountered in Hel's Hall. Use the Blades of Chaos to whip through the Hel-Warriors, keeping them off-balance until you can finish them off. They're only a real threat in large groups, but the blades' wide attack radius allows Kratos to deal with multiple enemies at once.

In-Game Tips: "These enemies become enraged and super aggressive when you're frosted. Father should do his best to avoid their frost blast attack."

"If these things manage to freeze us, we should stun on the defensive until it passes."

HEL-REAVER GUARD

Faction	Hel-Walker
Class	Minor Grunt
Strengths	Strong to Frost
Weaknesses	Weak to Rage
Power Level Growth	Weaknesses improve Increased Aggression Increased Status Effect damage
Unique Elite Enhancement	Resistant to all reaction (+50 Resistance) Take less damage

Hel-Reavers called Guards carry shields to boost their defenses and augment their attacks. A shielded Hel-Walker attacks faster and can breathe Kratos' attacks and attack back at higher marks. These enemies are also weaker as the Shield Draugr, but are more dangerous up close. If their Frost wave lands, they follow up with an attack that can daze Kratos momentarily. Taking out their legs from a distance or performing a Block Break up close are the best methods here.

In-Game Tips: "Hel-Walkers with shields can block just about anything. Father can use his Block Break skill to break their guard."

"Father should freeze his axe at their feet to get around their shields and trip them up."

HEL-REAVER LORD

Factions	Hel-Walker
Class	Minor Grunt
Strengths	Some can reflect all axe / frost attacks Strong to Frost Small Resistance to Burn Attack Stun
Weaknesses	Weak to Rage
Power Level Growth	Weaknesses improve Increased Aggression Increased Status Effect damage
Unique Elite Enhancement	Resistant to all reaction (+50 Resistance) Take less damage

Hel-Reaver lords have the ability to encase themselves in ice armor that makes them invulnerable to Leviathan axe attacks. Stun these enemies with Atreus' arrows while pummeling them in close with barehanded attacks. Once Kratos acquires the blades, their heat can through the ice armor, so use them instead of his fists.

In-Game Tips: "These enemies will deflect Father's frost axe attacks. He'll have to use his fists instead to stun them."

"Hel-Walkers seem to draw their power from the frost, which makes Father's axe pretty weak against them. Good thing he's strong with his fists, too. I wish we had a fire weapon."

HEL-SHADOW ARCHER

Faction	Hel-Walker
Class	Minor Grunt
Strengths	Strong to Frost
Weaknesses	Weak to Rage
Power Level Growth	Weaknesses improve Increased Aggression Increased Status Effect damage
Unique Elite Enhancement	Resistant to all reaction (+50 Resistance) Take less damage

This ranged Hel-Walker uses its magic to conjure a sharp spear that it tosses with uncanny accuracy. The Hel-Shadow Archer shares the same basic weakness as Projectile Draugr, falling fast if you can get in close for melee hits.

Almost can interrupt their attacks, or you can evade the projectiles with a quick sidestep. The Countering Blast skill works well against the Hel-Shadow Archer's spears. Parry just before the ice hits Kratos to send the spear back at the Archer or redirect it into another foe.

In-Game Tips: "Their projectiles are quick but don't stun us. If we rush them, we can take them out of the equation early."

"I should be able to help Father with these enemies. Just like their projectiles disrupt his movements, my bow can disrupt theirs."

HEL-SHADOW SCOUT

Faction	Hel-Walker
Class	Minor Grunt
Strengths	Strong to Frost
Weaknesses	Weak to Rage
Power Level Growth	Weaknesses improve Increased Aggression Increased Status Effect damage
Unique Elite Enhancement	Resistant to all reaction (+50 Resistance) Take less damage

Like his Archer cousin, the Scout uses ice magic to fling deadly cold projectiles, and can't take a punch (or an armed one) well. To compensate for his weakness, the Scout puts up a sturdy ice barrier to block incoming attacks. Keep in mind that the barrier is like explosive! Deal with these guys from a safe distance.

In-Game Tips: "They can cast an ice wall as cover. Father can fire the axe when they pop up behind cover, or throw it past them and recall it to hit them from behind."

"His ice walls do more than just provide cover. If we get too close, he can detonate it! We should try to deal with them from range."

HEL-VIKEN

Faction	Hel-Walker
Class	Major Grunt
Strengths	Highly Increased Resistance +100
Weaknesses	None
Power Level Growth	Weaknesses improve Increased Aggression Increased Status Effect damage
Unique Elite Enhancement	Increased resistance and defense. Attacks with longer combo chains.

Less common than the Hel-Walker minor grunts, Hel-Vikens are much more dangerous. They cannot be tripped or launched and can block ranged attacks, forcing Kratos to fight them up close and personal. They attack slightly faster than a Hexed Draugr and have two separate and effect frost attacks, though they move slowly. Hel-Vikens also wind up slowly for their attacks, so take advantage of this by evading just outside their range, then counter fast after the attack whiffs.

Watch for the Hel-Viken to swipe the ground with his radial wave before sending a frost wave your way. Evade to the side to avoid taking damage. His overhead slam hits with a small area of effect and also adds the frost effect.

Whereas Seith Wheres will present the ground three successive times when powered up, Hel-Vikens alternate between unblockable ground slams and side swings that can be parried. Watch for the yellow flash and parry the attack to get the upperhand.

In-Game Tips: "Father can dodge Hel-Viken incredibly close depending on the type of swing. Looks like it's best to dodge horizontal swings backwards, and the vertical swings sideways."

"If he misses his overhead attack, his maul gets stuck in the ground and he's open for an attack."

HEL-TRAVELER

Faction	Hel-Walker
Class	Major Grunt
Strengths	Highly resistant to staggering against special moves while armor is on
Weaknesses	None
Power Level Growth	All travelers are strong
Unique Elite Enhancement	Increased combo potential. Will endlessly chase you down.

More aggressive than the unthrown variety of Thrasher, the Hel-Traveler is relentless with its attacks and extremely tough to interrupt parts set in the fight. You can do the more and out of reach of its large sword while picking away at his health. As his armor is removed, axe attacks become increasingly more effective.

Watch for him to lift his sword and thrust it into the ground, causing a frost area-of-effect attack that inflicts anyone nearby with the slowed status.

In-Game Tips: "The Undead Travelers are more aggressive than the regular ones. Ranged attacks are tricky, because he sprints right at us."

"We can whittle down his armor if we stay close and dodge his strikes. But when he charges up his sword for an overhead strike, it's time to move!"

HEL-BROOD

Faction	Hel-Walker
Class	Minor Grunt
Strengths	Attacks in large numbers
Weaknesses	Weak to Stun, Rage, and Flyback
Power Level Growth	Increased stun resist
Unique Elite Enhancement	Flyback reactions no longer instantly kill them

Just like their Brood cousins, Hel-Brood move fast and are capable of hopping onto Kratos, forcing you to shake them off. With very low health and low resistance to fire, Hel-Brood go down easily with the Blades of Chaos. Their strength shows within the large numbers that they assemble in an attempt to overwhelm. Keep a distance and fend them off one at a time whenever possible.

Hel-Brood come at Kratos with a vicious jump attack, which can be evaded by moving to the side. It can also be countered with a well-timed parry. This sends the enemy backward, and just like standard Brood, these guys explode when they die.

In-Game Tips: "Their air slam attacks can leave us stunned. If they're up in the air, steer clear."

"The Brood are extremely weak to Father's Runic Attack."

HEL-REVENANT

Faction	Hel-Walker
Class	Major Grunt
Strengths	Strong to Frost
Weaknesses	Weak to Rage Weak to Burn
Power Level Growth	Weaknesses Improve Increased Damage Increased Status Effect Damage
Unique Elite Enhancement	Summon Spawns Make frequently Significant Damage Increases Increased Status Power

Hel-Revenants use attacks that can slow Kratos or even freeze him completely. If the enemy attempts to use the ice-breath attack, keep moving and evade out of her range, or Kratos will become frozen. Escape by quickly wiggling the left analog stick, or you risk being shattered and knocked down.

The hag's ground-side maneuver sends shards of ice that track her target, hitting with the Slowed status effect if not avoided. Immediately evade to the side as she takes the ground, and stay on the move until it dissipates.

As with all Revenants, use Atreus' arrows to remove her protective shroud, allowing Kratos to attack the witch.

In-Game Tips: "Her icy flower attacks damage and freeze Father. We'll have to avoid them if we want to be able to take her down."

"We can either interrupt, outrun, or dodge her ice-breath attack—it can freeze Father and leave him idle and vulnerable to attacks."

ICE NIGHTMARE

Faction	Hel-Walker
Class	Fodder
Strengths	N/A
Weaknesses	Weak to Shock, Stun and Rage
Power Level Growth	Increased aggressiveness and status effects
Unique Elite Enhancement	Increased damage and gains a new kamikaze shockwork attack like the Exploding Nightmare

Ice Nightmares fire ice projectiles that inflict a slowed status if they manage to hit you. Watch for incoming attacks, and dodge left to avoid being hit. Use these moments of calm or axe throw to knock the flier down, and finish it off before it takes flight again. Use the Blades of Chaos to grab the Nightmare, and then use the Nightmare as your own explosive projectile.

In-Game Tips: "They'll look straight up before firing their ice projectile, so we should either get out of the way or hit them with Father's axe for an immune."

"When Father throws his axe at Nightmares, it knocks them closer to the ground. Then he can use melee attacks to finish them off."

Fodder and Grunts
Nightmare

ICE AND GLOOM NIGHTMARES

Two other variants of Nightmares are covered elsewhere in this Bestiary. The Ice Nightmare is a Hel-Walker creature, so you'll find it listed in the Hel-Walker section. Likewise, the Gloom Nightmare is a Dark Elf creature, so look for it listed in our Dark Elves section.

NIGHTMARE

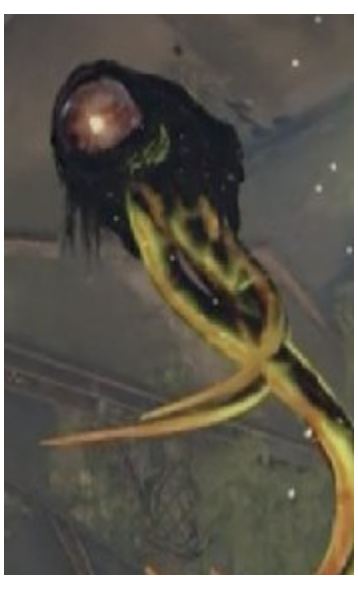

Faction	Seiðr
Class	Fodder
Strengths	N/A
Weaknesses	Weak to Shock, Stun and Rage
Power Level Growth	Increased aggressiveness and status effects
Unique Elite Enhancement	Increased damage and gains a new kamikaze divebomb attack like the Exploding Nightmare

A Nightmare typically flies out of reach of your melee attacks, while launching poisonous projectiles at its target. An axe throw or Atreus' arrows are usually enough to knock the little foes out of the air. This at least allows you to reach them more easily with melee attacks. Nightmares are extremely nimble flyers, so quickly throw Leviathan once you have it in your sights.

Kratos' Blades of Chaos are quite effective against all Nightmares, allowing you to weaponize the fliers. Aim at a Nightmare and press R1 to impale and pull it in. You have a moment to aim before Kratos tosses the Nightmare forward, which detonates upon impact.

In-Game Tips: "These Nightmares come after me and try to take me out of the fight, but Father can stop them. Hopefully he will…"

"We can either dodge their shots, or interrupt them with an arrow or axe throw. The stronger ones can shoot faster."

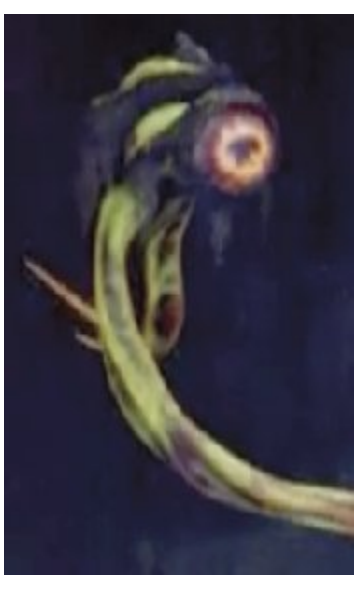

EXPLODING NIGHTMARE

Faction	Seiðr
Class	Fodder
Strengths	N/A
Weaknesses	Weak to Shock, Stun and Rage
Power Level Growth	Increased aggressiveness
Unique Elite Enhancement	Increased damage

These Nightmares like to swarm in close before exploding. Quickly take these nuisances out from range with a quick axe throw or Atreus' arrows. Otherwise, their explosion can cause serious harm.

In-Game Tips: "As soon as they start charging us, just one hit to their body will blow them up. The explosion hurts other enemies, too! Could be useful when fighting a big group."

"If they get too close to us, they'll explode. We need to hit them at range."

FIRE NIGHTMARE

Faction	Primordial
Class	Fodder
Strengths	N/A
Weaknesses	Weak to Shock, Stun and Rage
Power Level Growth	Increased aggressiveness and status effects
Unique Elite Enhancement	Increased damage and gains a new kamikaze divebomb attack like the Exploding Nightmare

Fire Nightmares are similar to other Nightmares, except they shoot fireballs. Hit them with a quick axe throw, or use the blades to grab and fling them like a bomb. Listen for Atreus' warnings, or watch of threat indicators that signify an incoming fire projectile.

In-Game Tips: "Using the R2 axe throw will freeze them and bring them down to earth."

"My arrows can stun them which will allow Father to finish them off. If he grabs them when stunned, he can throw them at other enemies and they'll explode!"

NIGHTMARE PARASITE

Faction	Seiðr
Class	Fodder
Strengths	N/A
Weaknesses	Weak to Shock, Stun and Rage
Power Level Growth	Increased aggressiveness
Unique Elite Enhancement	Increased damage

This variant of Nightmare dives into other enemy creatures and "possesses" them, imbuing the possessed with added strength. Once that enemy is killed or stunned, the Nightmare Parasite flies out of its host. Eliminate it before it's able to take over another foe.

In-Game Tips: "These Nightmares try their hardest to possess other enemies, making those enemies a lot stronger."

"If we stun or kill a possessed enemy, it will force the possessing Nightmare out of their body."

Fodder and Grunts

Reaver

Faction	Seiðr
Class	Minor Grunt
Strengths	N/A
Weaknesses	Weak to Frost and Rage
Power Level Growth	Weaknesses improve Increased aggressiveness
Unique Elite Enhancement	Increased damage and defense. Increases sword combo swings from 3 to 5

Reavers have moderate health and resistance, carry a sword, and explode in a poisonous cloud when they die. They're not much of a match against Leviathan, so let them have it with an axe combo. When their health is low, they raise their arms to conjure up healing Seiðr magic that replenishes their health bar.

A tougher variant of the Reaver carries a shield, making them more challenging to deal with. Use the Block Break skill to knock them backward, providing an opportunity to attack. From range, a light axe throw aimed at their legs can knock these foes to the ground.

Once a Reaver is defeated, move away before he explodes in a cloud of poison. The Poison status effect is added when Kratos comes in contact with the gas, eventually causing damage over time.

In-Game Tips: "Seiðr Reavers are able to heal, so if we start attacking one, we should try to finish the job quickly."

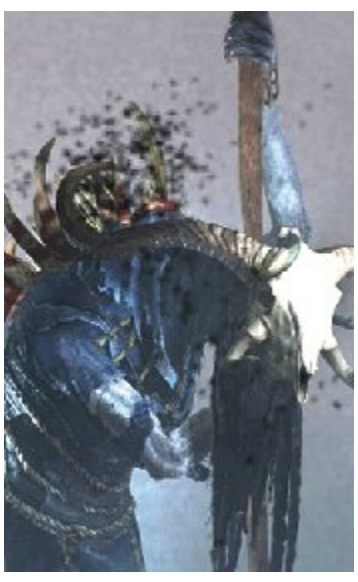

"When they die, they detonate in a poison cloud. If we're too close, we should try to dodge away."

Fodder and Grunts

Revenant

REVENANT

Faction	Seiðr
Class	Major Grunt
Strengths	Invincible to Kratos Attacks (With Shroud) Strong against Arrow stun (With Shroud)
Weaknesses	Weak to Atreus' Arrows and Rage
Power Level Growth	Weaknesses Improve Increased Damage Increased Status Effect Damage
Unique Elite Enhancement	Significant Damage Increase Increased Status Power

Revenants feature high mobility, moderate health, and moderate resistance. They cannot be hit by any form of attack from Kratos until the billowy shroud surrounding them is removed. Enter Atreus! This enemy can't be defeated without the boy's help. Landing a few arrows removes the Revenant's shroud, allowing Kratos to attack the shrew. The shroud reactivates after a short time, so take full advantage of this vulnerable state by stunning the enemy with a barehanded combo.

REVENANT (POISON)

Faction	Seiðr
Class	Major Grunt
Strengths	Invincible to Kratos Attacks (With Shroud) Strong against Arrow stun (With Shroud)
Weaknesses	Weak to Atreus' Arrows and Rage
Power Level Growth	Weaknesses Improve Increased Damage Increased Status Effect Damage
Unique Elite Enhancement	Significant Damage Increase Increased Status Power

This Revenant type leaves small pools on the ground that are poisonous if touched. She also attacks with a ground-rake ability that can track Kratos, making it difficult to dodge. Both attacks can be blocked, so keeping defense up is vital while Atreus focuses on lowering the shroud.

In-Game Tips: "Her pestilence powder leaves poison hazards in the environment. If Father steps in them, he'll be damaged and poisoned."

"Her fissure attack can move around obstacles to hit us. Father has a better chance of dodging if he waits until it's close."

REVENANT (SUMMONER)

Faction	Seiðr
Class	Major Grunt
Strengths	Invincible to Kratos Attacks (With Shroud) Strong against Arrow stun (With Shroud)
Weaknesses	Weak to Atreus' Arrows and Rage
Power Level Growth	Weaknesses Improve Increased Damage Increased Status Effect Damage
Unique Elite Enhancement	Significant Damage Increase Increased Status Power

These Revenants summon a variety of flying Nightmares to help in combat, and also spew clouds that can Blind. Up to four fliers can be active at a time and can easily overwhelm Kratos if you're not focused. After summoning the first four Nightmares, however, the Revenant doesn't conjure more until all four are killed; this can be used to Kratos' advantage. Keeping one flier alive while focusing on the Revenant Summoner makes these encounters much easier to manage.

In-Game Tips: "She tries to summon Nightmares often, so we need to make sure we interrupt her to avoid being overrun by them."

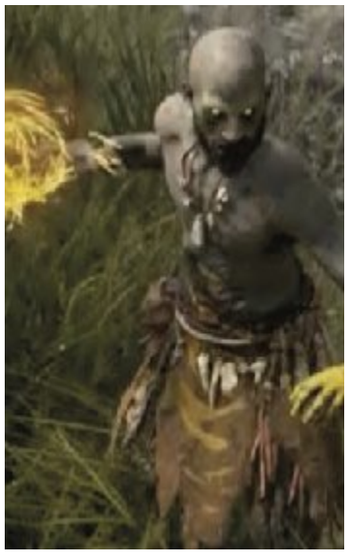

"Her powder smokescreen clouds can blind us, and they provide cover for her follow-up attacks. We should avoid them as much as we possibly can."

Fodder and Grunts

Shadow

SHADOW

Faction	Seiðr
Class	Minor Grunt
Strengths
Weaknesses	Weak to Rage
Power Level Growth
Unique Elite Enhancement	Increased Damage

The Shadow conjures a Seiðr projectile into his right hand and, after a short pause, flings it at his target. During the pause, use a light axe throw or arrow to interrupt the attack. The magic bomb detonates when it makes contact with Kratos, dealing damage.

Much like other projectile enemies, Shadows are weak and easily taken down with melee or ranged attacks. With the Countering Blast skill, the bomb can be parried back at the Shadow.

In-Game Tips: “They only attack after they’ve conjured an explosive Seiðr magic spell. We should rush them down before they can throw it, or try and dodge.”

“If they do create their bomb, Father can disrupt them by throwing his axe before they have time to throw it.”

Fodder and Grunts

Tatzelwurm

TATZELWURM

Faction	Seiðr
Class	Fodder
Strengths	Strong to Arrow Damage
Weaknesses	Easily Electrified Extended Shock Duration
Power Level Growth	Increased Aggression
Unique Elite Enhancement	Counters basic attacks with a poison burst

Part reptile, part feline. Tatzelwurms burrow underground in order to close in on their targets or evade incoming attacks. Quickly hit this foe with an arrow or melee strike to keep it vulnerable to your attacks. The little monsters are easily launched, so if possible, finish them off with one combo.

Remain on the move if you lose track of the slippery foes to make yourself a more difficult target. Use ground-slam attacks to pop nearby Tatzelwurms out of the ground; follow up with a juggle combo to keep them from re-entering their safe zone.

Back away as the Tatzelwurm burrows your way and once it emerges from the ground, parry its attack to stagger it. At that point, use a juggle combo to finish it off.

In-Game Tips: “When Father throws his axe at a Tatzelwurm as it burrows towards him, it’ll pop them out of the ground.”

“Launching and attacking Tatzelwurm as they dig into the ground will stop them from burrowing for a short time.”

CURSED TATZELWURM

Faction	Seiðr
Class	Fodder
Strengths	Strong to Arrow Damage
Weaknesses	Easily Electrified Extended Shock Duration
Power Level Growth	Increased Aggression
Unique Elite Enhancement	Attacks with triple spit.

A sac in the Cursed Tatzelwurm’s throat spits poison that’s deadly to the touch, so be careful not to step in it even if you dodge the initial spit. The poison spews out of its mouth before it spits, giving you time to ready your dodge.

In addition to avoiding the deadly poison, use the same tactics as with regular Tatzelwurms. Pop them out of the ground, or keep them from entering in the first place. If possible, juggle them with Leviathan to make quick work of them.

In-Game Tips: “Their spit is highly poisonous, even on the ground. Throwing the axe with R2 will freeze them and keep them from burrowing underground.”

“Attacks that slam the ground can pop nearby Tatzelwurm out of their underground burrows.

Fodder and Grunts

Traveler

Travelers drop Traveler's Grisly Trophy and Traveler's Armor Shard when defeated. Deliver these resources to Brok or Sindri to craft a special armor set.

TRAVELER

Faction	Seiðr
Class	Major Grunt
Strengths	Resists all reactions with armor on Very strong against Axe Toss attacks with armor on
Weaknesses	None. The perfect warrior!
Power Level Growth	All travelers are strong
Unique Elite Enhancement	Increased Aggression

The standard Traveler is equipped with durable armor and an enormous sword, and is one of the toughest enemies in the game. They're relatively slow, and their attacks are telegraphed. It's wise to always keep the Traveler in view and be ready to evade his powerful attacks.

Atreus should continue to pelt the Traveler's tough exterior with arrows, while Kratos works in melee strikes between the enemy's attacks. When available, use Runic Attacks and Rage Mode to weaken the Traveler. Eventually he begins to lose his armor, which makes Kratos' hits more effective.

When a Traveler charges toward Kratos, dodge-roll out of range to avoid taking serious damage from his overhead slam or powerful sword swing. Remain alert for a possible follow-up strike. When he steps away from Kratos, keep an eye out for a flash of light at the adversary's hilt—signifying an incoming thrust attack.

Watch for him to lift a magical rune above his head. A light axe throw can interrupt the attack. If it's allowed to strike the ground, a shockwave emanates outward from the Traveler, causing serious damage as it hits Kratos.

Travelers have a devastating combo where they alternate between side strikes that can be parried and overhead slams that must be evaded. Evade back to avoid the former and to the side for the overhead strike. A well-timed parry can interrupt the combo, but be sure not to attempt this after the red flash.

In-Game Tips: "He is slow but very sturdy. We should doge his horizontal swings backwards and his vertical swings sideways and attack him in the time it takes to recover."

"The Traveler has a magical rune. If we see him lift it in his hand, Father should throw his axe at it!"

TRAVELER CHAMPION

Faction	Seiðr
Class	Major Grunt
Strengths	Immune to damage from his back
Weaknesses
Power Level Growth	All travelers are strong
Unique Elite Enhancement	Increased Aggression

With a huge shield strapped to his back, the Traveler Champion backs into his target with his massive sword dragging the ground. Therefore, you must wait for him to expose his vulnerable front side before attacking. Once he gets within range, he may perform a powerful overhead strike. Step to the side to avoid the attack, though watch out for a possible follow-up strike.

The Champion has a thrust attack that can cause serious harm. From his defensive stance, he slides forward, spins around, and lunges straight ahead—thrusting his sword into Kratos' gut. This move has a long recovery, so dodge to the side and let him have it.

Just like the standard Traveler, the Champion carries a magical rune. If it's lifted above the enemy's head, fling Leviathan at it to interrupt the attack. Don't bother attacking him during this move, as he's invulnerable. If uninterrupted, he slams his fist into the ground, sending out a powerful shockwave that burns if not blocked.

If he rotates out of his backward stance, roll straight back if possible to avoid his 360-degree spin attack. Stay on the move, as he may perform a second spin or overhead smash. It is possible to get in hits with your axe when he backs up by throwing Leviathan in front of the foe, and then recall the weapon so that it flies through the Traveler.

In-Game Tips: "These Travelers must be a paranoid bunch, because they keep a huge shield on their back that will deflect any attempt to back stab him."

"We'll have to watch for him to turn and attack before striking him from the front."

Fodder and Grunts

Viken

Faction	Seiðr
Class	Major Grunt
Strengths	Highly increased Resistance +100
Weaknesses	None
Power Level Growth	Weaknesses improve Increased Aggression Increased Status Effect damage
Unique Elite Enhancement	Triple ground slams no longer consume their weapon buff.

Vikens have high health and high resistance, making them the most dangerous variety of Seiðr warrior. Vikens cannot be tripped or launched and can block ranged attacks, forcing Kratos to fight them up close and personal. They attack slightly faster than a Heavy Draugr but still move slowly. Vikens wind up for their swinging attacks, so take advantage of their slow movement by evading just outside their range and countering after the attack whiffs.

Watch out for them to power up their mace. Their hits are more powerful and they perform three successive ground slams. Keep your distance until the move is finished and then move in for a combo.

In-Game Tips: “We should kill these guys quickly, they’re able to heal from most wounds.”

“We should watch out when they power up their weapon with Seiðr magic! They can do a powerful triple-slam attack.”

Fodder and Grunts

Wolves

RABID WOLF

Faction	Beast
Class	Fodder
Strengths	N/A
Weaknesses	Weak to Rage
Power Level Growth	Increased aggressiveness
Unique Elite Enhancement	Increased damage, resistance and aggressiveness

Rabid Wolves are fought very early in the game, before you leave the Wildwoods. Their rabid state causes them to attack on sight. Their most dangerous attack, a lunging bite, is fairly easy to spot and can be evaded by stepping to the side. Follow up with an axe combo to make short work of them. The lunging bite can also be blocked, though Kratos is pushed back in the process.

Stay on the move and be ready to quickly evade their attacks with a dodge roll. If a Wolf gets ahold of Kratos, mash on the Circle button to toss the beast away.

In-Game Tips: “Wolves typically hunt in packs and will try to surround their prey. Father should try to keep them in front of him and let me help draw their attention.”

“When these Wolves howl, we should be ready for a strong attack.”

POISON WOLF

Faction	Beast
Class	Fodder
Strengths	N/A
Weaknesses	Weak to Rage
Power Level Growth	Increased aggressiveness
Unique Elite Enhancement	Increased damage, resistance and aggressiveness

The Poison Wolf, as its name suggests, regurgitates and spits globs of poison that form puddles noxious to the touch. Otherwise, they’re identical to the Rabid Wolves. Avoid making contact with the poison while taking them down.

In-Game Tips: “We’ll have to be extra careful not to step in the stuff they vomit up. It’s poisonous. Smells real bad, too.”

“The poison from these Wolves makes attacking up close risky. My bow and Father’s axe throw are safer ways to take them down.”

Fodder and Grunts

Wulver

WULVER

Faction	Beast
Class	Major Grunt
Strengths	Increased Resitstance. Strong against Frost, Burn and Rage
Weaknesses	Extended Shock Duration
Power Level Growth	Increased damage
Unique Elite Enhancement	Increased damage, defense and aggressiveness

Wulvers possess a dangerous combination of strength and speed. Powerful melee attacks and excellent evasive skills make a lone Wulver a challenge, let alone a group of them. Use Leviathan's Frost effect to slow them down and Atreus' arrows to Weaken and Stun. Lure them into walls for increased Stun damage. It may be best to fight fire with fire. Use an aggressive, relentless approach and take them out before they have a chance to go all frenzy on Kratos.

Their melee swipes can be parried, providing a great opportunity to break their momentum. Otherwise, its relentless combo can be detrimental to Kratos' health.

Their shoulder charge and jump attack allow them to cover ground in a hurry. They may also combine their strikes into devastating combos, so always be ready with a dodge roll. It's possible to parry a Wulver's strike to stagger the beast, and then follow up with a counterattack.

When a Wulver lets out a howl, its speed increases, making it even more challenging. Keep these guys in view at all times, and stay on the move to lessen the chance of a surprise attack. Atreus' Shock Arrows can stagger the beast and interrupt its howl. If the Wulver manages to get ahold of Kratos, mash the circle button to escape.

In-Game Tips: "A Wulver's howl is a sign they are going into a frenzy, where they can attack with incredible speed."

"If Father finds himself caught in the Wulver's frenzy attack, I may be able to draw the Wulver's attention with a well-placed arrow."

FIERCE WULVER

Faction	Elves
Class	Fodder
Strengths	Increased Resitstance. Strong against Frost, Burn and Rage
Weaknesses	Extended Shock Duration
Power Level Growth	Increased damage
Unique Elite Enhancement	Increased damage, defense and aggressiveness

The Fierce Wulver is an even tougher breed of Wulver. If it lets out a howl, its strength increases significantly. Always keep these guys in front of Kratos, and use Leviathan to slow them down. Atreus should keep the arrows flying to Weaken and Stun.

Fierce Wulvers have a dash attack that allows them to close in on their target in a hurry. Watch for it to drop to all fours along with a red flash, and then evade to the side to avoid taking damage.

In-Game Tips: "When a Wulver crouches on all fours, they become very difficult to hit. We need to be on our guard and not leave ourselves open to counter attack."

"The other Wulver gets a lot faster after it starts howling. This one seems to get a lot stronger. We should be really, really careful after this one starts howling."

Minibosses

Overview

Your Journey through the Norse realms features frightening encounters with an array of creatures more powerful than grunts but less sophisticated than the gods and godlike bosses of the highest tier. These mid-level “minibosses” are most notable for their great size and brute strength. The attack moves of Trolls, Ogres, and Ancients are not particularly hard to identify—most are slow and easy to see coming. But their sheer power makes them extremely difficult tocounter.

Minibosses
Ancient

All Ancients, as well as the Soul Eaters, are impervious to nearly all attacks. An Ancient's chest opens up during combat, revealing its vulnerable core. With a successful hit, a volatile chunk pops out of the enemy, which can be used to damage and stagger it. Its move set consists of a combination of four basic attacks: an area-of-effect blast, mortars, missiles, and a beam. They don't always retain all four attacks, and the element attached to the attacks may be Light, Burn, or Frost.

Collect Ancient's Heart and Ancient's Rubble from defeated Ancients and deliver the resources to Brok or Sindri, who can use them to craft powerful Legendary gear.

FIRE ANCIENT

Faction	Primordial
Class	Miniboss
Strengths	Immune to Burn, Frost, Shock and Weaken
Weaknesses	Weak to Rage and being hit in the Core
Power Level Growth	Increased resistance to Stun
Unique Elite Enhancement	N/A

After the water drops a second time, paddle a boat to the southwest portion of Lake of Nine and dock at the southeastern beach of Iron Cove. The Fire Ancient lies in a heap of rocks next to a coffin. Get its attention by detonating one of the nearby explosive jars, or hit it directly. It possesses three attacks to look out for: fire mortars, a fire blast, and fire missiles. Refer to the Lake of Nine Exploration chapter for more information on the Ancient and the beach where it's found.

LAVA ANCIENT

Faction	Primordial
Class	Miniboss
Strengths	Immune to Burn, Frost, Shock and Weaken
Weaknesses	Weak to Rage and being hit in the Core
Power Level Growth	Increased resistance to Stun
Unique Elite Enhancement	N/A

Despite spending so much time underwater, the Lava Ancient has managed to keep its fire. After the water drops a second time, more land becomes accessible at Wolfsrgard Pass—introducing a pack of Draugr along with the hibernating Ancient. Eliminate all conscious enemies before going after the big guy. Use the boulders scattered around the area to block its incoming attacks, which include fire mortars, a blast attack, and missiles. Check out our Lake of Nine Exploration chapter for more information on the Ancient and how to access it.

FOREST ANCIENT

Faction	Primordial
Class	Miniboss
Strengths	Immune to Burn, Frost, Shock and Weaken
Weaknesses	Weak to Rage and being hit in the Core
Power Level Growth	Increased resistance to Stun
Unique Elite Enhancement	N/A

The Forest Ancient wanders the forest outside Fáfnir's Storeroom instead of hibernating like most Ancients. It appears as you exit the storeroom during the Favor "Fáfnir's Hoard."It attacks with a fire area-of-effect blast, missiles, and a variety of beams. Although fighting the Ancient is unnecessary to complete the Favor, it rewards valuable resources and XP when defeated. Turn to the Favors chapter to find out more about Sindri's first Favor and this unique Ancient.

STONE ANCIENT

Faction	Primordial
Class	Miniboss
Strengths	Immune to Burn, Frost, Shock and Weaken
Weaknesses	Weak to Rage and being hit in the Core
Power Level Growth	Increased resistance to Stun
Unique Elite Enhancement	N/A

The Stone Ancient is your Introduction to this interesting class of enemy. Navigate through the Aifheim trench in order to reactivate the Ringed Temple Bridge. At the final platform, after you defeat a Dark Elf ambush, a glowing "rock pile" comes to life. This is the Stone Ancient, the first Ancient you face during the Journey. Check out "The Light of Aifheim" chapter of The Journeyfor detailed strategy.

FROST ANCIENT

Faction	Primordial
Class	Miniboss
Strengths	Immune to Burn, Frost, Shock and Weaken
Weaknesses	Weak to Rage and being hit in the Core
Power Level Growth	Increased resistance to Stun
Unique Elite Enhancement	N/A

The Frost Ancient lies dormant inside the Mountain. Not long after riding the elevator up through the cave shaft on a return visit, Kratos and Atreus find the Frost Ancient; give it a nudge to get its attention. Unlike the Fire Ancients fought before, this one utilizes Frost area-of-effect and beam attacks that hit with the Slowed status effect. The "Return to the Summit" portion of The Journeycovers the minibosss in detail.

If you did not eliminate the Ice Ancient at the frozen lake next to Thamur's Corpse, a Frost Ancient appears. Another Frost Ancient hibernates at near the Northern Dock after the area has been destroyed near Thamur's Corpse, and is extremely easy to miss.

ICE ANCIENT

Faction	Primordial
Class	Miniboss
Strengths	Immune to Burn, Frost, Shock and Weaken
Weaknesses	Weak to Rage and being hit in the Core
Power Level Growth	Increased resistance to Stun
Unique Elite Enhancement	N/A

The Hel-Walker can be left alone, but where's the fun in that? Wake it up near Thamur's Corpse at the Frozen Lake, next to the Shatter Crystal dispenser. It attacks with an area-of-effect blast, missiles, and beam that all hit with Frost and a Slowed status effect. This Ancient is extremely easy to miss. If you avoid the minibosss and exit the region with Thamur's Chisel, you cannot return. Later in the game, a Frost Ancient appears near the Northern Dock, but only if you missed the Ice Ancient.

SOUL EATER

Faction	Primordial
Class	Miniboss
Strengths	Immune to Burn, Frost, Shock and Weaken
Weaknesses	Weak to Rage and being hit in the Core
Power Level Growth	Increased resistance to Stun
Unique Elite Enhancement	N/A

The Soul Eater was accidentally created by Andvari while experimenting on Ancients in Völundr Mines. It continues to hang out inside and is fought as part of the "Second Hand Soul" Favor. It's similar to Fire Ancients, with its impenetrable exterior and attacks, a fire area-of-effect blast, and fire missiles. It doesn't hibernate like most Ancients, and attacks on sight when Kratos and Atreus get too close. A second Soul Eater can be fought if you return to River Pass later in the game.

SOUL DEVOURER

Faction	Primordial
Class	Miniboss
Strengths	Immune to Burn, Frost, Shock and Weaken
Weaknesses	Weak to Rage and being hit in the Core
Power Level Growth	Increased resistance to Stun
Unique Elite Enhancement	N/A

The Soul Devourer is similar to the Soul Eater, except it uses four attacks: an area-of-effect blast, mortars, a beam attack, and missiles. It's found at three locations: Ruins of the Ancient, Konúngaard Stronghold during the "Hail to the King" Favor, and Niffheim (it emerges from a Realm Tear with a pair of Wulvers). Find coverage of the enemy in the Favors chapter.

Minibosses

Ogre

OGRE

Faction	Beast
Class	Miniboss
Strengths	Strong against Rage, Frost, Burn and Axe Toss
Weaknesses	N/A
Power Level Growth	Increased damage and resistances
Unique Elite Enhancement	Increased damage, defense, aggressiveness and resistances

During “Path to the Mountain,” Kratos and Atreus meet their first Ogre as it busts through the door between the Foothills and the base of the Mountain. The beast is big and strong, but its attacks are slow and telegraphed. His long arms give his melee attacks great range, which can make evading them tougher than with other enemies. Hit the Ogre in its head just before or after it attacks to break its momentum.

Ogres are typically joined by other enemies, which works well with Kratos’ stun grab. Avoid the Ogre’s powerful attacks and work in melee attacks when possible, while Atreus peppers the foe with arrows until it becomes stunned. At that point, perform a stun grab on the vulnerable foe to mount the creature. Use light and heavy attacks to beat on the defenseless Ogre, or simply steer it into other enemies to attack with its flailing arms.

There are numerous Ogres around the Norse realms, and they all have similar fighting styles. With their lumbering melee attacks, and ability to use a smaller enemy as a projectile, they can destroy Kratos in no time if left unchecked. Read up on our coverage of the first Ogre in the Foothills in the “Path to the Mountain” chapter of The Journey.

In-Game Tips: “This Ogre has a very quick tell before he attacks. Father can use that to get out of the way.”

“Father is strong enough to block one of his attacks, but it takes some time for him to recover. Smarter to avoid it altogether.”

FIERCE OGRE

Faction	Beast
Class	Miniboss
Strengths	Strong against Rage, Frost, Burn and Axe Toss
Weaknesses	N/A
Power Level Growth	Increased damage and resistances
Unique Elite Enhancement	Increased damage, defense, aggressiveness and resistances

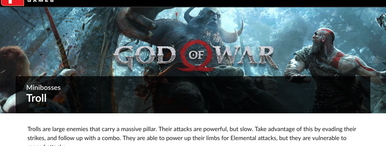

The Fierce Ogre is similar to the standard Ogre, but capable of powerful, long-distance leaps that can propel it right into a sudden slam attack. It also possesses the ability to rip a big boulder out of the ground and fling it at you. Be sure to evade the projectile, or Kratos becomes dazed for a few seconds. When in close, watch for a red flash that indicates an attempt to grab Kratos. Dodge roll away from the beast to avoid taking huge damage.

Due to the beast’s ability to tear through Kratos’ health, avoid spending too much time directly in front of the creature. Instead, fight from distance, or work your way behind it. Use Runic Attacks and Rage Mode whenever available to deal with the powerful enemy, and keep Atreus’ arrows flying. Just like the standard Ogre, the Fierce Ogre can be mounted once stunned, and used against other foes.

In-Game Tips: “If Father can goad an Ogre into using their jump smash, it’ll take them a couple of moments to recover if they miss. I just hope they miss.”

“Getting behind any Ogre is a good opportunity to do some damage. But if they turn and see him, they’ll definitely attack.”

Minibosses

Troll

Trolls are large enemies that carry a massive pillar. Their attacks are powerful, but slow. Take advantage of this by evading their strikes, and follow up with a combo. They are able to power up their limbs for Elemental attacks, but they are vulnerable to ranged attacks.

DAUÐI HAMARR—FIRE TROLL

Faction	Trolls
Class	Miniboss
Strengths	Highly resistant.
Weaknesses	Weak to son arrows.
Power Level Growth	N/A
Unique Elite Enhancement	N/A

The first miniboss fight takes place close to home in the Wildwoods against a Fire Troll named Dauði Kaupmaðr, which translates to Death Merchant. The fight acts as an introduction to the numerous behemoths you face throughout the Norse realms. Refer to "The Marked Trees" chapter of The Journey for more information.

BRENNA DAUÐI—LAVA TROLL

Faction	Trolls
Class	Miniboss
Strengths	Highly resistant. Resist Frost and Burn.
Weaknesses	None
Power Level Growth	N/A
Unique Elite Enhancement	N/A

While tracking a mysterious boar through River Pass, Kratos and Atreus run into a second Troll close to their home named Brenna Dauði. The primordial beast introduces fiery lava to the fight, which adds the Burning status effect. Find strategy for the Troll in the "Path to the Mountain" chapter of The Journey.

Faction	Trolls
Class	Miniboss
Strengths	Highly resistant. Resist Frost and Burn.
Weaknesses	None
Power Level Growth	N/A
Unique Elite Enhancement	N/A

Dauði Hamarr is found imprisoned inside the Dwarf King's castle in Veithurgard. Defeating the Troll isn't necessary, but it earns valuable loot, plus access to a Legendary Chest. Another defeated Troll assists in the "Troll's Toll" Labor.

GRENDEL OF THE ASHES AND GRENDEL OF THE FROST—STONE TROLLS

Faction	Trolls
Class	Miniboss
Strengths	Ashes is immune to Blades. Frost is immune to Axe.
Weaknesses	Ashes is weak to Axe. Frost is weak to Blades
Power Level Growth	N/A
Unique Elite Enhancement	N/A

Grendel of the Ashes and Grendel of the Frost stand guard inside Tyr's Vault as statues. Swipe the wrong item, and they come to life to defend the treasure. Grendel of the Ashes' resistance to fire is strong, and his attacks inflict Burning status. This makes him extremely vulnerable to Frost; counter with Leviathan.

The most feared member of the Stone Troll Tribe, Grendel of the Frost, is vulnerable to fire—making the Blades of Chaos the weapon of choice. His attacks add the Slowed status.

Both Grendels have the ability to use their totems to create rock formations that Blind nearby targets when detonated; use ranged strikes to eliminate the rocks. Refer to "The Black Runestone" chapter of The Journey for miniboss strategies.

DEATH EATER—STONE TROLL

Faction	Trolls
Class	Miniboss
Strengths	Highly resistant. Resist Frost and Burn.
Weaknesses	None
Power Level Growth	N/A
Unique Elite Enhancement	N/A

A statue stands guard on the beach next to Helheim Tower. Once you collect the Black Runestone and defeat the pair of Trolls inside Tyr's Vault, the Death Eater wakes and patrols the length of the beach. The Troll's massive size and pillar should be familiar after facing other Trolls. Similar to the Grendel brothers, when it smashes the pillar into the ground, small rock formations appear. These cause damage and Blindness when touched, so watch your movements carefully as you navigate the obstacles. Turn to the Lake of Nine Exploration chapter for more information.

DAUÐI KAUPMAÐR—FIRE TROLL

JÁRN FÓÞR—ICE TROLL

Faction	Trolls
Class	Minibosss
Strengths	Immune to Frost on Give Me God of War
Weaknesses	None
Power Level Growth	N/A
Unique Elite Enhancement	N/A

Though once cast out by the giants that lived inside the Mountain, Járn Fóþr has returned to the Heart of the Mountain. Kratos and Atreus run into him as they search for a way to ascend the towering cave shaft. The large Ice Troll is a Hel-Walker who shares similar moves to the Trolls fought at Wildwoods and River Pass. He carries a massive pillar and applies the slowed status with his attacks. Prepare for the battle by turning to the "Inside the Mountain" chapter of The Journey.

STONEBEARD KING—ICE TROLL

Faction	Trolls
Class	Minibosss
Strengths	Immune to Frost on Give Me God of War
Weaknesses	None
Power Level Growth	N/A
Unique Elite Enhancement	N/A

Stonebeard King was frozen into a wall of the Banquet Hall at Thamur's Corpse. Combine a Shatter Crystal and Shock Arrow to free the Hel-Walker. The Ice Troll has similar moves to Járn Fóþr, with a foot stomp that sends out a frost fissure along the ground and attacks that apply a slowed effect. For full coverage of the Troll, turn to "The Magic Chisel" chapter of our The Journey.

Bosses

Overview

Each narrative link in the Journey is capped by titanic encounters with immensely powerful enemies. A handful of these are true “bosses” in the classic sense—crushing attacks, multiple tactical phases, and only the briefest moments of vulnerability. Others are categorized as “sub-bosses”—far more powerful and dangerous than the minibosses, but easier to solve tactically than the top bosses that have more complexbehaviors.

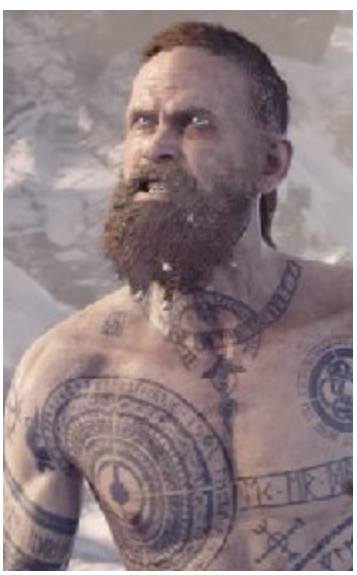

Note that all boss fights are covered in detail within our walkthroughs for the main Journey and side quests. Here in the Bestiary, we simply list all bosses and sub-bosses, and give you a few facts about each. For detailed combat tactics and strategies, check out the corresponding boss section in thewalkthrough.

Bosses

Baldur—Son of Odin

Faction	Asgardian
Class	Boss
Strengths	Feels no pain
Weaknesses	None
Power Level Growth	N/A
Unique Elite Enhancement	N/A

Baldur, son of Odin, has been cursed with the inability to feel anything, and because of that, he can take a beating. You learn this right away, when the “Stranger” visits your home in Wildwoods. Soon after, Kratos and Atreus learn his identity, when he’s spotted at the Summit of the Mountain. You cross the formidable foe’s path on a couple more occasions; refer to The Journeyto find strategy for each encounter.

Bosses

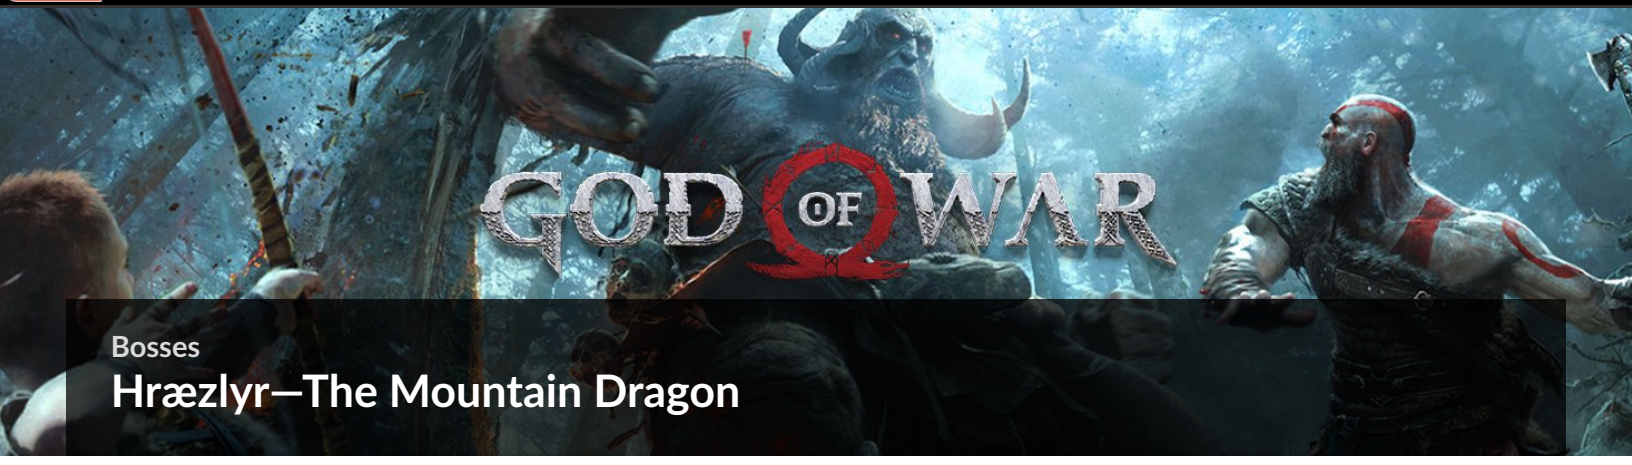

Gullveig—The Desecrated Maiden

Faction	Seiðr
Class	Sub-Boss (Revenant)
Strengths	Invincible to Kratos Attacks (With Shroud) Strong against Arrow stun (With Shroud)
Weaknesses	Weak to Atreus' Arrows and Rage
Power Level Growth	Weaknesses Improve Increased Damage Increased Status Effect Damage
Unique Elite Enhancement	Significant Damage Increase Increased Status Power

A Poison Revenant named Gullveig appears after you collect Gullveig's three bones as part of the "Anatomy of Hope" Favor and return them to the spirit. Immediately hit her with Atreus' arrows to clear her shroud, then pummel her with your axe.

Bosses

Hrælzlyr—The Mountain Dragon

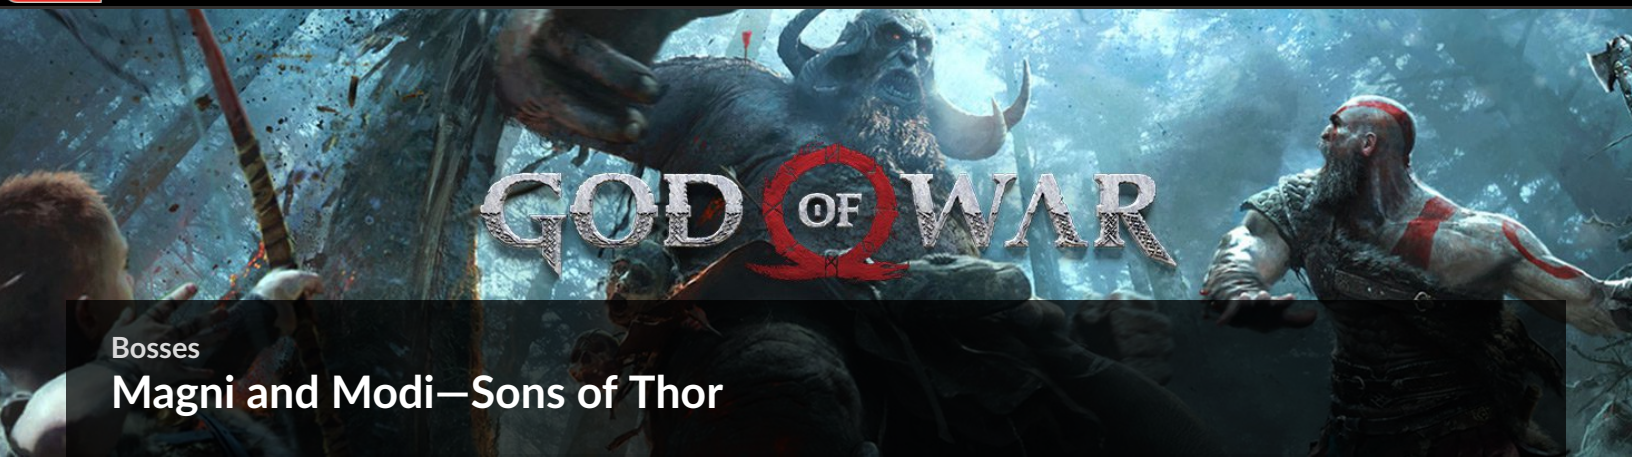

Faction	Beast
Class	Boss
Strengths	Immune to Shock, Frost, Burn, Weaken and Stun. Strong against Rage
Weaknesses	Weak to Shatter Crystal explosions
Power Level Growth	N/A
Unique Elite Enhancement	N/A

Hrælzlyr shows up inside the Heart of the Mountain as Kratos and Atreus ascend toward the summit. After a couple encounters, he must be dealt with at Hrælzlyr's Arena.

Avoid his deadly claw swipes, and use the provided Shatter Crystals as he charges up his electrical attack to stun the beast. Refer to the "Inside the Mountain" chapter of the Journey for detailed strategy.

Bosses

Magni and Modi—Sons of Thor

Faction	Asgardian
Class	Boss
Strengths	Highly resistant (Magni). Immune to Shock.
Weaknesses	None
Power Level Growth	N/A
Unique Elite Enhancement	N/A

Magni and Modi have been instructed by Odin to stop Kratos by any means necessary, and they finally get the opportunity at Thamur's Corpse. Magni is the eldest and carries a large sword, while Modi is equipped with a shield and mace. Magni starts out against Kratos, while Modi goes after Atreus. They swap opponents throughout the battle, so stay alert. Both bosses are able to grab Kratos' son, so attack the kidnapper to get Atreus back into the action.

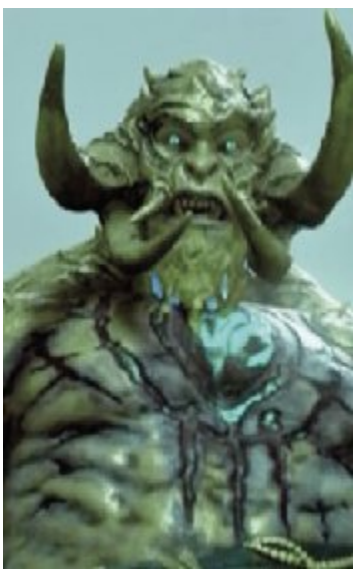

Get full coverage of the battle in "The Magic Chisel" chapter of The Journey.

Bosses

Máttugr Helson—The Helheim Bridge Keeper

Faction	Trolls
Class	Boss
Strengths	Immune to Axe. Highly resistant
Weaknesses	Weak to Blades
Power Level Growth	N/A
Unique Elite Enhancement	N/A

Born and raised in Hel, Máttugr Helson guards the Bridge of the Damned, ensuring only the dead pass through the gate. The son of Hel is a powerful Troll capable of creating magical orbs with his pillar. These orbs slowly track Kratos until detonating upon contact. He shares similar moves to lesser Trolls, but also possesses the ability to summon Hel-Brood to the fight and teleport around the arena. Find detailed strategy for the boss in “The Sickness” chapter of The Journey.

Bosses

Svartáljǫfurr—Dark Elf King

Faction	Dark Elf
Class	Sub-Boss
Strengths	Immune to Frost, Burn, Weaken, Shock and Stun. Strong against Rage.
Weaknesses	N/A
Power Level Growth	N/A
Unique Elite Enhancement	N/A

Svartáljǫfurr, the Dark Elf King, is seen on a couple of occasions directing his minions as you navigate the Alfheim trench and Ringed Temple. With the light gathered from the temple, Kratos and Atreus must travel back through the trench in order to reach their boat. It's at the far end of the trench where the Dark Elf leader decides to take matters into his own hands. Turn to "The Light of Alfheim" chapter of TheJourney walkthrough for detailed strategies on how to defeat the boss.

Bosses

Valkyries

Faction	Valkyries
Class	Sub-Boss
Strengths	Highly Resistant. Resistant to Burn, Frost, Shock, Weaken, and Rage.
Weaknesses	Gondul is weak to Frost. Hildr is weak to Burn
Power Level Growth	N/A
Unique Elite Enhancement	N/A

Eight Valkyries, imprisoned throughout the Norse realms, are some of the most formidable foes in the game. Defeat each one in order to free them from their corrupted forms. Their fighting styles are varied, requiring you to change your tactics for each.

Six of the Valkyries are held inside Hidden Chambers of Odin that require the Chisel to unlock. The other two are found within Muspelheim and Niflheim, though both require much effort to reach. While Kara can be fought fairly early in the game by surviving the challenging Muspelheim Trials, Gunnr should be your first Valkyrie opponent—accessible soon after collecting the Chisel at Thamur's Corpse.

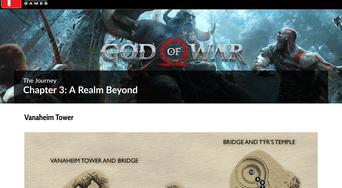

Once all eight Valkyries are freed, you must deliver their helmets to the Council of Valkyries on the north side of Lake of Nine. This summons the Valkyrie Queen, the most powerful Valkyrie of all.

Return the Valkyries' helmets and armor, as well as the Asgardian Steel and Perfect Asgardian Steel, to Brok or Sindri to craft and upgrade Epic Valkyrie gear.

THE VALKYRIES

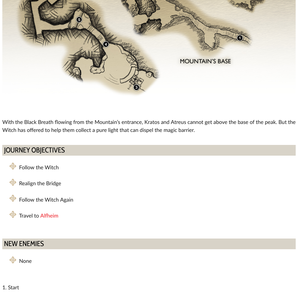

VALKYRIE	LOCATION	FIGHTER TYPE
Gunnr	Thamur's Corpse (Hidden Chamber of Odin)	Slugger
Geirdriful	Foothills (Hidden Chamber of Odin)	Shooter
Eir	The Mountain (Hidden Chamber of Odin)	Defender
Kara	Witch's Basement (Hidden Chamber of Odin)	Summoner
Rota	Helheim (Hidden Chamber of Odin)	Grappler
Olrun	Alfheim: Light Elf Shore (Hidden Chamber of Odin)	Evader
Göndul	Muspelheim: Trial VI	Fire
Hildr	Niflheim	Ice
Sigrun	Council of Valkyries	Queen

The Journey
Chapter 3: A Realm Beyond

Vanaheim Tower

With the Black Breath flowing from the Mountain's entrance, Kratos and Atreus cannot get above the base of the peak. But the Witch has offered to help them collect a pure light that can dispel the magic barrier.

JOURNEY OBJECTIVES

- Follow the Witch
- Realign the Bridge
- Follow the Witch Again
- Travel to Alfheim

NEW ENEMIES

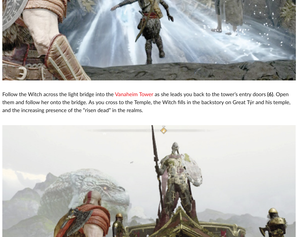

- None

1. Start
2. Sky Mover
3. Lower tram platform
4. Door
5. Light bridge
6. Tower entry door
7. Staircase
8. Outer chamber entry door
9. Realm Travel Room entry
10. Travel table

OBJECTIVE: Follow the Witch

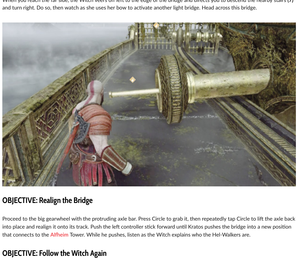

USE THE TRAM

From the start (1), follow the Witch down the stairs to Sindri's Sky Mover (2). There, watch her use magic to dispel the vines covering the tram. Step aboard and give the crank wheel a turn to activate the tram and ride down to the platform (3) by Sindri's Shop. During the ride, the Witch explains that the golden structure at the center of the Lake of Nine is called Tyr's Temple. From there you can travel to Alfheim. She also speaks of the great battle between the World Serpent and Thor.

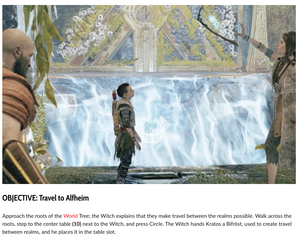

RETURN TO THE BRIDGE

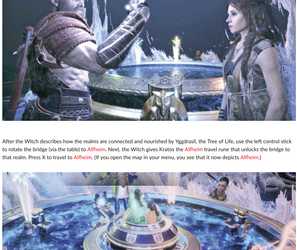

From the tram platform, follow the Witch to the tall doors (4) and open them for your party. Continue to the gap (5) and watch as the Witch shoots an arrow at a crystal on the opposite cliff. This activates a bridge of solid light, courtesy of Elven architecture.

Follow the Witch across the light bridge into the Vanaheim Tower as she leads you back to the tower's entry doors (6). Open them and follow her onto the bridge. As you cross to the Temple, the Witch fills in the backstory on Great Tyr and his temple, and the increasing presence of the "risen dead" in the realms.

When you reach the far side, the Witch veers off left to the edge of the bridge and directs you to descend the nearby stairs (7) and turn right. Do so, then watch as she uses her bow to activate another light bridge. Head across this bridge.

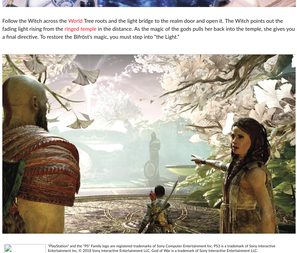

OBJECTIVE: Realign the Bridge

Proceed to the big gearwheel with the protruding axle bar. Press Circle to grab it, then repeatedly tap Circle to lift the axle back into place and realign it onto its track. Push the left controller stick forward until Kratos pushes the bridge into a new position that connects to the Alfheim Tower. While he pushes, listen as the Witch explains who the Hel-Walkers are.

OBJECTIVE: Follow the Witch Again

Head back upstairs to open the temple door (8), then follow the Witch across the entry chamber inside. At the far doorway, she fires her bow again at an Elven crystal to activate another light bridge (9). Watch as the Witch uses magic to prepare Atreus' bow so that once you claim the Light of Alfheim, you can use it to infuse the boy's bow. Then cross the light bridge and open the door that leads into the Realm Travel Room.

OBJECTIVE: Travel to Alfheim

Approach the roots of the World Tree; the Witch explains that they make travel between the realms possible. Walk across the roots, step to the center table (10) next to the Witch, and press Circle. The Witch hands Kratos a Bifröst, used to create travel between realms, and he places it in the table slot.

After the Witch describes how the realms are connected and nourished by Yggdrasil, the Tree of Life, use the left control stick to rotate the bridge (via the table) to Alfheim. Next, the Witch gives Kratos the Alfheim travel rune that unlocks the bridge to that realm. Press X to travel to Alfheim. (If you open the map in your menu, you see that it now depicts Alfheim.)

Follow the Witch across the World Tree roots and the light bridge to the realm door and open it. The Witch points out the fading light rising from the ringed temple in the distance. As the magic of the gods pulls her back into the temple, she gives you a final directive. To restore the Bifröst's magic, you must step into "The Light."

Chapter 15: Between the Realms

Based on Mimir's request, Kratos is convinced that the Lichr Stone is the secret behind Tyr's ability to travel back from realm to realm. When he decides he must put it to the test in the Realm Between Realms, Mimir is not on Winfield. But Atreus is ready to take the map and ride Sleipnir.

JOURNEY OBJECTIVES

- Explore the Realm Between Realms
- Take the Unity Stone to the precipice
- Investigate the Jötunheim Tower
- Use the Unity Stone
- Survive the gauntlet of realms

NEW ENEMIES

- Dark Elf Lord
- Whiteeye, Death Mum

OBJECTIVE: Explore the Realm Between Realms

Before you walk away from Realm Shop, be sure you upgrade everything you can for both Kratos and Atreus. You have a treasure trail of nearly 20 Realm Shards in this chapter, so you soon find out first-hand just how expensive each upgrade can be. Use the Realm Shards to upgrade Leviathan Axe, Draupnir Spear, and Blades of Chaos.

The Journey

Chapter 17: Mother's Ashes

The time has finally come to complete a wife and mother's last wishes. The Jötunheim Tower is back in place; Mimir has both eyes. Nothing else seems to stand in your way. You won't need a map to find where you're going.

JOURNEY OBJECTIVES

- Return to the Realm Travel Room
- Open a passage to Jötunheim
- Find Jötunheim's highest peak
- Scatter her ashes

NEW ENEMIES

- None

OBJECTIVE: Return to the Realm Travel Room

There's a boat down at the Northern Dock, but there's also a much faster way back to the Realm Travel Room. Head down the slope to the dock and use the Mystic Gateway to return to Brok's Shop in the temple. Then enter the Realm Travel Room. Use the travel table to lock in Jötunheim. Atreus automatically takes Mimir's head and uses it to transfer the energy into the door.

The door opens, revealing a staircase. But as they begin to climb, Mimir asks to be left behind, leaving Kratos and Atreus to their task alone. Brok and Sindri arrive to see them off, and agree to keep Mimir safe.

OBJECTIVE: Find Jötunheim's Highest Peak

Once control returns, climb the stairs to the top, where Atreus points out the highest Summit just ahead. Cross the bridge and enter the strange museum-like cavern at the mountaintop.

Examine the various statues and rune-covered walls as you follow the main path through the place.

LORE: THE DREAM OF MIDGARD

This Rune Read covers an entire wall of the museum-like cavern atop the highest peak in Jötunheim.

LORE: THE GUARDIAN RETURNS

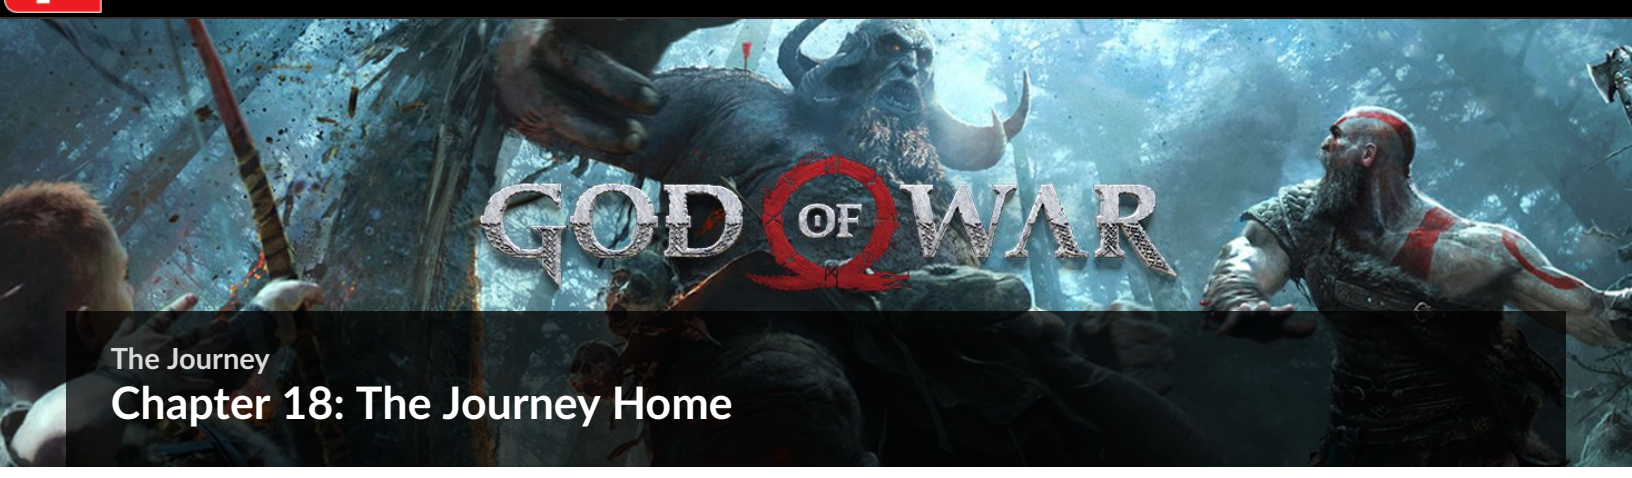

This Rune Read covers another wall of the museum-like cavern atop the highest peak in Jötunheim.

When you reach the opening that leads out of the cave, you trigger a cinematic: Atreus uncovers the reason for the Journey.

OBJECTIVE: Find Jötunheim's Highest Peak

After the scene, take some time to reexamine the wall's story before you step outside. Then climb the ledges, following the familiar yellow markings, until you reach the vista point.

The Journey

Chapter 18: The Journey Home

The only thing left to do now is go home. You've got a companion waiting for you on the way. And eventually, a visitor who seeks a word with you.

JOURNEY OBJECTIVES

- Return to the Realm Travel Room

NEW ENEMIES

- None

OBJECTIVE: Return to the Realm Travel Room

Retrace your route back down the ledges and through the mountaintop museum. Then descend the long staircase to the Realm Travel Room. Listen to the enlightening conversation, and note what Atreus says about freeing corrupted Valkyries and helping other people—about being "good gods."

UNFINISHED BUSINESS?

Before you head home, you can explore the realms, finishing up Favors and Labors, gathering all collectibles, and finding every Hidden Chamber of Odin.

When you reach the travel room, Kratos and Atreus find Mimir on the floor and add him back to the travel team. Use the travel table to return to Midgard. Exit the chamber and visit the Huldra Brothers at Brok's Shop, if you want.

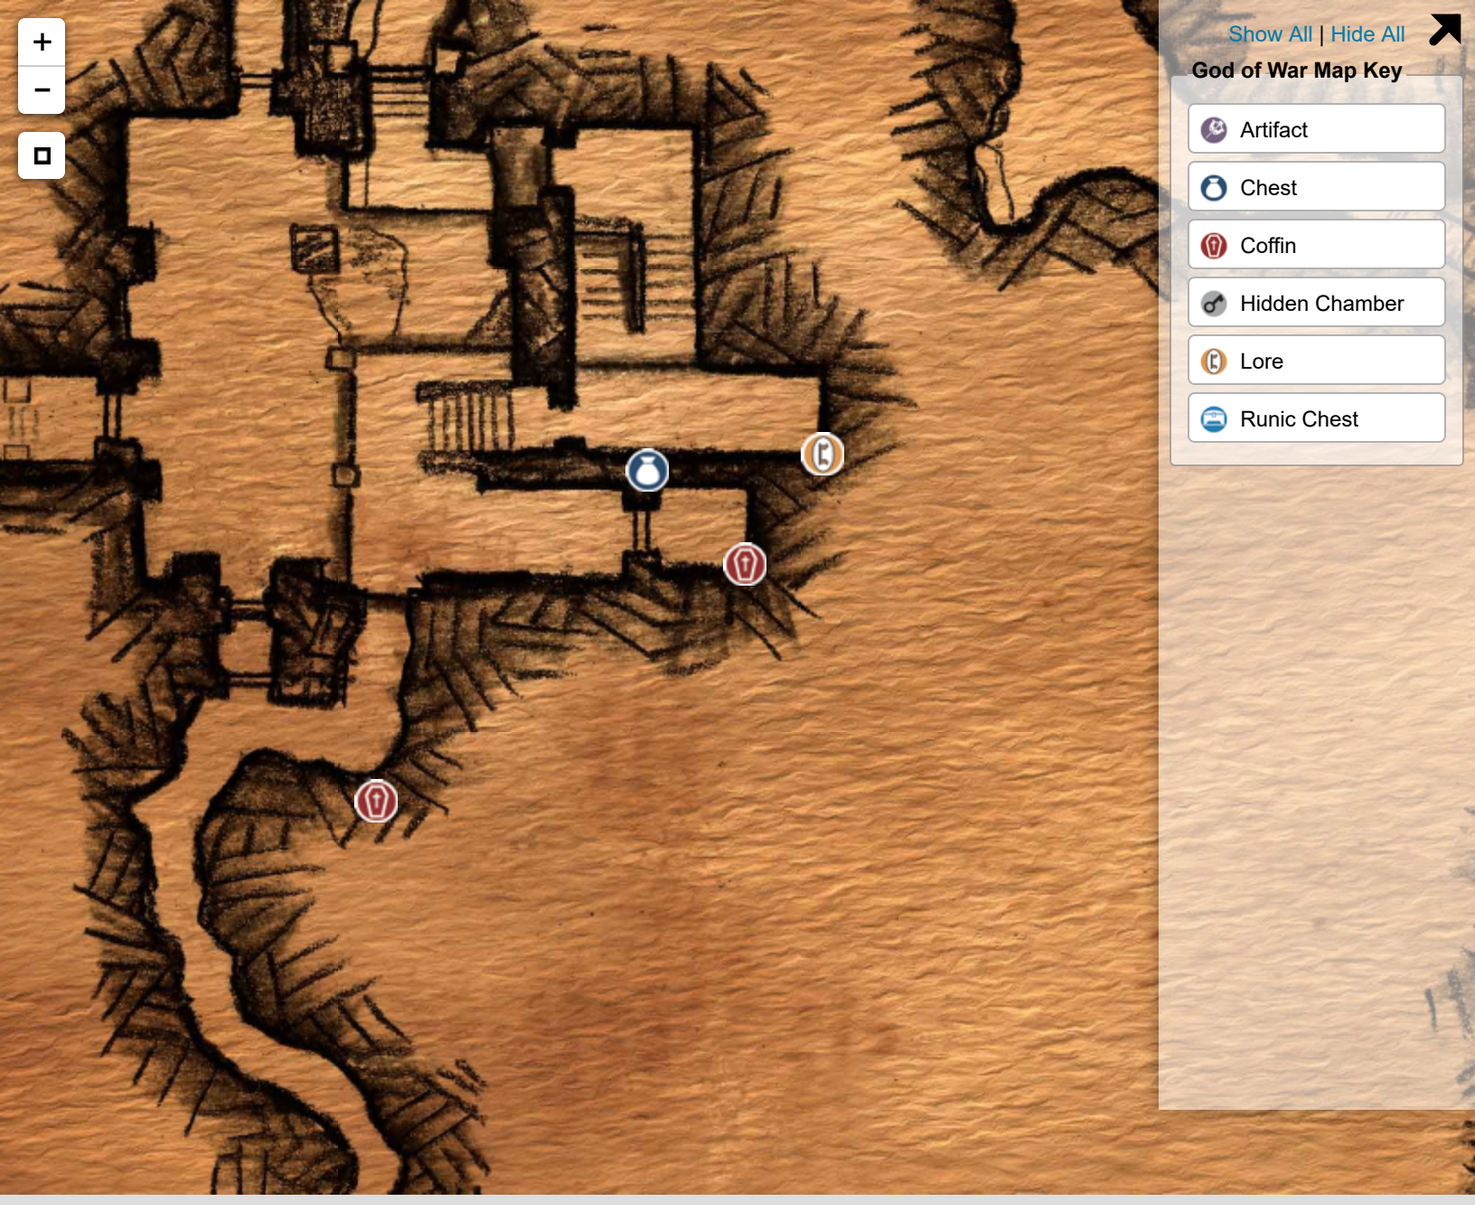

Then use the nearby Mystic Gateway to travel to your "Home" gateway. This puts you back in the front yard of Kratos' home. Enter the house, go lie down in the bed, and take a well-deserved nap. But prepare to be awakened by a visitor...

Favors

Overview

At the Lake of Nine, after you meet the World Serpent, Favors become available. Talk to the quest giver or approach the site of certain quests, and the corresponding quest is added to Atreus' Journal under the Favors Tab. Brok and Sindri have a few requests to make of Kratos, while wayward spirits, chained-up dragons, and Valkyries also need your help.

Quest Giver	Who or what provides the Favor
Quest Giver Location	Where that quest giver is located
Quest Location	Where the quest takes place
First Available	When the Favor becomes available
Main Objective	The player's main objective during the Favor
Levels of Enemies	Toughness of the enemies faced during the Favor
Reward	Items and XP received for completing the Favor

Everything you need to complete these Favors is covered in this chapter. Preliminary information is given at the start of each quest, allowing you to assess when to take them on.

There several quests can be reviewed as you explore the Lake of Woe. Light the Eastern Tower at the Quests for Locations is required to complete the Lake of Woe. Once you have completed the Lake of Woe, you will receive the Frozen Flame. Frozen Flame is used to create Glacial Arrows, Glacial Blades, Glacial Rune Attack, and Glacial Rune Cast.

Frozen Flame is also the Alfheim Tether required to access the Isle of Thrall.

EXPLORING THE LAKE OF WOE

For more of the objectives in the section, we note what the destination is and how to get there. Refer to the Lake of Woe map for the location of the destinations mentioned.

While many objectives in the section are optional, we recommend that you complete the Lake of Woe Quests for Locations. This objective reveals the caves, but you may need to navigate most of the beaches and shared before you can find the caves.

ANATOMY OF WOES
Objectives	Recommended Level
Dead Giant Location	Hikemi's Chainsaw
Dead Kraggle Location	Relics of the Ancients (Lake of Woe)
Main Objectives	Recover Gullveig's bones and return to the Spirit
Main Objectives	Defeat the Vreswerd Spirits. Then return to the Spirit.

Take a boat north between Mjölnir Cliffs and Hikemi's Chainsaw and sail to the beach from the Tether north beyond the Ashmount Pass. Disembark and head to the Hikemi's Chainsaw. Use the Chainsaw to destroy the ice and climb up the wall of the mountain. Follow the trail to a stream covered with branches.

OBJECTIVE: Recover Gullveig's Bones

- Dead Giant Location (1) Hikemi's Chainsaw
- Dead Kraggle Location (2) Relics of the Ancients (Lake of Woe)

Follow the stream to the dead giant and collect the Giant's Bone. Then head to the dead Kraggle and collect the Kraggle's Bone. Use a Glacial Arrow on the Rubble Crystal to clear the debris from the stream, then follow the stream to the Spirit.

OBJECTIVE: Return to the Spirit

- Giant's Bone is found next to the dead wall of Relics of the Ancients (Lake of Woe) and to the west of Forgotten Caverns (7) in the Southeastern Ruins. Frozen Turbine Shelter shows a line of Glacial Arrows on the Giant's Bone. Use the Glacial Arrows and then follow the path on the right side to a stone cabinet that The Spirit has the Kraggle's Bone.

- Left Hand Relics of the Ancients (Lake of Woe) and to the southeastern shores of Isle of the Ancients. A dead Vreswerd spirit is the Giant's, though the right is scattered. It won't return without persecution. From the dead spirit, walk east then path toward the southeast of the Vreswerd Spirits.

OBJECTIVE: Return Gullveig's Bones / Speak to the Spirit

OBJECTIVE: Kill Gullveig

With all the bones returned, Gullveig is reanimated and the Revenant Boss immediately attacks. Your Nightmare Lure lure to the Spirit whenever there is the odd chance to heal and use its Stones. Take care of Gullveig by the same means as other Revenant Bosses. Gullveig's Revenant Boss Tips

Favors

Realms Unlock

Many of the toughest challenges in God of War await at two realms, Muspelheim and Niflheim. Muspelheim offers six trials that culminate in a fight against a Valkyrie. Niflheim is overcome by the Cursed Mist that limits the time Kratos can spend in the area. Meanwhile, valuable loot, deadly traps, and dangerous foes abound throughout the realm. Another Valkyrie is located deep inside the realm.

THE REALM OF FIRE
Main Objective	Complete the Muspelheim Language Cipher and travel to Muspelheim
Reward	400 XP, unlock Muspelheim, 25 XP per cipher piece

OBJECTIVE: Complete the Muspelheim Language Cipher

There are seven Cipher Chests that hold a Muspelheim Language Cipher, but only four are required to read the Muspelheim runes and travel to the realm. Once four have been collected, the remaining chests provide a random Enchantment.

	LOCATION	HOW TO FIND
·	Lake of Nine: Cliffs of the Raven	Find the beach with the dead Troll and brazier, which is where you dock at the high-water level. Break out the boards that block the small hole to the north in order for Atreus to drop the nearby chain. Climb up and loot the Cipher Chest.
·	Lake of Nine: Forgotten Caverns	From the main beach of Forgotten Caverns, where a Nornir Chest sits to the left and a brazier to the right, climb the chain on the north side to find the Cipher Chest.
·	Foothills	Near the start of the foothills, before Sindri's Shop. At the Scorn Pole that sits next to a Lore Marker, the Cipher Chest rests to the left.
·	Alfheim	Travel to Alfheim and cross the bridge, taking care of any Dark Elves and tentacles that block your progress. At the other end of the bridge, the path splits; head right to find the chest.
·	The Mountain	After your first trip to the Mountain Summit, where you meet Mimir, descend the steps toward the Mystic Gateway. The Cipher Chest sits just ahead on the left.
·	Lake of Nine: Muspelheim Tower (after second water drop)	Though this chest is just behind Muspelheim Tower, the gate is locked, so you must find another way there. Climb Lookout Tower and slide down the zipwire to reach the area behind Muspelheim Tower. Defeat the enemies and climb the boards to find the Cipher Chest.
·	The River Pass	Travel to Witch's Basement and ride the elevator up to the cavern. You must have Shock Arrows to access the Cipher Chest that sits just to the right of the elevator. Use a Shock Arrow on the nearby Shatter Crystal, move into the right room and open the chest to find the cipher. Be sure to grab the cipher before removing the Winds of Hel energy. If you have collected three of the previous ciphers, this one allows you to read the Muspelheim language and travel to the realm.

OBJECTIVE: Use the Realm Table to Travel to Muspelheim

After collecting four Muspelheim Ciphers, use the Realm Table at Týr's Temple to access Muspelheim. As you climb the volcano, a number of trials test your skills as a fighter. Refer to the Muspelheim section later in this chapter for full details.

THE REALM OF FOG
Main Objective	Complete the Niflheim Language Cipher and travel to Niflheim
Reward	400 XP, unlock Niflheim, 25 XP per cipher piece

OBJECTIVE: Complete the Niflheim Language Cipher

There are seven Cipher Chests that hold a Niflheim Language Cipher, but only four are required to learn the Niflheim Language and travel to the realm. Once four have been collected, the remaining chests provide a random Enchantment.

	LOCATION	HOW TO FIND
·	Lake of Nine: Beach next to Alfheim Tower	Dock at the beach next to the Alfheim Realm Tower and detonate the Shatter Crystal. Climb the first ledge and run to the right to find the Cipher Chest.
·	Lake of Nine: Ruins of the Ancient	Find this beach in the northwest corner of the lake. A Soul Devourer patrols the area, so be careful using your weapon. Loot the chest for a cipher.
·	Lake of Nine: Lookout Tower (after second water drop)	Dock at the Lookout Tower beach and eliminate the Nightmares. Look east and spot a paddle contraption that enables and disables the spikes that block the various routes through the area. Hit a paddle four times, and the two sets of spikes to the southwest become disabled, giving you access to the Cipher Chest.
·	The Mountain Summit	During the journey, Kratos and Atreus return to the Mountain Summit with the Chisel. After reaching another Sindri Shop, you emerge onto the Summit. The Cipher Chest sits just ahead. If you have collected the three within the Lake of Nine, this one unlocks the Niflheim realm.
·	The Hall of Týr	As part of the Journey, Kratos and Atreus must break the two chains in order to flip the Realm Travel Room. Follow the left wing through the traps until you reach the chain. The Cipher Chest sits against the far wall.
·	The Hall of Týr	As part of the Journey, Kratos and Atreus must break the two chains in order to flip the Realm Travel Room. Follow the right wing through the traps until you reach the chain. The Cipher Chest sits against the far wall.
·	Inside Serpent	This location must be looted during the Journey. Late in the game, you paddle a boat into the World Serpent. After finding the eye, step up to the zip line and look left. Hop over to the adjacent platform and loot the Cipher Chest.

OBJECTIVE: Use the Realm Table to Travel to Niflheim

After collecting four Niflheim Ciphers, use the Realm Table at Týr's Temple to access Niflheim. This realm offers a new challenge every time you exit the Cursed Mist and re-enter—enemy, trap, and treasure placements all change. Refer to the Niflheim Favors later in this chapter for more information.

Before the game begins, you will be given the option to choose between the Standard Controls and the Alternate Controls. The Standard Controls are the default controls for the game, while the Alternate Controls are the controls that were used in the previous God of War games. Choose whichever you are more comfortable with.

The game begins with a cinematic sequence. Kratos is in a prison cell, and he is being tortured by the Furies. Kratos is then taken to the Arena of Ares, where he is forced to fight a Minotaur. Kratos defeats the Minotaur and is then taken to the Labyrinth.

Artifacts

Overview

Fully explore the realms of Midgard, Alfheim, and Helheim to come across special Artifacts that can be collected for added experience. Each find earns a little XP, while a bigger payout is given once you complete the corresponding optional task. There are seven types of Artifacts, each exclusive to a specific region. Once you find a new type, that quest is added to the Goals section of Atreus' journal under the Artifacts Tab. The Artifacts offer no further use to Kratos and can be sold to Brok for Hacksilver.

The following table lists each type of Artifact, along with the total number required, the region where they're found, and the price offered by Brok. The Artifacts are then split up by quest, with the location of every item.

Artifacts
ARTIFACT	# REQUIRED	REGION FOUND	SELL PRICE (HACKSILVER)
Lost Toys	4	Wildwoods	750
Masks	9	River Pass	1000

Artifacts

Lost and Found

Location	Wildwoods
Objective	Collect four Lost Toys
XP Earned	350, plus 10 per Artifact found
Sell Artifact	750 Hacksilver

LOST TOY 1

The first toy is found near home, soon after you head out for a hunt with Atreus. Before crossing the stone bridge, search along the left side to find the boat.

LOST TOY 2

At the courtyard, where stairs lead in four directions, follow the trail to the right. At the far end, a chain leads down into a canyon guarded by a pair of Wolves. Collect the toy horse once they're dispatched.

LOST TOY 3

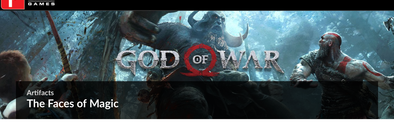

From inside the Wildwoods temple, exit through the tall doors to the east and continue out to a frozen pond. Kill the Rabid Wolves and Draugr before collecting the Lost Toy.

LOST TOY 4

When you return to the house from the deer hunt, search the front yard before going inside. The final Lost Toy can be found by following the right edge of the yard.

Artifacts

The Faces of Magic

Location	River Pass
Objective	Collect nine Seidr Masks
XP Earned	350, plus 10 XP per Artifact found
Sell Artifact	1000 Hacksilver

MASK 1

By killing the bandits and shimmying across the narrow ledge, you escape the Ruins. Before proceeding to the bridge, climb down the chain and move right past a cooking fire. Continue down the rocky ledge until you find a corpse and a Seidr Mask. This puts you back where Atreus fell into the Ruins.

MASK 2

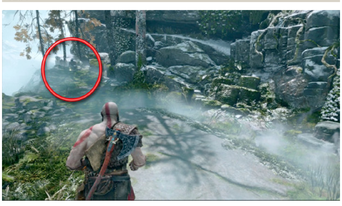

After meeting Brok and testing out his upgrade to Leviathan, search the area to the right. Grab the Seidr Mask next to a fallen soldier on a rock plateau.

MASK 3

After meeting Brok, you must survive a spiked-ceiling trap as you cut through the nearby cave. As you exit, collect the Seidr Mask next to another corpse on the right.

MASK 4

After exiting the spiked-ceiling trap, Kratos and Atreus enjoy a view of the mountain. Search the edge of the cliff to the right to find a mask next to another corpse.

MASK 5

After the sand puzzle, enter the cave and follow the trail to the left. Collect the mask that sits at the end of the path in a pool of water.

MASK 6

After Atreus takes a shot at a wild boar, explore the abandoned village. Find a mask next to a fallen soldier behind the smoldering hut.

MASK 7

After leaving the Witch, explore her cavern before taking the boat. Drop off the southern ledge and pull the big sled east until it falls into the water. Hop across the new rocky platform to find a Seidr Mask.

MASK 8

On your return visit to the Witch with Mimir's head, you must climb out of the cavern to reach her front yard. Follow the stone path toward the house and collect the mask that sits next to a corpse on the right.

MASK 9

During your return visit to the Witch, climb out of the cavern and head down to the front of the turtle. Climb the chain to the north and go northeast to find a Seidr Mask sitting on the other side of the trail.

Artifacts

Abandon Ship

Location	Lake of Nine
Objective	Collect nine Ship Figureheads
XP Earned	615, plus 10 per Artifact found
Sell Artifact	1700 Hacksilver

ORDER OF SHIP FIGUREHEADS

The figureheads are all available after the first water drop and written based on conditions at that time. If they're collected after the water drops again, you must navigate farther and deal with more enemies from the lower dock points. The order we chose here starts with the Artifact at the base of the temple steps and continues as you explore the shores in a clockwise manner. They can be collected in any order.

SHIP FIGUREHEAD 1

Tyr's Temple: After the first water drop at Lake of Nine, dock on the right side of the central temple. The first figurehead rests next to a corpse at the bottom of the steps.

SHIP FIGUREHEAD 2

Lookout Tower: Take a boat to the beach west of Vorsheim Tower to find Lookout Tower. Stick your axe into the rotating boards above the Nornir Chest, quickly recall the weapon, and hit it again to retract the nearby spikes. It's now safe to collect the figurehead next to the corpse.

SHIP FIGUREHEAD 3

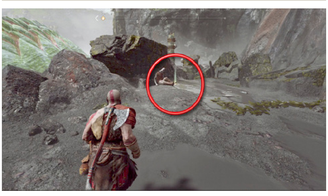

Niflheim Tower: Dock a boat on the right side of Niflheim Tower and ride the elevator to the top. The figurehead rests next to the Mystic Gateway.

SHIP FIGUREHEAD 4

Isle of Death: Dock on the west side of the Isle of Death and climb the cliff on the right. Turn left and approach the molten rock in the corner. Move around until you spot a red jar just behind the rock, and use your axe to detonate it. This reveals the figurehead next to another corpse on the left.

SHIP FIGUREHEAD 5

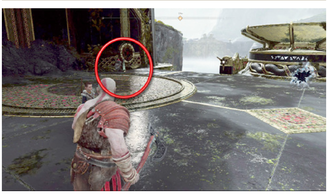

Forgotten Caverns: Paddle onto the beach at Forgotten Caverns and climb the chain on the right. Search to the left to find the Artifact lying next to a corpse.

SHIP FIGUREHEAD 6

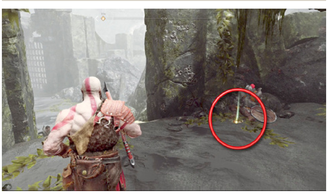

Helheim Tower: Park at the dock on the right side of Helheim Tower and ride the elevator to the top. An Artifact sits on the right next to a corpse. You must kill a group of Hel-Reavers before collecting the figurehead.

SHIP FIGUREHEAD 7

Alfheim Tower: Park a boat at either side of Alfheim Tower and take the elevator to the top. The figurehead rests next to the legs of a corpse.

SHIP FIGUREHEAD 8

Stone Falls: From the Stone Falls beach, move northeast through the open gate and kill the Revenant and Tatzelwurm. Once the area is clear of enemies, climb the short ledge in the eastern corner and collect the Artifact that lies on the ground.

SHIP FIGUREHEAD 9

Cliffs of the Raven: Find the beach at Cliffs of the Raven and disembark onto the island. Just past the deceased Troll, throw the axe through the boards on the side of the cliff and give Atreus a boost into the hole. Once it's available, climb up the chain and search to the northeast to find another Artifact.

Artifacts

Spoils of War

Location	Alfheim
Objective	Collect five Elven Artifacts
XP Earned	615, plus 10 per Artifact found
Sell Artifact	3700 Hacksilver

ELVEN ARTIFACT 1

Find Light Elf Shore on the northwest side of the Lake of Light and disembark. Explore the dead end on the north side to find the first Elven Artifact lying next to a corpse.

ELVEN ARTIFACT 2

Find a second hidden beach to the southwest called Light Elf Sanctuary. Use a lever to open the first gate, and then break the two pods at the second to reach an outdoor ledge with a Realm Tear. Follow the footpath east and south until you reach a tentacle blocking your path. Throw your axe through the three pods to remove the obstacle and collect an Artifact dropped by the nearby Light Elf.

ELVEN ARTIFACT 3

After you defeat the Stone Ancient and extend the bridge, follow the southern bridge first to find an Elven Artifact at the dead end.

ELVEN ARTIFACT 4

After completing the Ringed Temple and using the lift to descend back into the trench, search the cell to the right to find the Elven Artifact.

ELVEN ARTIFACT 5

From the lift, pry open the door to the south and move into the next area. Fight your way to the southeast to find a gap in the walkway. Hit the crystal with a Light Arrow and cross the bridge. Throw your axe at the discs above to drop the crystal, and kill the Draugr that are released. Head into the cell directly across from where you entered and collect the Artifact.

ELVEN ARTIFACT 6

If you haven't completed the quest, there's a sixth Artifact available inside another cell. While navigating back through the trench, stop at the Nornir Chest and use the wheel to lower the floor. Freeze it with your axe and run through the opening ahead. The Artifact sits in the cell straight ahead.

Artifacts

Bottoms Up

Location	The Mountain
Objective	Collect six Cups
XP Earned	615, plus 10 per Artifact found
Sell Artifact	5000 Hacksilver

CUP 1

Soon after stepping inside the dark caves of the Mountain, you enter a large cavern. Fight your way through the Revenant and Draugr to the east side to find a dilapidated door. Bust inside and search behind the overturned table for the first Cup.

CUP 2

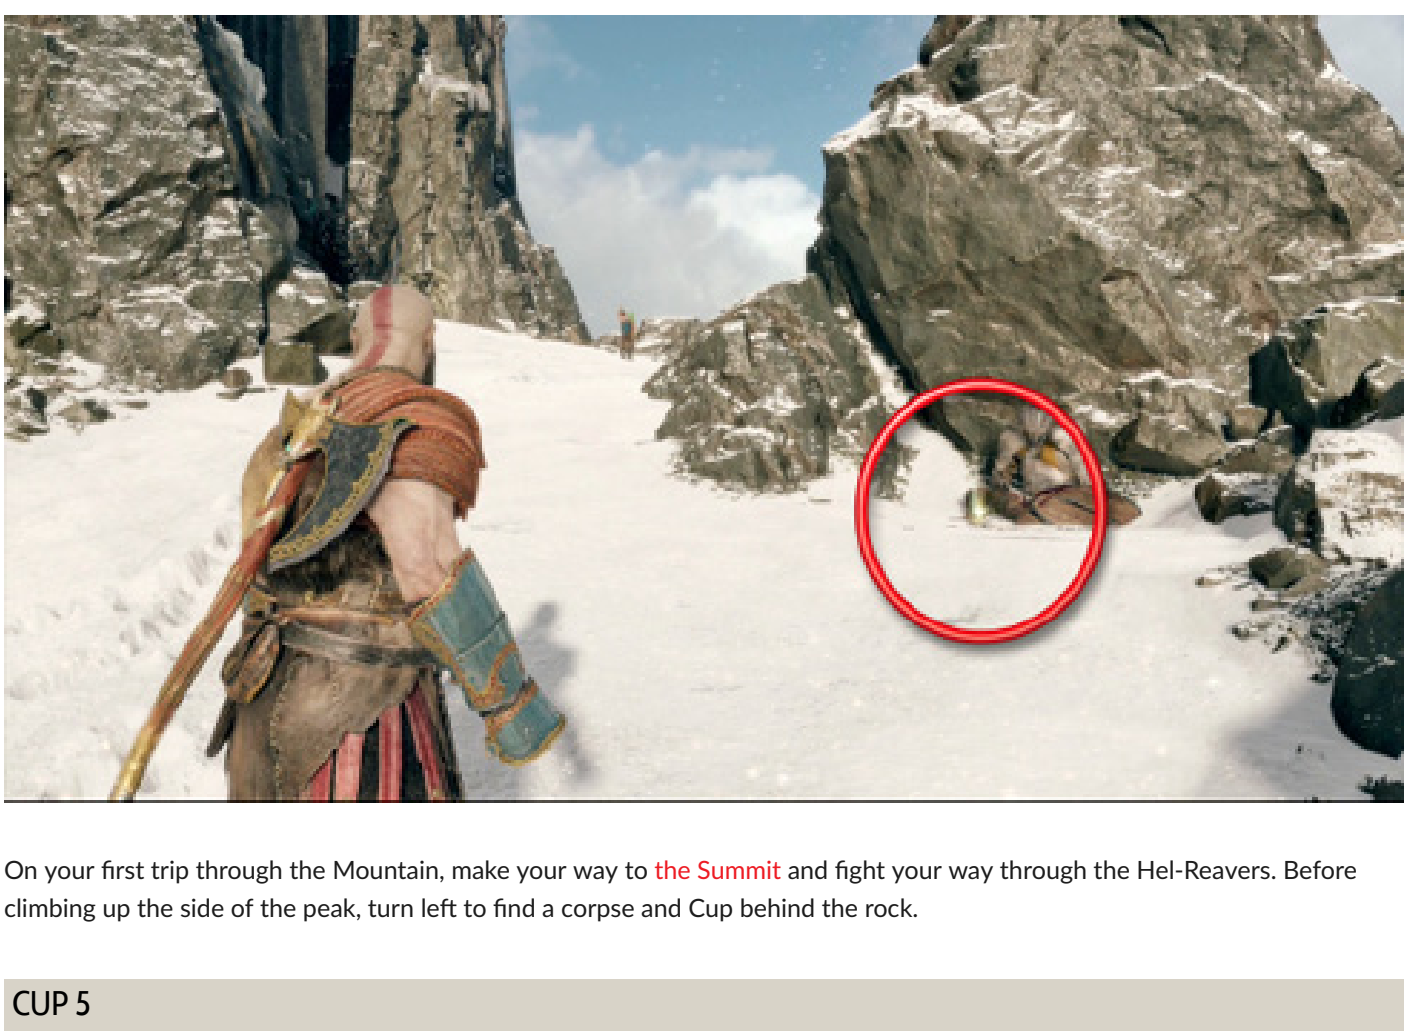

Push the mining cart in the mine to uncover a spiked door on the wall. Toss Leviathan to bang the door open and reveal an alcove. Inside, the Artifact sits on the ground next to a fallen soldier.

CUP 3

After receiving the Shock Arrows and entering the Mountain, you come across a crank-wheel that lifts a crane bucket, but sap currently makes it immobile. Shoot the Shatter Crystal with a Shock Arrow to free it up, then move past the bucket to find a Cup.

CUP 4

On your first trip through the Mountain, make your way to the Summit and fight your way through the Hel-Reavers. Before climbing up the side of the peak, turn left to find a corpse and Cup behind the rock.

CUP 5

Return to the Mountain with the Chisel and Black Rune and make your way back to the Heart of the Mountain. After clearing out the enemies, look for the Shatter Crystal north of the entrance. Detonate it with a Shock Arrow and collect the Cup from inside.

CUP 6

Not long after defeating the Frost Ancient, you must shimmy across a narrow ledge to reach Sindri and the exit to the Summit. Before the narrow ledge, collect the Cup that sits near the edge on the left.

Artifacts

Horns of Veithurgard

Location	Veithurgard
Objective	Collect six Horns
XP Earned	615, plus 10 per Artifact found

HORN 1

After docking at the Veithurgard beach and clearing out the enemies, follow the pier to the far end to find the first Horn. A low-level Projectile Draugr blocks your way, so quickly take it down.

HORN 2

Open the gate west of the Veithurgard beach and climb to the upper ledge. After closing the Realm Tear, drop down and bust through the broken boards on the right to find a Horn.

HORN 3

In the middle of Veithurgard, at the top of the main steps, an anchor attempts to hold Otr the Dragon in place. Go east from the anchor and search between the corpse and crates on the right to find the Horn. Any Reavers in the immediate area must be killed before you collect the Artifact.

HORN 4

A stone bridge that leads to the castle on the southeast side of Veithurgard has been destroyed. You're unable to cross to the east side until an explosive is detonated on the other side, but that's not necessary to get the Artifact, as it rests next to a corpse on the west side.

HORN 5

Solve the rune puzzle to enter the castle on the southeast side of Veithurgard. Kill the Reavers along the way as you move up the steps, left of the Jötnar Shrine. The Horn lies on the floor next to a corpse.

HORN 6

After destroying the third shrine, re-enter the castle and interact with the lever to drain the water. Descend to the lower floor and collect the Horn that rests next to a corpse.

Artifacts

Family Heirloom

Location	Helheim
Objective	Collect five Brooches
XP Earned	1075, plus 10 per Artifact found
Sell Artifact	10000 Hacksilver

BROOCH 1

Just after entering the realm of Helheim, head right to find the first Brooch. Defeat any Hel-Walkers in the area before collecting the Artifact.

BROOCH 2

While traversing the bridge toward the Guardian, you're diverted to the side and eventually reach an open area with tall pillars. Look on the backside of the first pillar to find a Brooch stuck on with Hel's Bramble. Use the Blades of Chaos to knock it down.

BROOCH 3

After climbing out of the sunken arena where you faced the Hel-Viken, burn through the Brambles and pass through a narrow passage. Follow the path and spot more Brambles up high on the underside of the walkway bridge. Burn them to drop a Brooch to the ground for pickup.

BROOCH 4

Return to Helheim with Atreus and make your way to the far end, just before the gate where you first learned to harness the Winds of Hel. Steps lead up from the middle of the bridge to a narrow walkway. Fire a Shock Arrow at the Shatter Crystal to the left. This gets you inside the Hidden Chamber of Odin; a Brooch lies on the ground just beyond the Shatter Crystal.

BROOCH 5

Ride the elevator down to the lower floor of the Hidden Chamber of Odin. Climb the steps to the balcony and search the left corner for the final Brooch.

Labors

Overview

Labors are a category of optional content inGod of War, consisting of collectibles, kill counts, Skill-based accomplishments, the Muspelheim Trials, and a few other exploration quests.

Notifications pop up on-screen when a new Labor is started or when progress is made. Select Labors from the Goals Tab in your journal to check your progress. In this chapter, we've split the Labors up into the same categories shown in your Labors Menu: Crafting, Skill, Kill, World, and Muspelheim. Note that some of the Labors cannot be completed until you've finished The Journey.

WEAPON UPGRADE

LEVIATHAN WAKES

Objective	Collect Frozen Flames and pgrade the Leviathan Axe
Reward	3290 XP

For completing certain tasks, Kratos receives Frozen Flames, which Brok and Sindri can use to upgrade the Leviathan Axe. With this resource in your inventory, talk to either brother and select the weapon upgrade to increase the axe's strength and unlock new Skills. Frozen Flames are earned by completing the following:

- Meet Brok after escaping the Ruins
- Defeat the Ogre on first trip to Foothills
- Defeat Járn Fótr in Heart of the Mountain
- Defeat Magni and Modi at Thamur's Corpse
- Purchased from Shop w/Chilling Mists of Niflheim (Found in Niflheim Center Chamber Legendary Chest in exchange for 5000 Mist Echoes.)

CHAOS AND CONFLAGRATION

Objective	Collect Chaos Flames and upgrade the Blades of Chaos
Reward	3290 XP

Complete certain tasks to receive Chaos Flames, which can be taken to Brok or Sindri in exchange for an upgrade to the Blades. Each upgrade increases the weapon's strength and unlocks new Skills. Earn a Chaos Flame for the following:

- Defeat Máttugr Helson in Helheim
- Defeat the Trolls in Týr's Vault after collecting the Black Rune Stone
- Defeat the Hel-Traveler during escape of Helheim
- Purchased from Shop w/Raging Inferno of Muspelheim (Earned by defeating Valkyrie Göndul at the top of Muspelheim)

ARMOR

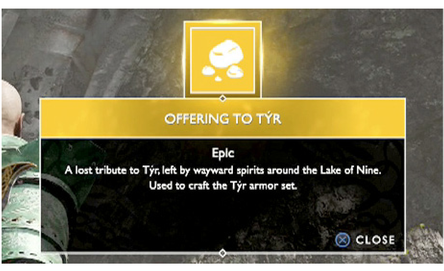

HEARTS OF STONE

Objective	Bring the Ancient's Heart to Brok or Sindri
Reward	350 XP, Ancient Armor Set Recipe

Defeat and loot an Ancient to find an Ancient's Heart. Note that the Soul Eater and Soul Devourer do not drop this item. The Stone Ancient inside the Alfheim temple is the first opportunity to find this item during the Journey. Collect their dropped Ancient's Rubble too in order to craft the armor.

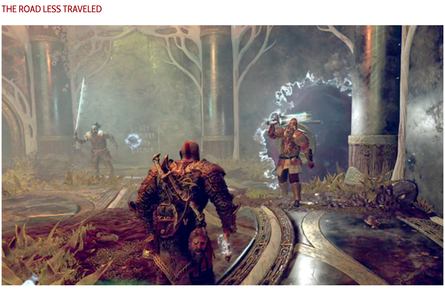

JUSTICE AND WAR

Objective	Bring an Offering to Týr to Brok or Sindri
Reward	350 XP

Completing three of the Wayward Spirit Favors—"Anatomy of Hope," "Dead Freight," and "Hammer Fall"—earns an Offering to Týr. Return them to Brok or Sindri, and they can craft three new armor pieces: Týr's Lost Unity Cuirass, Týr's Lost Unity Gauntlets, and Týr's Lost Unity Belt.

THE ROAD LESS TRAVELED

Objective	Visit Brok or Sindri with the Traveler resources
Reward	350 XP, Traveler Armor Set Recipe

Travelers drop valuable resources when defeated, including Traveler's Grisly Trophy and Traveler's Armor Shard. Bring the resources back to Brok or Sindri, and they can make a nice Legendary armor set. This can be started after reaching the summit the first time in the Journey by looting a Traveler, such as the Traveler Champion at Thamur's Corpse.

Labors

Skill

A set of Labors are earned by using specific Skills during combat or killing in certain ways. The Labors are split into three goals —Bronze, Silver, and Gold—with XP earned for each.

LABOR	HOW TO COMPLETE	BRONZE GOAL (XP)	SILVER GOAL (XP)	GOLD GOAL (XP)
Judgment of Fire	Kill burning enemies. Light enemies on fire and then kill them. Note that Primordial enemies are resistant to fire.	25 (200)	50 (350)	100 (615)
Shatterer	Shatter frozen enemies. Freeze enemies by throwing your axe at them with R2, then attack them when frozen. Only works on enemies that can be shattered. Typically this means foes that are smaller than a Wulver, but not Hel-Walker.	25 (200)	50 (350)	100 (615)
Summoner	Summon an ally. Equip a summon for Atreus, then hold Square to use the Skill.	25 (200)	50 (350)	100 (615)
Against the Wall	Wall-pin an enemy by throwing your axe with R2 when the enemy is close to a wall.	25 (200)	50 (350)	100 (615)
Quick Reflexes	Parry attacks. Parry incoming attacks by blocking with L1 shortly before impact.	25 (200)	50 (350)	100 (615)
Reaper	Cleave-kill enemies. Cleave enemies by holding R2 with the axe. The attack is easy to avoid and interrupt, so be sure the opening is there.	25 (200)	50 (350)	100 (615)
Touch of Death	Stun Grab enemies. When enemies are stunned and flash red, press R3 to grab them and deal massive damage.	25 (200)	50 (350)	100 (615)
Talisman Tinkerer	Use your Talisman Abilities by pressing L1 + Circle. Requires a Talisman with an ability.	50 (200)	100 (350)	200 (615)
Last One Standing	Trip enemies by throwing your axe with R1 at their legs. Only works on smaller enemies.	25 (200)	50 (350)	100 (615)

Valor Walkthrough

EXPLORING THE LAKE OF NINE

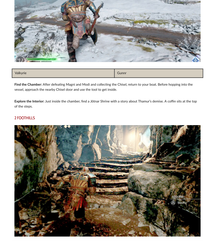

Objective	Discover eight islands and beaches
Reward	1865 XP

Once the World Serpent emerges from the lake, the water recedes, exposing a number of islands and beaches. Each is full of treasure, monsters, and other opportunities. Visit the following areas of Lake of Nine to complete this Labor.

- Ran's Storeroom
- Cliffs of the Raven
- Forgotten Caverns
- Iron Cove
- Isle of Death
- Light Of Outpost
- Lookout Tower
- Ruins of the Ancient
- Stone Path

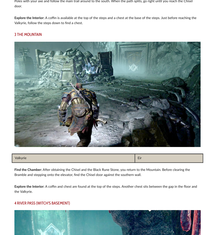

HIDDEN CHAMBERS

Objective	Find and enter all seven of the Hidden Chambers
Reward	1865 XP

There are seven locked doors throughout the Lake Nine area. Each one has the Chisel, use it to unlock the magic doors and explore the interior. To complete this Labor, you only need to get inside (earning a little XP once there), but each location offers a number of chests or gifts. In six of these chambers, a Valkyrie waits in the dark; the seventh holds a Realm Tear.

1 THARUK'S CORPSE

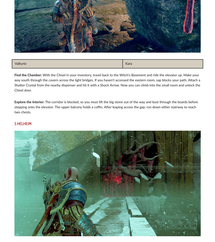

Valkyrie	Gunn

Find the Chamber. After defeating Magni and Modi and collecting the Chisel, return to your boat. Before hoping into the stream, approach the nearby Chisel door and use the tool to get inside.

Explore the Interior. Just inside the chamber, find a Silver Shrine with a story about Thamur's demise. A coffin sits at the top of the steps.

2 TOOTHILL

Valkyrie	Quadhy

Find the Chamber. Return to the Foothills area you found the Chisel. Climb the cliff to the southwest. Freeze the Scorn Flotes with your axe and follow the main trail around to the south. When the path splits, go right until you reach the Chisel door.

Explore the Interior. A coffin is available at the top of the steps and a chest at the base of the steps. Just before reaching the Valkyrie, follow the steps down to find a chest.

3 THE MOUNTAIN

Valkyrie	Sir

Find the Chamber. After obtaining the Chisel and the Black Rune Stone, you return to the Mountain. Before clearing the Bramble and snagging one of the shrines, find the Chisel door against the southern wall.

Explore the Interior. A coffin and chest are found at the top of the steps. Another chest sits between the gap in the floor and the Valkyrie.

4 RIVER PASS (WITCH'S SEGMENT)

Valkyrie	Kara

Find the Chamber. With the Chisel in your inventory, travel back to the Witch's Basement and ride the elevator up. Make your way south through the cavern across the light bridges. If you haven't activated the eastern rooms, cap blocks your path. Attach a Shatter Crystal from the nearby chamber and activate it with a Shock Arrow. Now you can climb into the small room and enclose the Chisel door.

Explore the Interior. The corridor is blocked, so you must lift the big stone out of the way and blast through the boards before stepping onto the elevator. The upper balcony holds a coffin. After leaping across the gap, you must defeat Valkyrie to reach two chests.

5 HELHEIM

Valkyrie	Kara

Find the Chamber. Return to Helheim with Atreus and make your way to the far end, just before the gate where you first learned to harness the Whistle of the Dead. Look up from the middle of the bridge to a narrow walkway. Fire a Shock Arrow at the Shatter Crystal to the left. This gets you inside the Hidden Chamber of Odin; no need to use the Chisel.

Explore the Interior. A Bronze ribs on the ground just before the Shatter Crystal. A Raven is also found perched above. At the lower level, climb the stairs to find the final Bronze, a coffin, and a Raven perched on the frame above.

6 ALFHEIM

Valkyrie	Freya

Find the Chamber. Cross the bridge into Alfheim, paddle into the Lake of Light, and head northwest to find a hidden beach called Light Elf Shore. Run southwest into the tunnel, past a Vanaheim, and use the Chisel on the door to find a hidden Chamber of Odin.

Explore the Interior. Look across the water to the Muspelheim Lava Flows and locate a Light Elf Chest on the far side of the lava. Two more chests are available just before the Valkyrie.

7 WILDWOODS

Valkyrie	-

Find the Chamber. From the Whitewash Murals Gateway, run into Kratos' backyard, cut away the Hel's Bramble with your Blades, and climb the ladder. Take out the Heavy Group, Group, Dyvard, and Hel Horse or their bases spawned into the garden. Drop off the opposite side, of smashed Heavy Group and Group Dyvard, and turn left to find a Chisel door.

Explore the Interior. Don't miss the big cache of Nordicium near the entrance, turn right at the bottom of the steps. After riding the elevator down, find a coffin at the top of the stairs. After hopping the gap to the floor, go downstairs to find two chests and a Realm Tear. Finally, find a Light Elf Chest on the ground floor, just before the Valkyrie. Before you leave, you must clear a Realm Tear (x3 Bronze Summons, 2 Heavy Explosive Drops, x3 Speed Group) as part of the "Wildwoo to Another World" Labor. Before taking on the challenge, collect a Scroll (A Thief's Testimony) sitting near the back of the chamber.

LIGHT OF THE WORLD

Objective	Light Tor's eight bracers on the realm towers around the Lake of Nine
Reward	1880 XP, 615 XP per bracer

Typically, eight realm towers stand around the perimeter of Lake of Nine, though one tower is missing when you first reach the realm, hopped-ning an area progress through this Journey.

Each tower holds a pair of bracers that must be lit to complete the Labor. Before they can be lit, Atreus must translate the scene written on each. Upon first arrival, he's only able to translate one. In order to read the rest, you must collect the sets of Witness and Muspelheim Language Cylinders (complete the two Quests, "The Realm of Fire" and "The Realm of Fire").

Most towers can be ascended by riding one of the elevators found on the sides of the structures. Sometimes the elevator is blocked or deactivated at the bottom and you must find another way to the top. If the gate at the top of the tower isn't activated, you may be able to access it from below. Refer to the Lake of Nine Exploration chapter for details on each location.

Once the Language Cylders have been collected, approach each bracer and press Square. Atreus translates the runes and the fire is lit.

FREE DRAGONS

Objective	Slay the three Cloaked Dragons
Reward	500 XP, Resource—Dragon Tear, and an Enchantment per dragon, 615 XP once all three have been freed

Three dragons are chained up around Midgard, and it's up to Kratos and Atreus to free them. Oh is located at Nithavellir, and Bygne is found on the north side of Vanaheim Stronghold. The third, Wrist, is found on the north side of Lake of Nine through a large gate, right of the Njord's Darkroom.

Each of these dragons has an associated Force that's activated as you approach the dragon. It's best to work your way through the Frakka Brethren Swarm and start "Hail to the King" before heading to Vanaheim Stronghold.

In order to access Nithavellir, you must use a wheel at Stone Path to open a massive gate in northwestern Lake of Nine. Be sure to talk to the seaweed spirit next to the wheel in order to begin another Force, "Hammer Fall," which also takes place at Nithavellir.

MORE THAN MYTH

First Available	Find a Mirror Shrine
Objective	Find all Mirror shrines
Reward	1880 XP, 615 per Shrine

Find the 11 Mirror Shrines left behind by the Giants as you explore the Nine realms. Atreus logs each one into the Lore portion of the Codex tab of the Journal. Refer to the Appendices for locations of all 11 shrines.

MOUNTAIN HIGH

First Available	Collect four Muspelheim Language Cylders and travel to Muspelheim
Objective	Get to the top of Muspelheim
Reward	1880 XP

Mountain High requires that you climb to the top of the Muspelheim Volcano where the final trial takes place. A fight against a Valkyrie. Along the way, you must survive 10 Normal and Hard trials. Complete Trial V: Hand and climb to the final arena to score this Labor.

Cove Brute Tears

Objective	Cove Defense Tears
Reward

Enemies	Ordered Order	Encounters
Brutes	4	1/1/1
Boomers	2	1/1
Locusts	10	1/2/2

This fight starts immediately upon exit of the tunnel in the last set of cover. There are two enemies by the door, two on the left, and two on the right. Two more will spawn from the tunnel behind you, and two more will spawn on the upper of stairway that spans from the door. Of all these the brutes of the spawned monsters. Note that enemies must be killed before they can spawn. Kill the two by the door, and the two on the left.

Kill the Brute Tyrus towards the end, using the point of the Lancer to Brutes. Use a Retro Lancer to kill the Boomer of Reyna's. Once locusts are down move onto the next set of cover.

Take the Boomer out of Tyrus' hand and use it to kill the Boomer. Reload if you need to for a challenge in this section if you like. Finally, the big push comes with the jumping over obstacles on the upside here.

This chapter covers the islands, beaches, and towers of Lake of Nine, including the enemies and treasure found at each location, along with how to navigate them. We run through each site accessible from the shores of Lake of Nine and describe the differences between high-water and low-water levels.

Nine Ship Figureheads are hidden around the lake and required for completing the Artifact quest "Abandon Ship." We mention the Artifacts in this chapter, but for location details, refer to the Artifacts chapter.

Don't forget to light the braziers atop the eight realm towers. Refer to the Labors chapter for more information.

Note that the enemies we list for each location do not include monsters spawned due to a quest, such as those from the "Dead Freight" and "Unfinished Business" Favors. Only enemies outside of the Journey, Favors, and Labors are included.

At the end of this chapter, we also cover Veithurgard Pass, the landmass that connects Lake of Nine to Veithurgard.

RESOURCES FLOATING IN THE LAKE

There are four types of resources available as you boat around the lake. The Yggdrasil's Dew permanently increases your Strength, Runic, Defense, Vitality, Cooldown, or Luck—based on the name of the resource.

WHAT TO LOOK FOR	RESOURCE	WHAT IT'S USED FOR
Corpse floating on raft	Aegir's Gold	Upgrade armor, buy Runic Attacks
Bubbling water	Aegir's Gold	Upgrade armor, buy Runic Attacks
Barrel	Hacksilver	Main currency
White bulb hanging from tree	Yggdrasil's Dew	Increases a stat by 2

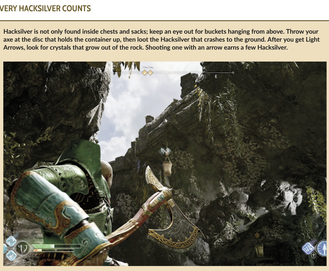

HIGH-LEVEL ENEMIES

Take caution when exploring the lake with mid-to-high level enemies occupying some of the beaches and islands. Tough Draugr hang out at Buri's Storeroom after the second water drop, but visit later in the game and high-level Draugr join a Traveler for a bigger challenge. At Cliffs of the Raven, Level 8 Tatzelwurms and Dark Elves spawn at the back beach. After defeating the Stone Trolls in Tyr's Vault, another Stone Troll named Death Eater comes to life at the beach between Helheim Tower and Mason's Channel. The minor and major grunts may respawn after 30 minutes or so.

We begin our coverage with Tyr's Temple, located in the middle of the lake. From there we go south to Vanaheim Tower and continue in a clockwise manner around the lake, touching on every realm tower, beach, and island accessible from the lake.

EVERY HACKSILVER COUNTS

Hacksilver is not only found inside chests and sacks; keep an eye out for buckets hanging from above. Throw your axe at the disc that holds the container up, then loot the Hacksilver that crashes to the ground. After you get Light Arrows, look for crystals that grow out of the rock. Shooting one with an arrow earns a few Hacksilver.

Lake of Nine Exploration

Týr's Temple

First Available	First water drop
Enemies	None
Notable	Brok's Shop, realm travel, Týr's Vault
Artifact	Yes
Loot	Blade of Chaos Pommel—Weightless War Handles

Týr's Temple should be your first stop after interacting with the World Serpent. Brok has set up a shop inside and introduces you to Mystic Gateways. At first, you can only travel from any discovered gateway back to Brok's shop. Later in the Journey, you gain the ability to travel between any two gateways.

As you progress through the Journey, you discover more secrets of the temple. Once you obtain Light Arrows, you can access the travel room, where travel between the realms is possible with the Bifröst. The following realms become available as you progress through the game.

REALM	WHEN ACCESSIBLE
Alfheim	Early Journey destination
Helheim	Middle Journey destination
Jötunheim	Late Journey destination
Muspelheim	Collect four Muspelheim Language Ciphers ("The Realm of Fire" Favor)
Niflheim	Collect four Niflheim Language Ciphers ("The Realm of Fog" Favor)

Explore Týr's Vault as part of the Journey, and later on you manipulate the temple in order to reach the final realm.

An Artifact sits at the base of the upper steps on the right side as you look at the temple. Once you get the Blades of Chaos, run around to the backside of the lower level to find a Legendary Chest (Blades of Chaos Pommel—Weightless War Handles) covered in Hel's Bramble.

Lake of Nine Exploration

Vanaheim Tower

First Available	First water drop
Enemies	None
Notable	Foothills access, tower braziers
Artifact	No
Elevators	Accessible on both sides

High Water: Throughout much of the game, the temple's bridge leads directly to Vanaheim Tower. Passing through the tower gate leads to the Foothills, a required trip at multiple points during your Journey. Two common chests sit next to the gate, so be sure to loot the Hacksilver.

At first the tower is only accessible from the bridge, though the elevators are functional. Both start out in the up position, and the recall levers are deactivated. Once they've been ridden down, they can be recalled from any point.

The right dock connects to Lookout Tower, so it cannot be reached directly by boat. Take the right elevator down and climb the chain. Toss the axe at the red jar to clear the path, allowing direct access between Vanaheim and Lookout Towers.

Low Water: The tower is almost identical after the second water drop, except the right dock is accessible by boat.

Lookout Tower

First Available	First water drop
Enemies	Nightmares, Revenant
Notable	Nornir Chest, Treasure Map (Hunter's Kingdom), Niflheim Language Cipher ("The Realm of Fog"—second drop), Mystic Gateway, Jötnar Shrine (Thrym—second drop), treasure (Kneel Before Thor!), Muspelheim Language Cipher ("The Realm of Fire"—second drop)
Artifact	Yes
Loot	Iðunn Apple

High Water: At first, you can only access one area of Lookout Tower, from the right elevator of Vanaheim Tower or by paddling up to the dock. Kill the pair of Nightmares that fly around the shore, and collect the Treasure Map before focusing on the Nornir Chest.

NORNIR CHEST

Spot the rotating board on the side of the cliff, above the Nornir Chest. Hitting it with your axe disengages the spikes that surround the rune bells, as well as an Artifact that sits next to the corpse. Hit it a second time to maximize the time before the spikes re-engage.

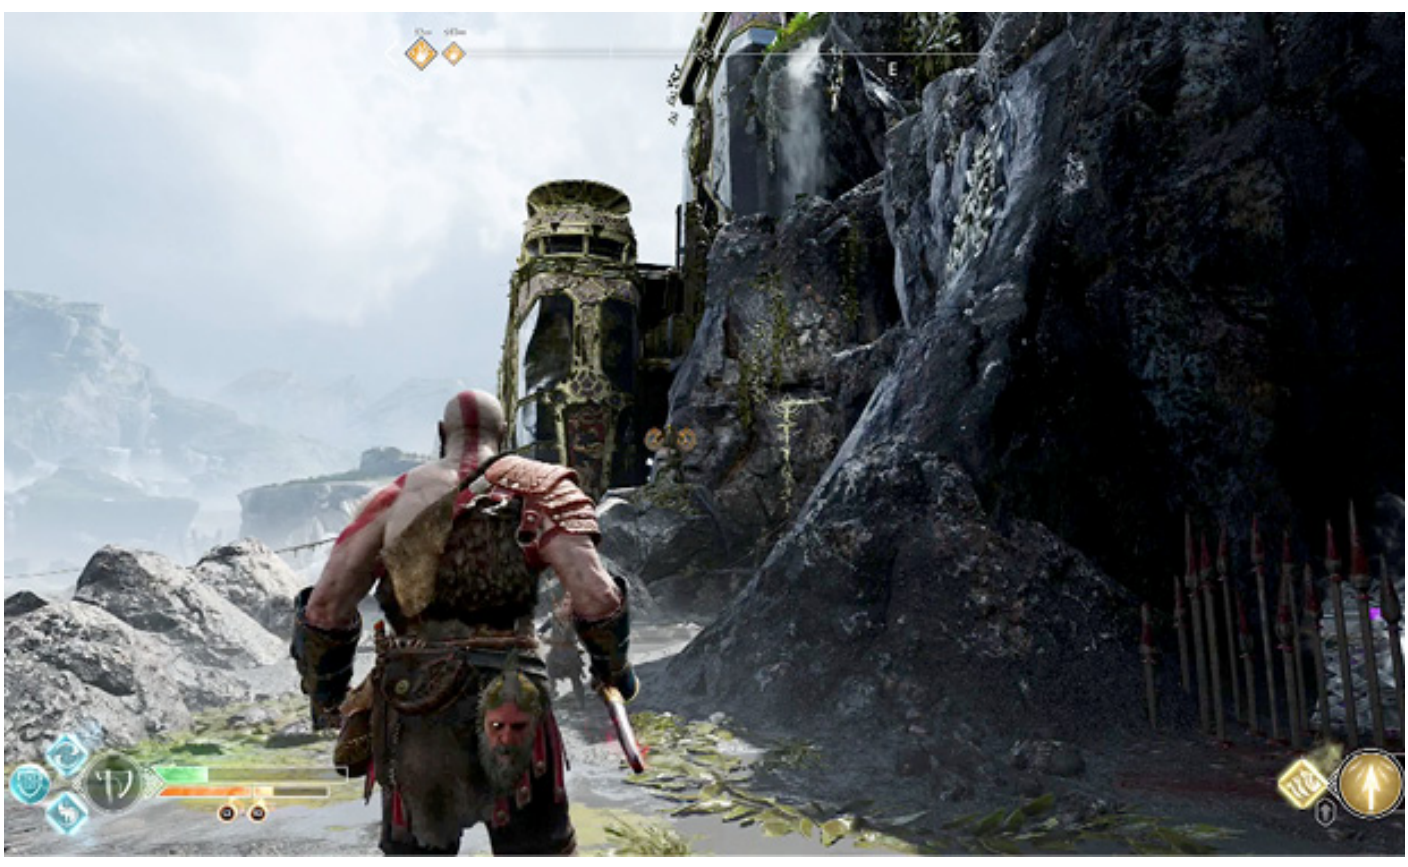

Look left and throw the axe at the first bell on the ledge, recall the axe, and quickly rotate to the right to find the second bell. After the second is hit, continue spinning to the right and aim above the third bell in the distance. Hit it to unlock the chest.

Low Water: Park your boat at the beach and spot the rotating paddles on the ledge to the left. These disengage/engage spikes found throughout the climb up Lookout Tower. Watch out for a few Nightmares as you explore the area. Note that there's a Mystic Gateway inside a small cubbyhole straight ahead of your boat.

Hit the paddle with your axe twice and head west to find a Legendary Chest (Niflheim Language Cipher). Return to your boat, throw your axe at the paddle, and scale the wall ahead.

Turn around and hit the paddle again with your axe. Now you can hop across the gap and continue your climb up Lookout Tower. Punch through the boards ahead for a common chest and kick the chain down on the left. This returns you to the beach that was accessible before the second water drop. Refer to the high-water entry for more information.

ACCESSING MUSPELHEIM TOWER

Continue your climb up the right cliff all the way to the top, and slide down the zip line to find a new beach to the west. Kill the Revenant and Nightmares before accessing the Jötnar Shrine and digging up the treasure to the right.

Climb the ladder to the west to end up directly behind Muspelheim Tower. Loot the Legendary Chest (Muspelheim Language) before passing through the tower gate.

Lake of Nine Exploration

Muspelheim Tower

First Available	Second water drop (from Lookout Tower)
Enemies	Hel-Traveler
Notable	Mystic Gateway, tower braziers
Artifact	No
Elevators	Right only, inaccessible until used at top

High Water: Only the right elevator ever functions at this tower, and it starts out at the top. The recall lever is disabled at the dock; therefore, you must find a way through the tower gate to access the tower. At this point, you cannot reach the top of Muspelheim Tower.

TO WITCH'S CAVERN

The waterway that connects the Witch's Cave to the Lake of Nine runs between Lookout Tower and Muspelheim Tower.

Low Water: Access the tower through the gate by climbing the nearby cliffs. Refer to the previous "Lookout Tower" entry. Find a Mystic Gateway to the right and a Hel-Traveler between the braziers.

Lake of Nine Exploration

Niflheim Tower

First Available	First water drop
Enemies	None
Notable	Realm Tear, Mystic Gateway, tower braziers
Artifact	Yes
Elevators	Always accessible on right

High Water: Ride the right elevator up to find a Realm Tear, Artifact, and Mystic Gateway. The left elevator is never available.

Low Water: The tower is identical at both water levels. A new waterway is accessible just east of the tower, called Landsuther Canyon. It leads to Landsuther Mines, which is your destination for Brok's second Favor, "Deus Ex Malachite."

Lake of Nine Exploration

Isle of Death

First Available	First water drop
Enemies	Revenants
Notable	Brazier (“Unfinished Business”), treasure, Legendary Chest, treasure (The Boat Captain’s Key)
Artifact	Yes
Loot	Blades of Chaos Pommel—Explosive Grips of Fire, Axe Pommel—Ymir’s Breath

High Water: Dock your boat on the northwest side of the island and scale the wall to the top level, where there are a few items to take care of. To the left, use your axe to detonate the explosive and expose an Artifact.

Cut through the hollowed-out ship wreckage until you reach a zip line, and hit another red jar on the left to clear out the surrounding rock. Now you can climb the outside to find a coffin atop the ship. The buried treasure from the Boat Captain’s Key Treasure Map is found under the wreckage.

On the west side, a brazier can be lit as part of the “Unfinished Business” Favor, and a Legendary Chest is covered in Hel’s Bramble, though the Blades of Chaos are required to get inside. Remember the two zip lines for later, since they lead nowhere at the moment.

Low Water: The second drop in water reveals much more of the island; ride a boat onto the north beach. Eliminate the two Revenants and then fling your axe south at the lit red jar to clear the path. There’s a coffin just east from your boat that’s currently inaccessible. Look for the red jar behind the container and slip your axe through the small opening to detonate the explosive. If you have trouble getting it, you’ll have an easier shot later on from the nearby plateau.

Move into the southern area and look up and to the right to spot a hanging lantern. Use your axe to drop it onto the Scorn Pole, allowing you to loot the resources from the coffin. Climb the wall to the northeast.

Climb the ship wreckage for a common chest before leaping to the west. Look for another lit red jar to the right, and hit it with your axe to destroy the Scorn Pole. Loot the resources from the coffin and scale the nearby cliff to end up at the high-water dock.

A new Mystic Gateway is available by dropping off the southwest side of the dock. Take note of the platforms that hang from the cranes to the north; they’re used to access Asgard Tower. Refer to the following “Asgard Tower” section for more details.

PREVIOUSLY AVAILABLE

Scale the nearby wall to reach the upper level. Much of what you see on this plateau was accessible before the second water drop; refer to the high-water entry for more information. Use your Blades of Chaos on the Hel’s Bramble next to the brazier to access the Legendary Chest (Blades of Chaos Pommel—Explosive Grips of Fire).

Move under the ship wreckage and slide down the zip line to access the east portion of the island. Loot the common chest and Legendary Chest (Axe Pommel—Ymir’s Breath) before hitting the explosive to the west and returning to the top level of the island that you just left. Use the zip line on the south side to reach a new section of Iron Cove.

Lake of Nine Exploration

Iron Cove

First Available	First water drop
Enemies	Poison Wolves, Wulver, Fire Ancient
Notable	Brazier (“Unfinished Business”), Realm Tear (second drop), Treasure Map (Creation Island—second drop), runic door
Artifact	No
Loot	Axe Runic Attack—Mists of Helheim, Resource—Pristine Ore of the Realm

High Water: There’s only one area of the beach accessible at this point. Disembark at the east dock to find another brazier for the “Unfinished Business” Favor.

Low Water: Ride the zip line off the south side of Isle of Death to reach the northern portion of Iron Cove. Detonate the explosive ahead to clear out the Scorn Pole and scale the cliff.

Knock down the lit lantern that hangs from the mast ahead to clear a path to the ship wreckage. A lone Wulver attacks, so deal with it before climbing onto the front of the ship to the left. Turn around and throw your axe at another red jar next to the rear of the ship. Climb onto the ship’s stern and look over the right side to find a pair of explosive jars. Hit them to reveal a coffin.

Jump across to the bow and look right, where three runes are lit up above a runic door; take note of the three letters. Now turn around and spot a couple more explosives below. Detonate them to free up one of three rune towers around the area. By hitting the attached paddles, you can rotate through a series of runes. The three towers need to match the three runes above the door.

RUNIC DOOR

- Return to the stern and look northwest to spot another rune tower. Throw your axe at the right paddle one time to change the rune to a thorn (the right rune in our image).
- Drop to the ground and loot the coffin you freed. Turn southeast and fling the axe at the paddle to change the rune to a sowilo (the left rune in our image).
- Head west and scale the wall to reach the runic door and a whole lot of poison being spewed out of a few Scorn Poles. First, turn around and spot the third rune tower to the east. Hit the paddles to change the rune to a birch (the middle rune in our image).
- Face the runic door, use your axe to drop an explosive onto the left pole, and detonate a red jar that sits next to the right pole. A third Scorn Pole is farther to the left, so hit the nearby jar to rid the area of the nuisance. Watch out for the Poison Wolves that emerge from the destruction.
- Open the door to find a pile of rock and explosive red jars. Step back and toss the axe at one to clear the room. Now loot the Legendary Chest (Axe Runic Attack—Mists of Helheim and Resource—Pristine Ore of the Realm).

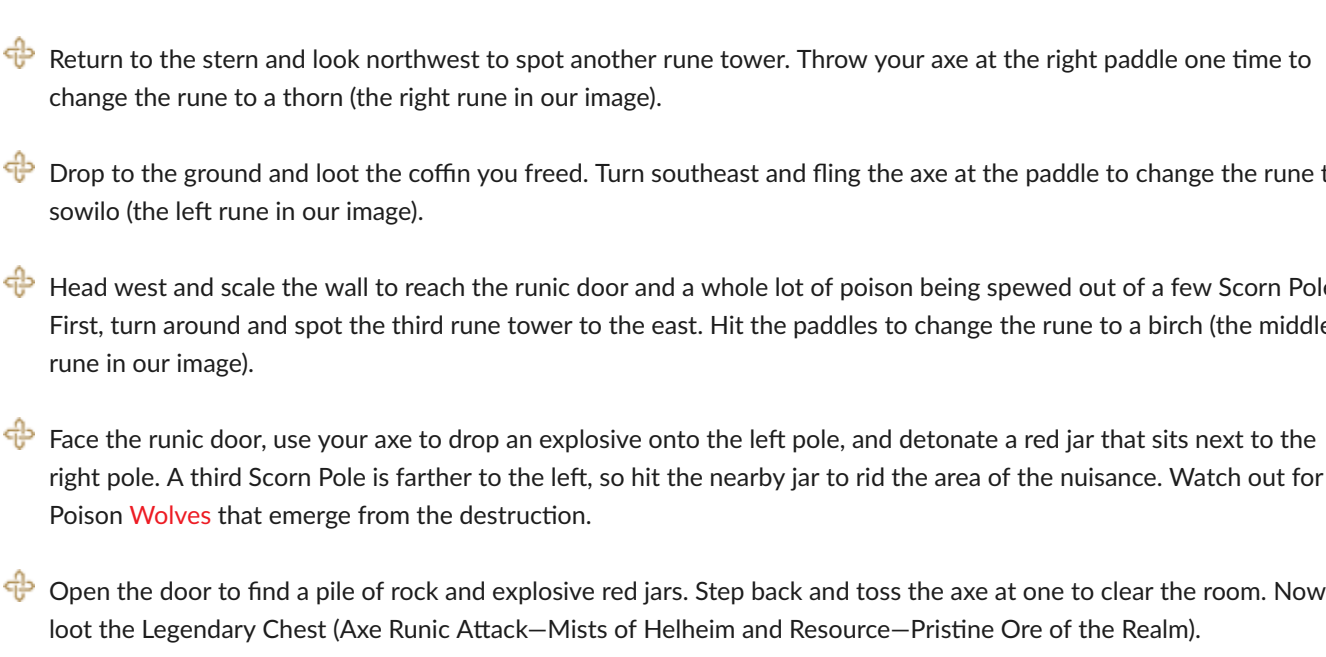

Head northeast to reach the original beach of Iron Cove that was accessible before the second water drop. A brazier (“Unfinished Business”) is the only notable item, though a new coffin has been revealed next to the high-water dock. Climb off the end of the dock, shimmy to the right, and drop down. Loot the resources before moving on.

NEW SOUTHERN BEACH

Turn left instead of climbing to the runic door to find a chest on the right ledge. Detonate the red jar to clear the path down to a new beach, which is also accessible by boat. A Treasure Map sits on the right as you approach the main shore.

Two coffins are buried under rock next to explosive red jars, which can be detonated with your axe. Be careful, though, as a sleeping Fire Ancient will take notice.

FIRE ANCIENT

The Fire Ancient possesses the same attacks as other Ancients, so be ready to avoid its fire projectiles when you see its chest cavity open. He may launch an attack from a standing position or down on all fours. The latter attack spews out projectiles in all directions, so keep a safe distance.

Quickly throw your axe at the exposed heart to cause a core chunk to pop out. Wait for an opening and rush in to collect the explosive. Hurl it at the Ancient to stagger it, giving you more opportunity to attack its heart.

Once it’s stunned, get in a couple big hits before performing the stun grab. Eventually it falls in defeat; collect the loot from the Ancient and the two coffins before moving on.

NEW WESTERN BEACH

A separate western beach is now available, where a Realm Tear is found just past a pair of Poison Wolves.

Asgard Tower

First Available	Second water drop
Enemies	Traveler
Notable	Tower braziers
Artifact	No
Elevators	Right available once used from top, left accessible fromIsle of Death

High Water: Asgard Tower is totally unavailable until the water drops a second time.

Low Water: Only the right elevator is accessible from the water, but it begins in the up position with the recall switch disabled. You must access the tower from Isle of Death. Make your way up to the dock on the northwest side of the island and turn toward the movable platforms that hang from the cranes.

NAVIGATE THE PLATFORMS

Each platform has a wheel on top that rotates as you hit the attached paddles. Hit the left paddle and the platform lowers, while the right raises it. You want to get the next platform lower than Kratos so that you can slide down the rope to that platform. A lever on each platform raises it back to its top position.

1. Lower the first platform and slide down to it. Interact with the lever to return to the up position.
2. Face northwest toward the second platform and slide down the rope to reach it. Use the lever to raise the platform, and then look northeast to the third.
3. Hit the left paddle to lower the platform below your position, then slide down to it. Use the lever to raise it back up before sliding to the cliff ahead.

Follow the trail around to the tower's left elevator and ride it up. A lone Level 7 Traveler kneels as he prepares his sword; get his attention with your axe to begin a fight. Once you're done with the tower, ride the right elevator down to the dock, making this location accessible by boat.

Forgotten Caverns

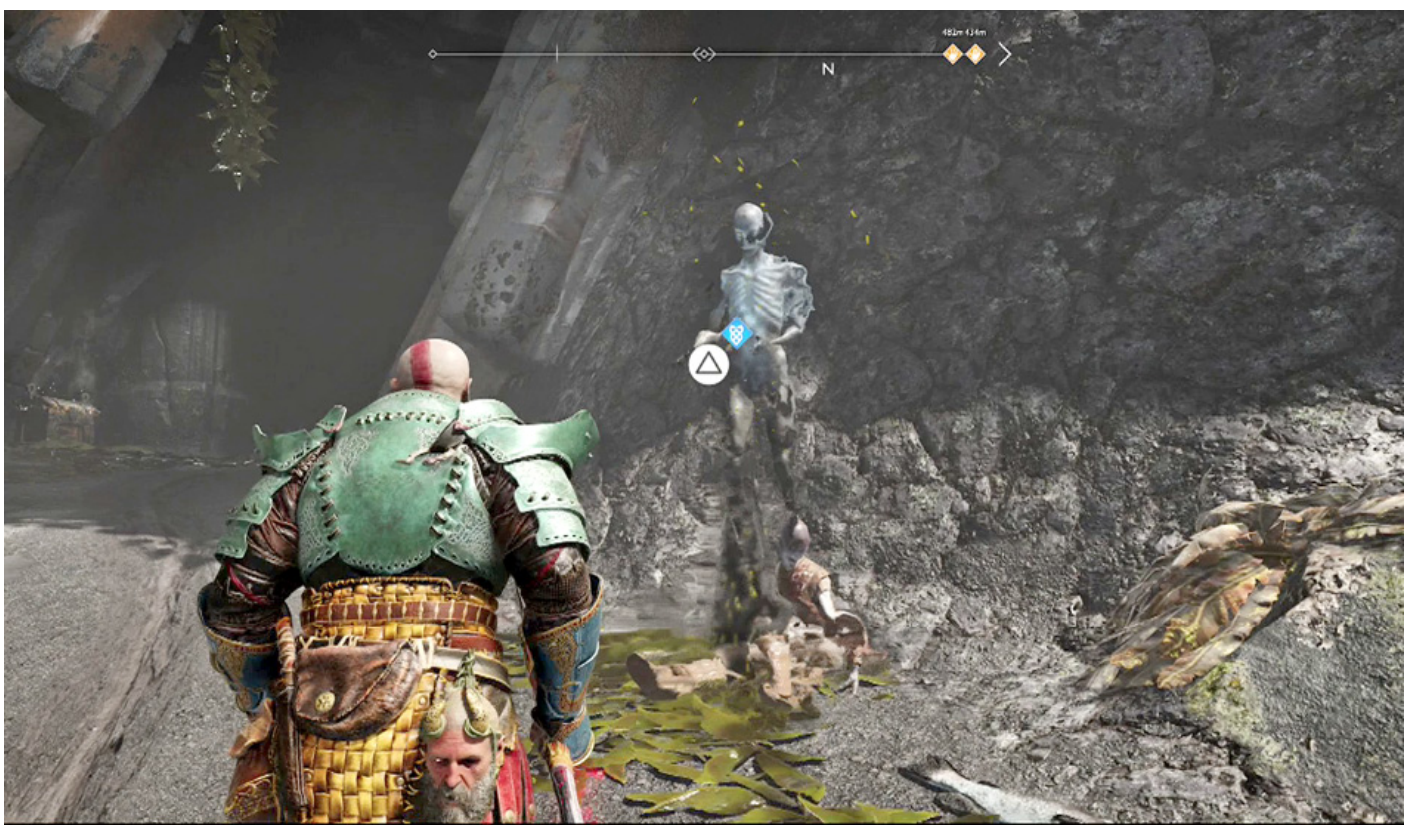

First Available	First water drop
Enemies	Heavy Draugr, Rabid Wolves, Wulvers
Notable	Brazier (“Unfinished Business”), Nornir Chest, Muspelheim Language Cipher (“The Realm of Fire”), quest giver (“Dead Freight”—second drop), Mystic Gateway (second drop), Treasure Map (Finder’s Fee—second drop)
Artifact	Yes
Loot	Iðunn Apple

High Water: Disembark at the beach to find a brazier to the right and a Nornir Chest to the left. At the south end, a pillar holds three arms, each with a rune bell hanging from it. You must hit all three bells within a short time limit to unlock the chest. Throw your axe at one of the bells, and the pillar starts to spin, making the other two more difficult. Depending on how the second bell is hit, it either spins faster or slows down. The bells can be hit from any direction; you don’t have to hit the rune portion. It’s possible to hit one bell with the original throw and strike a second when the axe is recalled. Once you deactivate all three runes, collect the Iðunn Apple from the chest.

Climb the chain on the north end of the beach to reach an upper level. A Legendary Chest holds one of the Muspelheim Language Cipher pieces, as long as you haven’t found four. Otherwise, you receive a Legendary Enchantment.

Low Water: A new beach has been revealed since the second water drop. Follow the trail toward the cave to meet a wayward spirit, who lost his ship crews in a thunderstorm. Talking to him begins a Favor (“Dead Freight”) that requires you to kill three crews of Hel-Walkers.

Continuing into the cavern takes you past a chest and Mystic Gateway before arriving at a trio of hungry Wolves. After killing the foes, go west to find a Treasure Map and another chest.

PREVIOUSLY AVAILABLE

Climb the northeast wall and follow the path all the way up to a dead end. Scale the south wall to the top of the caverns to find the area that was already accessible. If you haven’t been here yet, a Cipher Chest and Artifact sit nearby, while a brazier and Nornir Chest are accessible to the south. Be careful, as two Wulvers attack once you descend the chain. Find a zip line near the Nornir Chest for a quick trip back to your boat.

Return to Forgotten Caverns later in the game to find a valuable Dragon Tear. Climb the chain near the brazier and go left to the dead end. Dig up the mound of dirt to score the Legendary Resource

FÁFNIR’S RAVINE

Fáfnir’s Ravine, located just south of the caverns, leads back to Fáfnir’s Storeroom—a required destination for Sindri’s first Favor, “Fáfnir’s Hoard”

Svartalfheim Tower

First Available	Second water drop
Enemies	Traveler Champion
Notable	Realm Tear, Mystic Gateway, tower braziers
Artifact	No
Elevators	Right elevator only, but disabled at upper position

High Water: Only the right dock is available at Svartalfheim Tower, but the recall switch is disabled with the elevator in the up position. You must access the tower from behind the gate, which isn't possible until the water drops a second time.

Low Water: Paddle through the opening behince Svartalfheim Tower and dock at the small beach on the left. Scale the cliff to reach the backside of the tower. A common chest is located to the left, and a Realm Tear sits at the edge of the cliff to the right.

Pass through the tower gate to find a Traveler Champion and a Mystic Gateway. Be sure to ride the right elevator down before moving on, so that it's available later on.

KING'S HOLLOW

The waterway behind the tower turns into King's Hollow and leads to Konùnsgard Stronghold. Pick up the Huldra Brothers' final Favor, "Hail to the King," before heading that way. One of the World Dragons (Favor: "The Fire of Reginn") is also found at that location.

Light Elf Outpost

First Available	Second water drop
Enemies	Ogre, Shadows, Hel-Reaver Guards
Notable	Two Realm Tears, Nornir Chest, Chisel door, treasure (Island of Light)
Artifact	No
Loot	Runic Summon—Bitter Squirrel, Resource—Pristine Scales of the Realm

High Water: Even though the upper half of the island is visible above the water, you're unable to get into the area, making Light Elf Outpost completely inaccessible until the second water drop.

Low Water: The beach is on the north side of the island. Move into the central area to find a high-level Ogre and a few Shadows. Kill the enemies and then access the Chisel door (Chisel required) to find a coffin. Return to this area after receiving the Blades of Chaos to find Hel-Walkers have moved in.

ONE RUNE FOR THE NORNIR CHEST

Face southeast and bust the boards ahead with your axe so that Atreus can fire a Light Arrow at the crystal inside. Run up the bridge to find the Nornir Chest. Look northeast to spot the first rune, and hit it with your axe. The other two are found later as you climb the outpost. Head right, over the gap, and turn left to reach the outer circle of the island.

PLACE FIRST CRYSTAL

Backtrack down the walkway until you can scale the right wall. At the next level, use the chain to open the grill. Drop back down the wall you just climbed and knock out the cracked boards to find a chest and crystal. Open the gate for a shortcut back to the central area, and pick up the crystal.

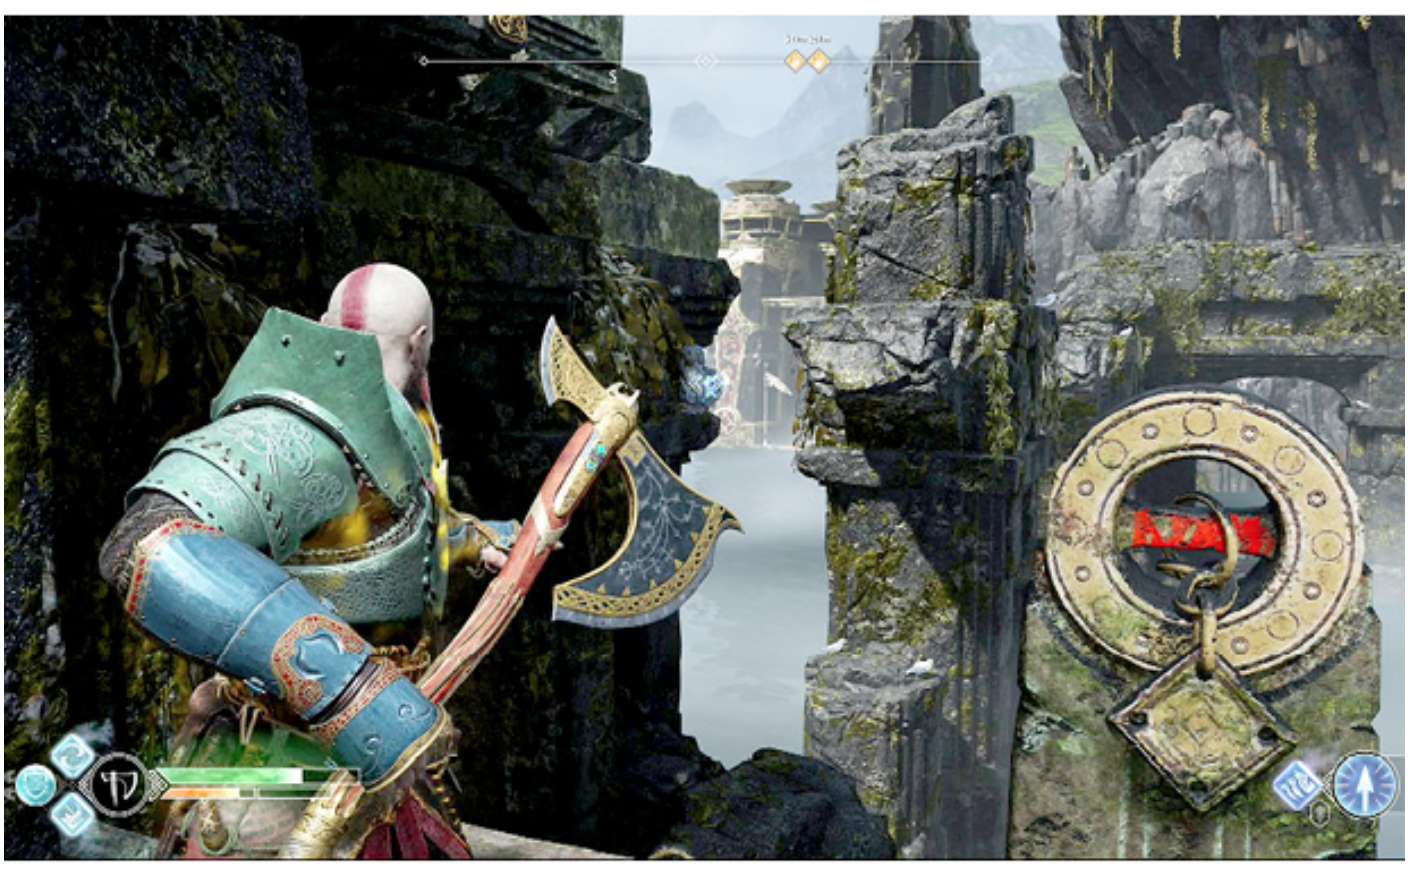

Carry the crystal up the light bridge, through the new opening, and across a second light bridge. Drop it in order to kill two more Shadows, then take it down the right path. Place it in the base and shoot it with a Light Arrow to form another light bridge above.

Just beyond the new bridge, watch out for a couple more Shadows. Once they're taken care of, bust through the boards on the left. Loot the chest and knock the chain down the far edge, just in case you need a shortcut later on.

SECOND RUNE FOR THE NORNIR CHEST

Continue along the outer trail until you reach a scalable wall on the left and a chain just ahead. Before you follow either one, look straight ahead to find a Nornir Chest rune sitting on the side of the ruins. Hit it with your axe.

Drop down first to find a treasure and open the nearby gate, providing another shortcut to earlier portions of the island. Climb up the chain and then scale the right wall. Two Reaver (Shield) immediately attack, so quickly take them down. Two Shadows attack from distant ledges. Use your axe to kill them from a distance, or avoid their projectiles until you can get a closer shot.

PLACE SECOND CRYSTAL AND THIRD RUNE

Step up to the southeast gap, look down, and hit the crystal with a Light Arrow. Follow the trail ahead and open a gate on the left before returning west over the light bridge. As you cross the light bridge, look down to the left to spot the final Nornir Chest rune sitting on a separate portion of the ruins. Head north to find another crystal, which forms a second light bridge when hit with a Light Arrow. Cross this bridge and grab the crystal on the right. Carry it across both bridges and through the raised gate.

Place the crystal in the base against the far wall and hit it with a Light Arrow, along with two crystals that sit on the top of the ruins above, to spawn a Realm Tear. A Legendary Chest (Runic Summon—Bitter Squirrel, Resource—Pristine Scales of the Realm) and common chest are also available on the top level of the outpost.

Destroy the boards to the east, loot another chest, and drop off to the lower level. Follow the footpath to the left to find a chest and a chain. Climb down the chain and continue down to the Nornir Chest to get your well-earned Iðunn Apple.

Ruins of the Ancient

First Available	Second water drop
Enemies	Soul Devourer
Notable	Mystic Gateway, Treasure Map (The Historian), Niflheim Language Cipher (“The Realm of Fog”)
Artifact	No
Loot	Legendary Enchantment (if Niflheim Language Cipher already complete)

High Water: The ruins are fully covered by water until the second water drop.

Low Water: In the northwestern reaches of the lake, dock at a small beach on the north side of Ruins of the Ancient. A Mystic Gateway sits next to the boat, a Treasure Map is located on the right side of the beach, and a Cipher Chest sits across from the entrance.

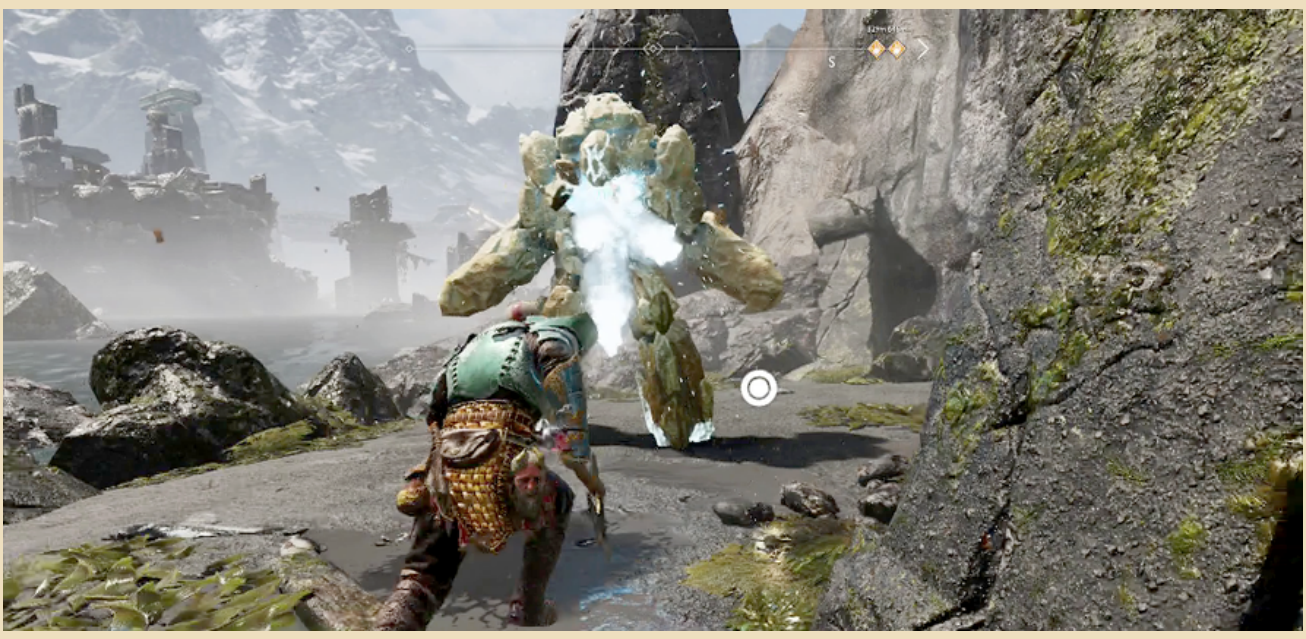

A Soul Devourer patrols the area, though the fight is completely optional. You must attack before it retaliates. You also fight the Soul Devourer during Brok and Sindri’s final Favor, “Hail to the King.”

SOUL DEVOURER

The Soul Devourer is similar to the Ancients, with its impenetrable rock exterior and four attacks. Wait for it to expose its heart before you throw your axe into the chest cavity. This causes a core chunk to fly out onto the beach. Wait for a respite in its attacks, and swoop in to grab the explosive. Heave it at the miniboss to stagger it, then go after its exposed heart.

Use the stone pillar in the middle of the beach for protection. Remain on the opposite side from the Soul Devourer, and peek out when its chest is exposed for a quick toss of the axe. Only run out into the open to grab the chunk and hit its exposed heart.

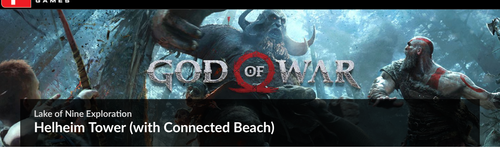

Once it’s stunned, hit its vulnerable spot a couple times before performing the stun grab. Continue to attack the heart whenever possible, until finally it collapses in defeat.

NORTHRI GORGE

Continue boating past the Ruins of the Ancient into the far northwest corner, and you reach Northri Gorge, which leads to Northri Stronghold. This location is your destination for Sindri’s second Favor, “Family Business.”

Lake of Nine Exploration

Helheim Tower (with Connected Beach)

First Available	First water drop, second water drop for connected beach
Enemies	Nightmare, Death Eater
Notable	Tower braziers, treasure (Njörd's Oarsmen—second drop), Treasure Map (Island of Light—second drop), Sindri's Shop
Artifact	Yes
Elevators	Right always accessible, left cannot be used until second water drop

High Water: At this point, you can ride the right elevator up to obtain an Artifact. The left elevator cannot be reached by boat, and there's no recall lever at the top. A beach connected to the tower isn't exposed until the second water drop.

Low Water: After the second water drop, a beach is uncovered to the east, which connects to the right elevator. You can also pull a boat onto the beach in front of the western oarsman.

A Mystic Gateway is available on the north side of the beach, and a Treasure Map sits just left from the beach. A Troll statue called Death Eater stands guard near the gateway. Watch out for Nightmares that fly around the area. Death Eater comes to life after you have collected the Black Rune and defeated the Trolls in Tyr's Vault.

DEATH EATER

Once the Death Eater comes to life, it patrols the beach and attacks Kratos on sight. It's similar to other Trolls, with its massive size and pillar.

When you're in close proximity to the Troll, it may attempt to stomp on you with its foot or smash the ground with its right hand. Evade these attacks and get in a couple hits before it recovers.

Watch for it to grab sand with its right hand. Sprint away from this move as it flings the sand your way. A successful hit blinds you for a few seconds, so clear out of the area until your sight comes back.

After the Death Eater lifts the pillar above its head, it smashes the weapon into the ground—causing a number of small rock formations to jut out of the ground. Touch one of these rocks, and it detonates, causing damage and possibly the blinded status effect.

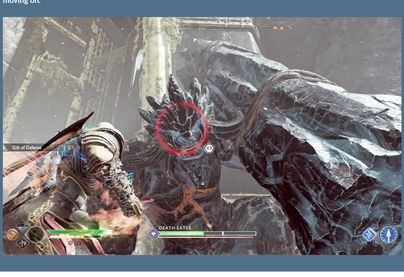

The Death Eater may smash the ground up to four times, so it's best to vacate the area if you see this move coming. The rocks may appear anywhere, so remain alert and tread carefully. Use light axe throws to take the rocks out from afar.

The Death Eater is also able to charge at you and thrust the pillar into the ground. If he runs straight at you, evade to the side to avoid taking damage, and immediately retaliate with a combo.

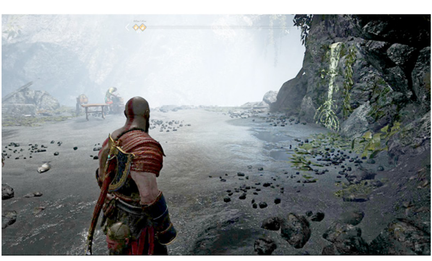

If it extends the pillar out to its side, dodge-roll away from the Troll. It swings its weapon around 540 degrees, causing damage and knocking you back.

It can be staggered with Atreus' Shock Arrows, so keep them flying. Continue to attack between its moves, and eventually the Troll falls in defeat. Collect the Light Blades Runic Attack and resources dropped by the Troll before moving on.

Scale the wall on the northeast side of the beach and shimmy along the narrow ledge, where Sindri has set up a new shop location. Just north of him, climb another cliff. From there, run right through a tunnel and dig up a treasure that's been buried next to a Njörd's Oarsman.

Near the previous climb, you can scale another wall to reach the highest point. A common chest sits next to the entrance to the Council of Valkyries. Head west to find a zip line that quickly returns you to Sindri.

COUNCIL OF VALKYRIES

Notable	Sigrun (Valkyrie Queen), treasure (The Last Place They'd Look), Mystic Gateway

Hop across the gap in the walkway and immediately turn around. Detonate the red jar below to free a coffin, make your way down to its location, and loot the resources. As part of the Valkyries Favors, you must place the Valkyries' helmets on the eight thrones that sit around the perimeter of the arena, and fight the Valkyrie Queen. A Mystic Gateway allows quick access back to this arena, and a treasure has been buried between the second and third seats on the left.

The Mason's Channel (Njörd's Oarsmen)

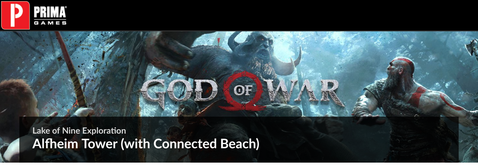

First Available	First water drop
Enemies	None
Notable	Foothills access, tower braziers
Artifact	No
Elevators	Accessible on both sides

High Water: Even though the oarsmen are visible after the first water drop, you're unable to pass underneath their oars until the water drops for a second time. The beaches on each side of the statues are fully covered until that point.

Low Water: The second water drop gives you access to Mason's Channel, which is your first Journey destination after Mimir talks to the World Serpent. Take a boat north up the channel to find a beach. On the left side, use a wheel to open the nearby water gate and gain access to Thamur's Corpse. Enemies are typically found on this island, as well as a wayward spirit (Favor: "Anatomy of Hope") who needs help finding the bones of his beloved Gullveig.

Alfheim Tower (with Connected Beach)

First Available	First water drop, second water drop for connected beach
Enemies	None
Notable	Realm Tear, entrance to Fáfnir ("The Flight of Fáfnir"), tower braziers
Artifact	Yes
Elevators	Accessible on both sides

High Water: Both elevators are accessible at all times. Ride one up to find an Artifact and Realm Tear. There's nothing else at this location until the water drops farther.

Low Water: After the second water drop, a beach is uncovered on the west side of the tower, though the dock is still available. The tower itself remains the same.

You can pull a boat onto the beach just in front of the eastern oarsman. Use your Blades on the Hel's Bramble to the right to score a nice cache of Hacksilver. Hit the Shatter Crystal with a Shock Arrow to clear the base of the cliff, then climb to the ledge above.

Stone Falls

First Available	First water drop
Enemies	Revenant, Tatzelwurm, Draugr
Notable	Quest giver ("Hammer Fall"), Mystic Gateway, Treasure Map (The Boat Captain's Key)
Artifact	Yes
Loot	Rare Talisman—Golden Talisman of Protection, Rare Enchantment—Frost Sigil of Runic, Rare Axe Pommel—Deadly Grip of Fury, Rare Resource—Pristine Dust of the Realm

High Water: Boat to the northeast corner of the lake and slide onto the beach, located directly west of the massive gate. Bust through the boards on the left to find a Mystic Gateway. A Treasure Map rests on the right side of the beach.

Run through the open gate ahead and kill the Revenant and Tatzelwurm as they spawn into the area. Face south and fling the axe at the disc that holds up a bridge. Exit the same way you came in and interact with the chain to close the gate. This opens a grill to the north.

Hop across the bridge to find a wayward spirit ("Hammer Fall") in need of your help. Turn the wheel next to him to open the big gateway ahead, which leads to Veithurgard Pass.

Open another gate to the north to reach the same area as before, but now you can loot a common chest and Legendary Chest (Rare Talisman). Climb the short ledge to the northeast to find an Artifact.

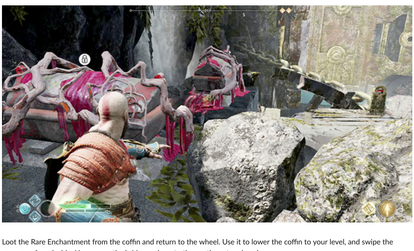

Low Water: At the low-water level, find a beach closer to the Veithurgard gate. Bust through the boards on the left before climbing the ledge and hopping a gap in the path. Kill the Draugr that appears from the small room and loot another chest.

Approach the gap to the southeast and spot the Shatter Crystal below. Hit it with a Shock Arrow to get the waterwheel moving, and hop to the other side. Watch as a few Shatter Crystals, attached to another wheel, move past the sap-covered coffin ahead. Hit one with another arrow as it passes the container to gain access to the resources inside.

Climb a chain to the left to reach the highest level of Stone Falls, which was accessible before the water dropped a second time (and covered in the high-water entry). The Shatter Crystals continue to rotate with the wheel; hit one with a Shock Arrow as it moves past the covered wheel in the corner.

Interact with the wheel until a coffin is raised to its highest point. Head northwest through the open gate (this may not be open, if you haven't been here yet; refer to the high-water section for more information) and climb the ledge on the right. Approach the inaccessible coffin until you spot a Shatter Crystal on the side of the first coffin. Hitting it with a Shock Arrow unlocks both containers.

Loot the Rare Enchantment from the coffin and return to the wheel. Use it to lower the coffin to your level, and swipe the resources from inside. Hop across the bridge and run to the southwestern beach.

Drop off the east side, step left, and fire a Shock Arrow at the Shatter Crystal on the waterwheel to get it moving. Turn around and climb down the chain on the left side of the trail to return to where you started.

Before you leave, find a Legendary Chest to the left. Wait for a Shatter Crystal to approach the chest, hit it with a Shock Arrow, and pilfer it!

Buri's Storeroom

First Available	Second water drop
Enemies	Variety of Draugr and a Traveler or Traveler Champion (later in game)
Notable	Treasure (Creation Island)
Artifact	No
Loot	Blades of Chaos Runic Attack—Rage of Titans, Leviathan Axe Runic Attack—Glaive Storm

High Water: Buri's Storeroom is a small island just south of Stone Falls, but the beach is fully covered until the second water drop.

Low Water: Right away, you spot a runic door with three bells nearby, though one sits behind a gate. Run under the open gate and kill the Draugr that show up. Be careful here as a high-level Traveler or Traveler Champion shows up later in the game. Lure the Draugr toward the boat and take them out before disturbing the Traveler. Move to the far end of the trail, look up to the right, and shoot a Shock Arrow at the Shatter Crystal. This unlocks a wheel at the top of the steps.

Before heading up there, search the right side of the path to find a Legendary Chest and treasure. Use your Blades of Chaos to bust through the Bramble and loot the Blades of Chaos Runic Attack.

Pass back through the open gate, run left up the steps, and interact with the wheel until the gap in the waterwheel lines up with the water. This allows you to paddle your boat through the opening and onto the eastern beach.

Run west and use the chain on the left to close the gate and reveal the rune. Take the boat back to the western beach and quickly hit all three rune bells with your axe to unlock the storeroom door. Move inside, descend the steps, and loot the Legendary Chest (Leviathan Axe Runic Attack). Paths to the left and right both lead to common chests.

Cliffs of the Raven

First Available	First water drop
Enemies	Dark Elf, Dark Elf Warrior, Dark Elf Lord
Notable	Brazier (“Unfinished Business”), treasure (Dead and Bloated), Muspelheim Language Cipher (“The Realm of Fire”), Nornir Chest
Artifact	Yes
Loot	Horn of Blood Mead, Blades of Chaos Pommel—Grips of the Cursed Flame

High Water: Paddle a boat southeast from Vanaheim Tower through the nearest opening and continue back to the beach. A Troll corpse stretches across much of the beach; find a treasure behind its legs. A brazier sits on the right as part of the “Unfinished Business” Favor.

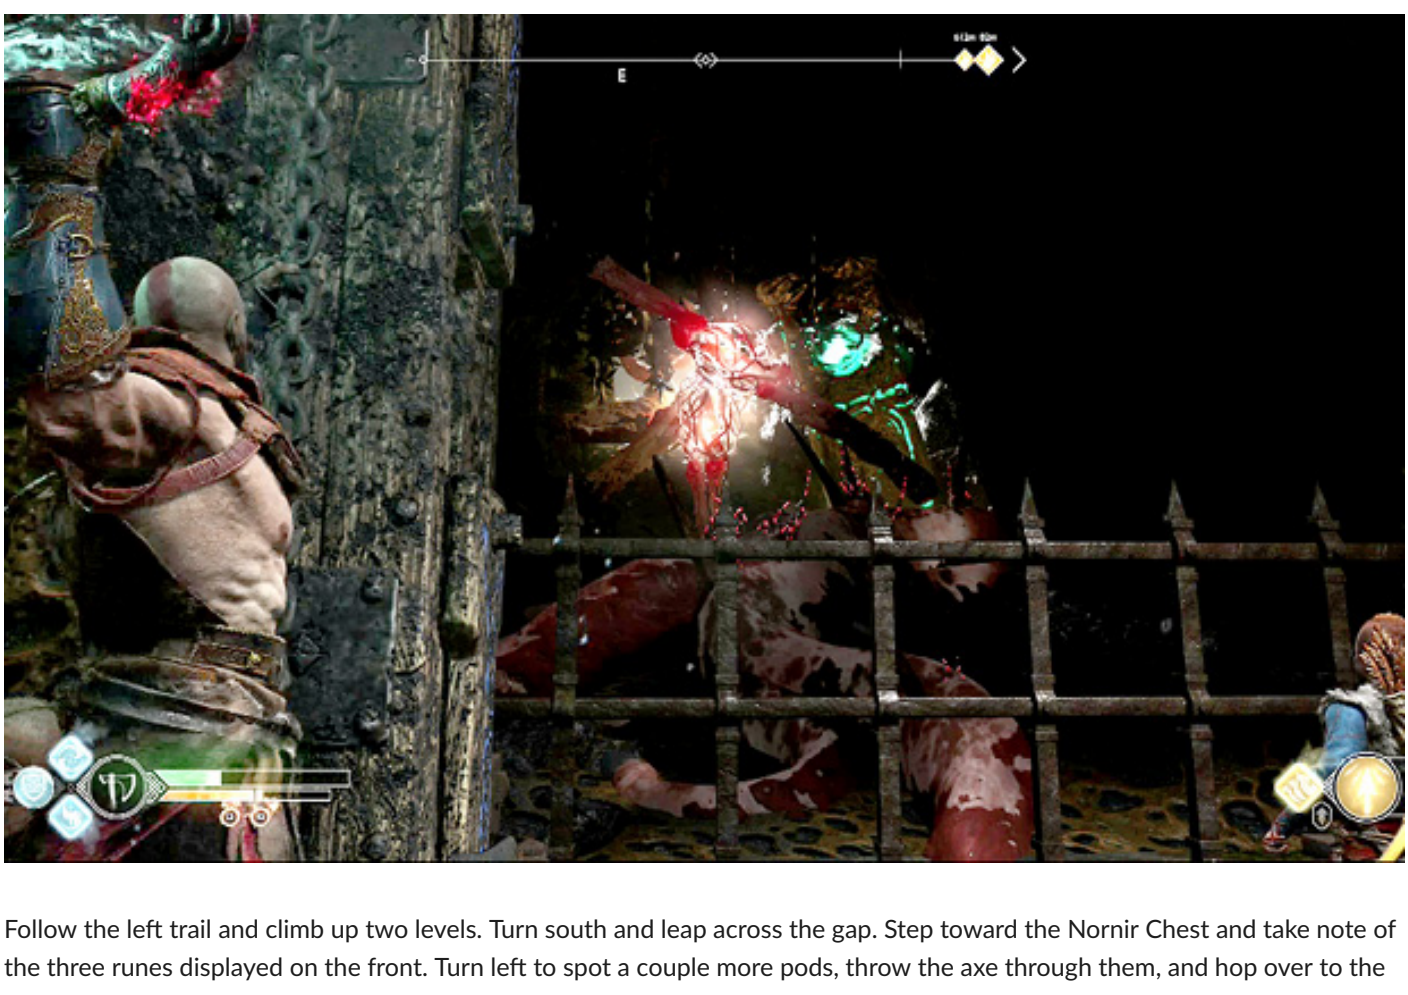

Look for a small boarded-up hole on the northeast cliff and bust it open with your axe. Give Atreus a boost into the opening and wait for him to drop the chain. Climb up and loot the Cipher Chest (Muspelheim Language Cipher). Grab the Artifact just northeast of there before returning to your boat.

VÖLUNDER CHASM

Paddle back out to the lake, then head east to find Völunder Chasm. Follow this waterway back to Völunder Mines, your destination for Brok’s first Favor, “Second Hand Soul.”

Low Water: Find the low-water beach just west of Vanaheim Tower. Move up the left path to a gate, use the chain to open the gate, and throw your axe through the three pods. Drop the gate and return to the boat. Head right and hit the single pod with your axe before climbing the chain.

Follow the left trail and climb up two levels. Turn south and leap across the gap. Step toward the Nornir Chest and take note of the three runes displayed on the front. Turn left to spot a couple more pods, throw the axe through them, and hop over to the wall. Climb up to find one of the runes, but the Winds of Hel energy is required.

Jump over a gap to the southeast, climb the chain ahead, and loot the chest. Hop over another gap and kick the chain off the right side.

PREVIOUSLY AVAILABLE

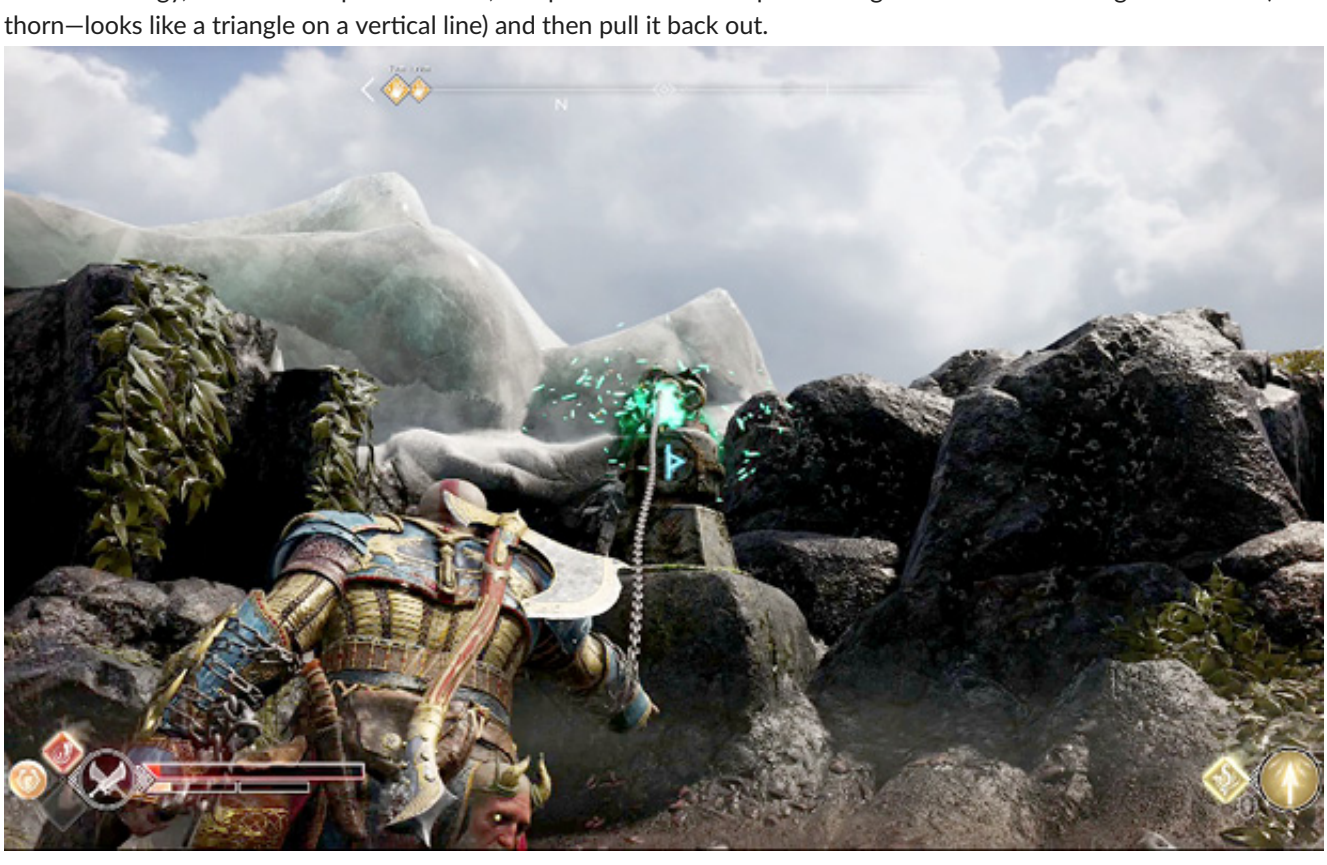

Go left, loot the chest, and climb down another chain to reach the beach that was available before the second water drop. This time, Dark Elves are there to greet you, so kill them.

If you haven’t been here yet, refer to the high-water section for more information about a treasure, brazier, Muspelheim Language Cipher, and Artifact.

NORNIR CHEST

Run north until you find the Winds of Hel energy to the left. This is where you raised the gate and destroyed the three pods at the start of this location. Three traps sit on the plateaus around the Nornir Chest, and they’re connected to rotating runes. They must be set to the correct runes using the Blades of Chaos and Winds of Hel. These can be done in any order; the following is one way to complete this task:

1. Grab the Winds of Hel with your Blades of Chaos, move back up the path a few steps, and transfer the energy to a trap on the right wall.
2. Move through the new opening and climb the wall to the southwest. Run north past the Nornir Chest, jump to the climbable wall, and proceed to the top. Leap over the gap to your right, approach the left edge, and look back to spot the Winds of Hel.
3. Grab the energy, return to the previous area, and place it into the trap on the right. Let it rotate through two runes (a thorn—looks like a triangle on a vertical line) and then pull it back out.

4. Turn south and throw the energy into another trap. Climb down the nearby ledge and jump over to the Nornir Chest.
5. Grab the Winds of Hel, move up the hill to the right, and deposit it into the second rune trap. Let it rotate through two runes (rotated hagalaz—looks like an N on its back) and pull the energy back out.
6. Throw the Winds of Hel back into the central trap and climb the chain to the south. Move to the left edge and collect the energy. Turn around and place it into the third rune trap. Let it rotate through two runes (ride—looks like the letter R) before grabbing the energy with your Blades and transferring it into the central trap.

Loot the Nornir Chest. Drop to the lower level and find the exit blocked by a tentacle. Throw the axe through the two pods and raise the gate.

Now, go back up the hill and collect the Winds of Hel one last time at this location. Sprint downhill, drop off the ledge, and transfer the energy into the trap on the door to reveal a Legendary Chest.

Mystic Gateway

Shop

As long as you've visited Stone Falls and manipulated the wheel in order to open the massive gate, you can boat into Veithurgard Pass on your way to Veithurgard.

If the water has only dropped once, the waterway leads all the way to a new

First Available	After first water drop
Enemies	Lava Ancient, Draugr, Projectile Draugr, Rabid Wolves
Notable	Brok, Lore Markers
Artifact	No

Brok shop. Otherwise, a group of Draugr greets you at the beach. Fight cautiously, as the Lava Ancient (1) miniboss rests to the left. If you wish to fight the Ancient, wake it up after eliminating all of the Draugr.

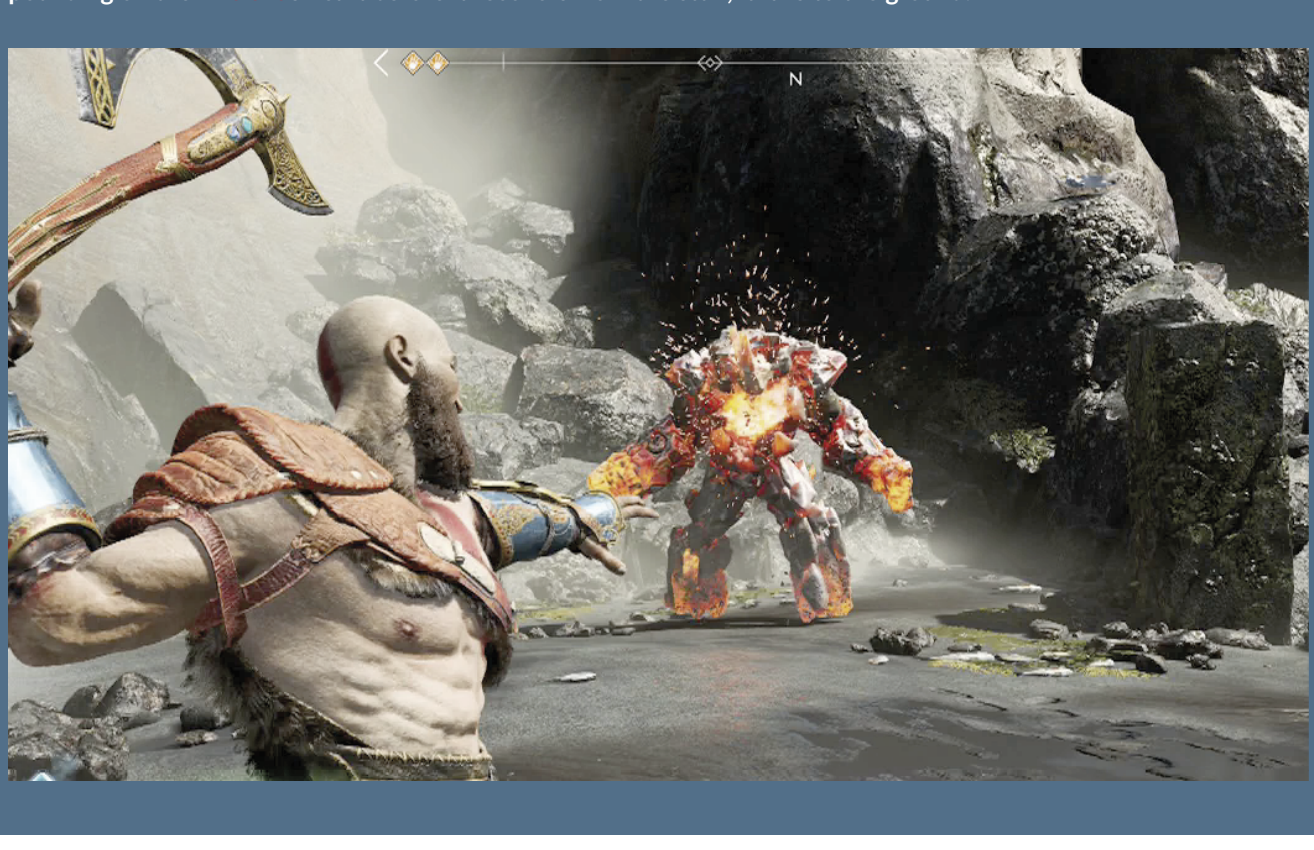

LAVA ANCIENT

Much like the other Ancients, the Lava Ancient has an indestructible exterior and possesses three explosive attacks. If it falls back onto all fours, it launches fireballs outward in all directions. After it falls forward onto all four limbs, it detonates a heat blast in its chest, damaging anyone nearby. After crossing its arms, the miniboss opens its chest and fires explosives in a wide area toward its target.

Use the boulders littered around the beach as cover from the Ancient's projectile attacks, peeking out enough to fling your axe into its exposed chest cavity. This causes a core chunk to fall to the ground. Swoop in when safe to do so, collect the explosive, and return it to the miniboss. After the explosive detonates on the enemy, its chest can open up in a staggered state—allowing you to go in for more hits to its heart. You can also stun it if a thrown chunk fills its Stun Meter.

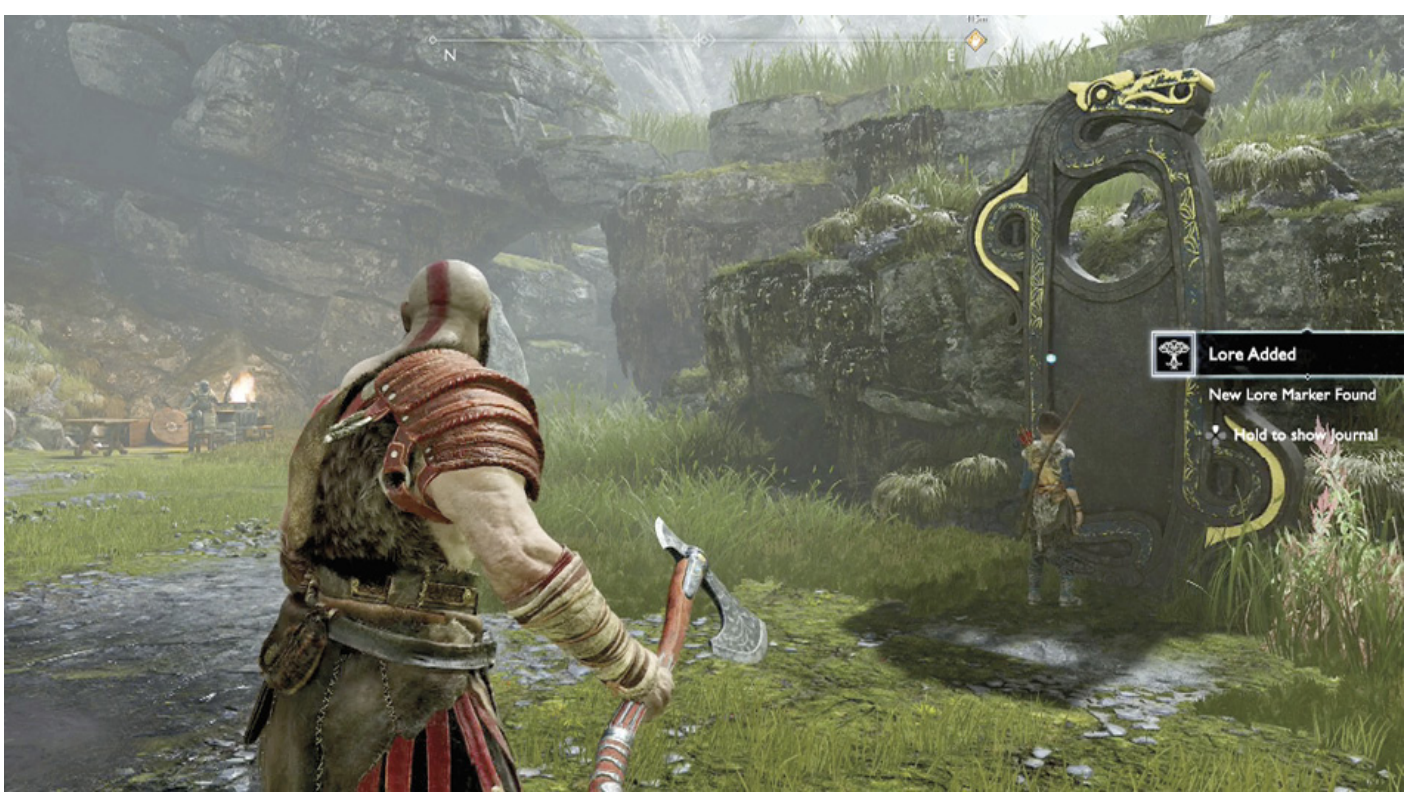

Once it's stunned, sprint in and deliver a couple big hits before performing a stun grab. If you do enough damage by pounding on the Ancient's heart before it recovers from the stun, it falls to the ground.

Once you're ready to move on, collect the resources from the coffin to the north, then climb the cliff on the right. This leads up to Brok and a Lore Marker (2), which Atreus translates into an introduction to the Dwarf King. Squeeze through the crevice to the northeast.

Kill the low-level Wolves and Draugr before using your axe to open the spiked gate and reveal a hidden coffin. Next, crouch-walk through the small opening to find more Wolves. After dealing with the beasts, instruct Atreus to translate the Lore Marker (3) and a Lore Read north of the marker.

On the south side of the area, a heavy pillar of stone blocks the path, so lift it out of the way for Atreus. A boat (4) hangs on a rack next to the water ahead, so toss the axe at the disc that holds it up and then hop in the vessel.

There are two places to visit in Veithurgard: turn left once there to find the Thor statue (5), and turn right for the mainland (6). Destroy the statue on the small island to complete the "Hammer Fall" Favor. The southern dock leads to much more: one of three World Dragons, a Realm Tear, a full set of Artifacts, a Nornir Chest, and more. Exploration of this area is covered with "The Imprisonment of Otr" Favor.

·	Gróa	Journey: The Light of Alfheim	Realm of Alfheim: Just outside the temple, next to Sindri's shop.
·	Ymir	Journey: Inside the Mountain	The Mountain: On your way to the Summit, Shock Arrows are obtained just before re-entering the Mountain. Eventually, you pass a room barricaded by tree roots and sap. Grab a Shatter Crystal from a dispenser in the next room and toss it onto the sap. Use a Shock Arrow to remove the obstruction. The Jötnar Shrine is inside the small room.
·	Thamur	Journey: After collecting the Chisel	Thamur's Corpse: Inside Hidden Chamber of Odin.
·	Bergelmir	Journey: Break the Chains	Týr's Temple: Solve the sand puzzle and use the lever to descend to the lower level. Turn around to find the Jötnar Shrine.
·	Thrym	Lake Exploration after second water drop	Lookout Tower: Climb Lookout Tower to the top and then ride the zip line west to an area behind Muspelheim Tower. Kill the enemies before interacting with the Jötnar Shrine.
·	Skaði	Favor: The Imprisonment of Otr	Veithurgard: Just inside the castle.
·	Starkaðr	Favor: Hail to the King	Konùnsgard Stronghold: Just inside the stronghold.
·	Surtr	Labor: Mountain High	Realm of Muspelheim: Next to Brok's shop.

Appendices

Trophies

We've split the Trophies into four categories: those earned by playing through the Journey, completing the various Favors, Labors, and Artifacts, upgrading Kratos and Atreus, and finishing various collections.

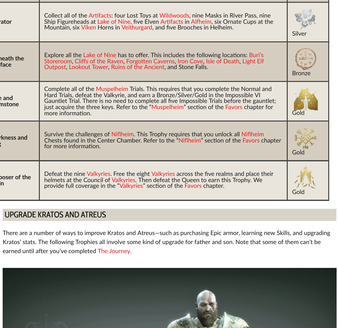

THE JOURNEY

The following Trophies are earned as you play through the Journey. Complete the game to earn all 11.

NAME	DESCRIPTION	TROPHY
The Journey Begins	Defend your home from the Stranger.	Bronze
A New Friend	Survive the Witch's Woods.	Bronze
Feels Like Home	Allow the Light Elves to return home.	Bronze
Dragon Slayer	Defeat the Dragon of the Mountain.	Bronze
Troubling Consequences	Defeat Magni and Modi.	Bronze
Hello, Old Friend	Retrieve the Blades of Chaos.	Bronze
Promise Fulfilled	Heal Atreus.	Bronze
Round 2	Rescue Atreus.	Bronze
Past Haunts	Ride the boat out of Helheim.	Bronze
Twilight Beckons	Defeat Baldur.	Bronze
Last Wish	Spread the ashes. Complete the Journey.	Gold

OPTIONAL CONTENT

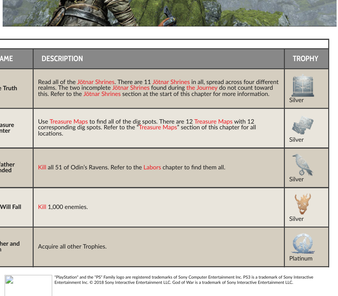

Most of these Trophies are earned by completing the Favors, Labors, and Artifact collections. To earn "Death Happened Here," you must defeat the Troll inside the Veithurgard castle and loot the next Legendary Chest. For "Beneath the Surface," explore the various islands and beaches around the Lake of Nine.

NAME	DESCRIPTION	TROPHY
Like Oil and Water	Complete all of Brok and Sindri's Favors: "Second Hand Soul" and "Deus Ex Malachite" for Brok, "Father's Hoard" and "Family Business" for Sindri, and "Hail to the King" for both.	Gold
Unfinished Business	Assist all of the wayward spirits by completing the following Favors: "Anatomy of Hope," "Dead Freight," "Hammer Fall," "Time Heals All Wounds," and "Unfinished Business."	Silver
Trilingual	Learn the languages of Muspelheim and Niflheim. Collect four Muspelheim and Niflheim Language Ciphers as part of "The Realm of Fire" and "The Realm of Fog" Favors.	Bronze
Death Happened Here	Fully explore Veithurgard. This is acquired after opening the chest just beyond the Troll miniboss, Dauði Hamarr. Check out our coverage of "The Imprisonment of Ofr" for detailed information on this location.	Bronze
Dangerous Skies	Free the three World Dragons by completing the following three Favors: "The Imprisonment of Ofr," "The Flight of Fáfnir," and "The Fire of Regins." This also completes "The Dragon's Curse" Labor. Get full details in our Favors chapter.	Silver
Curator	Collect all of the Artifacts: four Lost Toys at Wildwoods, nine Masks in River Pass, nine Ship Figureheads at Lake of Nine, five Elven Artifacts in Alfheim, six Ornate Cups at the Mountain, six Viken Horns in Veithurgard, and five Brooches in Helheim.	Silver
Beneath the Surface	Explore all the Lake of Nine has to offer. This includes the following locations: Burl's Storeroom, Cliffs of the Raven, Forgotten Caverns, Iron Cove, Isle of Death, Light Elf Outpost, Lookout Tower, Ruins of the Ancient, and Stone Falls.	Bronze
Fire and Brimstone	Complete all of the Muspelheim Trials. This requires that you complete the Normal and Hard Trials, defeat the Valkyrie, and earn a Bronze/Silver/Gold in the Impossible VI Gauntlet Trial. There is no need to complete all five Impossible Trials before the gauntlet; just acquire the three keys. Refer to the "Muspelheim" section of the Favors chapter for more information.	Gold
Darkness and Fog	Survive the challenges of Niflheim. This Trophy requires that you unlock all Niflheim Chests found in the Center Chamber. Refer to the "Niflheim" section of the Favors chapter for more information.	Gold
Chooser of the Slain	Defeat the nine Valkyries. Free the eight Valkyrie across the five realms and place their helmets at the Council of Valkyries. Then defeat the Queen to earn this Trophy. We provide full coverage in the "Valkyries" section of the Favors chapter.	Gold

UPGRADE KRATOS AND ATREUS

There are a number of ways to improve Kratos and Atreus—such as purchasing Epic armor, learning new Skills, and upgrading Kratos' stats. The following Trophies all involve some kind of upgrade for father and son. Note that some of them can't be earned until after you've completed The Journey.

NAME	DESCRIPTION	TROPHY
Nice Moves	Obtain a Runic Attack Gem. This is earned once you open the chest that contains the Hel's Touch Runic Attack, found just inside River Pass during the Journey.	Bronze
Dwarven Ingenuity	Upgrade a piece of armor. Upgrade any piece of armor at one of the shops.	Bronze
Best Dressed	Obtain one new Outfit for the son.	Bronze
Enchanted	Slot an Enchantment into your armor. Slotting any Enchantment into any armor with at least one slot completes this Trophy.	Bronze
The Best Moves	Fully upgrade any Runic Attack by spending XP at the Weapon Screen. You must upgrade the same ability twice.	Bronze
Iðunn's Orchard	Fully upgrade your health. Collect all nine Iðunn Apples from Nornir Chests.	Silver
Quick Tempered	Fully upgrade your rage. Collect all nine Horns of Blood Mead from Nornir Chests.	Silver
Worthy	Fully upgrade the Leviathan Axe. There are five Frozen Flames earned by completing specific tasks. Turn these in to Brok or Sindri to upgrade the axe five times. Refer to the "Leviathan Wakes" Labor for more information.	Bronze
Why Fight It?	Fully upgrade the Blades of Chaos. There are four Chaos Flames earned by completing specific tasks. Turn these in to Brok or Sindri to upgrade the Blades four times. Refer to the "Chaos and Conflagration" Labor for more information.	Bronze
Primordial	Obtain Ancient armor set. Collect an Ancient's Heart and Ancient's Rubble from defeated Ancients. Take these items to Brok or Sindri and craft the Legendary armor. This includes the Pauldron, Gauntlet, and Belt of the Ancients.	Bronze
Path of the Zealot	Obtain Traveler armor set. Collect Traveler's Grisly Trophy and Traveler's Armor Shard from defeated Travelers and deliver the resources to Brok or Sindri. Craft the Traveler's Breastplate, Gauntlets, and Waist Armor.	Bronze

COLLECTION

The remaining Trophies involve some kind of collection. Read all of the Jötnar Shrines, dig up the treasure from the 12 Treasure Maps, kill 51 Ravens, and slay numerous enemies.

NAME	DESCRIPTION	TROPHY
The Truth	Read all of the Jötnar Shrines. There are 11 Jötnar Shrines in all, spread across four different realms. The two incomplete Jötnar Shrines found during the Journey do not count toward this. Refer to the Jötnar Shrines section at the start of this chapter for more information.	Silver
Treasure Hunter	Use Treasure Maps to find all of the dig spots. There are 12 Treasure Maps with 12 corresponding dig spots. Refer to the "Treasure Maps" section of this chapter for all locations.	Silver
Allfather Blinded	Kill all 51 of Odin's Ravens. Refer to the Labors chapter to find them all.	Silver
All Will Fall	Kill 1,000 enemies.	Silver
Father and Son	Acquire all other Trophies.	Platinum

The God of War Team
Jason McDonald

LEAD GAMEPLAY DESIGNER

How did you first become interested in pursuing a career in video games?

I think it's everyone's dream to be able to work on something they love. I've played games my entire life and as a kid I always thought working on one would be a dream.

Plus, my parents would watch me play video games as a kid and I knew they thought it was a waste of time. Part of me always wanted to prove them wrong.

How long have you been on the team?

Since May 2004. 14 years.

Give the reader an idea of your day-to-day tasks.

A typical day is filled with tons of meetings with various designers, programmers, leads and directors about various aspects of the game. Usually I focus on Mechanics, Hero, Son and Enemy design and animations, often reviewing, and tuning. When I can find the time, I still find ways to sneak into the scripts and implement a few things even though I'm sure many would wish I didn't and would just stay pinned to a meeting room forever.

What was your favorite aspect about the project?

We had previously been working with the same combat formula and overall gameplay design since God of War 1, within the same Greek mythological world. We'd tweak and try to improve it with each iteration, but the base experience was the same. This game was a chance to go outside the box and see how we can keep the essence of the game, while changing and modernizing the feel into a brand-new experience. New Enemies. New World. New controls, mechanics, and combat. The ability to bring new elements into a 10-year-old franchise was exciting.

What was the trickiest task assigned to you and how did you solve it?

A surprisingly tricky thing was creating gameplay that stayed true to the new vision. When ideas got difficult to implement, it was much easier to stay within the wheelhouse we were used to with previous titles, and our initial designs had us doing just that. With so many God of Wars under our belts it was easy to slide into old habits regarding camera angles, old weapon styles, and older designs that did not fit the new direction. You sometimes didn't even realize you were doing it.

The solution oddly enough was to fully embrace the change. Instead of inching the camera backward every chance we get with early prototypes, how about we just slam the camera in there and work out the problems. Part of that led in early prototypes to throwing your axe which partially came from looking at things from that 3rd person perspective. And from that perspective wouldn't it be nice if your son could help watch your back and pin down enemies you cannot see? Things started to take off once we began looking at things through a new lens.

What are you most proud of concerning the game?

I am proud of the team persevering through the challenges to make this game. Every department stepped up to the challenge in creating something new that we have never done before. The result is the culmination of the hard work from whom I consider very talented people across the team. It feels like we created a new IP, with the excitement and familiarity of the God of War franchise.

Why a "soft reboot" instead of God of War IV?

I think part of it was to get everyone out of the mindset of creating a typical sequel. This was a reinvention that hoped to respect the characters and franchise we created, but in a different way.

How does God of War fit into the storyline, both as a continuation of the series and as a soft reboot for the franchise?

Kratos remembers everything that has happened to him and everything he has done. He bears that weight in this new title, and players will both see and feel the effects of this change through story and new gameplay design.

What were the overall goals in creating the next chapter of the God of War universe?

We wanted to capture the elements that made people love previous God of War games and deliver it in a new experience. Remove the franchise (and developer) fatigue by taking the series into a whole new direction.

What key decisions were made to reinforce and accomplish those goals?

Much of the start of this project was identifying the key pillars of Kratos as a character, as well as the God of War titles as a whole.

New "rules" documents were created for Kratos and his new direction, and Cory kicked off the project with a small book that detailed his goals for the design. Working from that starting point, we could ensure that future decisions could be tested against this bible to correct us if we steered too far off course.

What do you feel has the most impact in making the God of War series stand apart from other video games?

It's a mixture of bigger than life mythology, epic moments, and multiple gameplay pillars (combat, puzzles, exploration) melded together into a seamless experience.

How would you summarize the experience of God of War?

Epic. Unflinching. Awesome.

GAME DESIGN

Tell us about the rebuilt gameplay and why you introduced the new elements—the behind-the-shoulder camera, the crafting/recipe system, and so forth.

This game has a deeper, closer, and more personal narrative than any *God of War*game before. There was a strong desire to make the game feel like that all the time, and not just in cinematic moments. With a tighter camera, looking up at a giant creature feels epic in a different way than before. Looking freely from that angle makes you feel like you aren't merely watching Kratos, but you ARE Kratos.

That meant new puzzle design that could work with a camera view like this. New combat design that could have you aim at the legs of a monster to trip them as they chase you down. New tension as you try to track enemies behind you while using your son to help keep them off your back.

Slamming enemies into walls to stun them or attacking their backs to exploit weakness. The new system rewards positioning, aiming, and rushing down at the right moments much more than previous games.

We also wanted a deeper customization path for Kratos this time. The game is longer with much more to explore, so we reward this with crafting and customization options that people can experiment with and change their gameplay style throughout the experience.

Exploring, fighting difficult enemies, and solving world puzzles will give you gear and materials needed to explore all itemization paths for Kratos.

How does the overall combat system differ from the previous games in the series? Why the changes?

The game is slower paced and more deliberate. You can still get in there, juggle enemies and string together combos. But your positioning and manipulation of enemies is more important, as enemies will blindside you if you do not pay attention or lock them down.

Grabbing most enemies now requires stunning them first. Sometimes building stun on an enemy is more effective than going for raw damage depending on the circumstances. Taking advantage of opportunities and using Atreus to help stun and fend off enemies is key. Different gear and skills will improve this depending on what you can find and craft.

These changes reward a somewhat more tactical approach to combat scenarios and a wider variety of tactics that can be used to win. We wanted to give the players more options and more variety to fit the longer game experience.

What were some of the challenges in creating the gameplay experience this time around?

One major challenge was Atreus himself. There were many prototypes of how he could integrate into combat. He ranged from useless, to laughable, to annoying, to "kinda OK, maybe" for a very long time. Some members of the team wished him to be cut. It wasn't until around the time people saw him drop kick an enemy, trip them, then proceed to beat him with his bow repeatedly when people finally started to say "OK, I guess he is pretty cool."

What elements did you incorporate into each level to make them unique?

Each level is a blend of new narrative, puzzle mechanics, and enemy types. We try to focus on a new blend of those elements for each level to ensure you do not get the same experience back to back.

Describe some of the gameplay challenges introduced with the addition of Atreus.

Companions in games are often annoying for a variety of reasons. They get in your way, they do stupid things, they steal your kills, they get into trouble, or they talk too much. The chief goal for him was to make him not a pain in your ass.

That partially meant no micro managing. We give the player one button to command him to shoot enemies to help distract or stun enemies. If you don't command him, he will still automatically grab enemies or follow up on your attacks with his own combos. Kratos is clearly the brawn in this relationship, but that doesn't mean his son cannot hold his own and help Kratos get things done.

What was the motivation for Kratos to give up his Blades and take up the magical Leviathan Axe? How has the new weapon altered gameplay in God of War?

We knew if we were to truly reinvent Kratos and the series, we needed to give him a new iconic weapon. It took a while for the first throwing axe prototypes to emerge, but when they did a new direction was born. Throwing the axe not only felt good from the new tighter camera angle, it also gave life to new puzzle opportunities based on aiming and recalling the axe. Plus, we kind of liked jamming your axe in the back of someone's head and watching them fall as you walked away. Embracing this weapon was a definite anchor point for the entirety of the new God of War title.

Can you speak in general about what lies ahead for Kratos, Atreus, and the franchise? Where does God of War go from here? Are sequels in the works?

The only way to know what's in store is to play the game and find out! If you want spoilers I cannot help you. Bribes could work though.

PRINCIPAL CHARACTER ARTIST

How did you first become interested in pursuing a career in video games?

I started my career creating characters for advertising and products. As I improved my skills the video game industry became a natural transition for me.

How long have you been on the team?

I've been with Sony for six years, working on God of War for the past four.

Give the reader an idea of your day-to-day tasks.

During my day, I look at the progress on all the characters that are being developed at the studio, sync with different teams and departments if there are any dependencies or things that are being worked and give feedback on it. If nothing else needs my attention, I go back to my desk and I create some art myself, if it's for Kratos, a small prop or prototyping something new, it depends on what stage we are in the project.

What was your favorite aspect about the project?

The universe we are working on. The title and the theme are so rich in characters that it makes my work that much more fun.

What was the trickiest task assigned to you and how did you solve it?

Kratos and Atreus, not necessarily in this order. Creating a new version of a well-established character was a very tricky task and took a long time. On the other side, introducing a new hero walking next to this well-established character was very scary, specially being a young character.

What are you most proud of concerning the game?

The way we were able to introduce these characters to the fans and tell a new story.

ART AND DESIGN

What fresh approaches have you brought to the design of the principal characters for God of War?

From my experience on working on other triple A PS4 Sony games, I was able to bring another point of view of executing realistic characters but still maintaining the style that God of War always had and find that balance.

Where did you look for inspiration in designing new characters, such as Brok, Sindri, Freya, and the World Serpent?

We looked at a lot of historical references for costumes, story of characters, and how we could mix that with the God of War style we developed. Creating a strong design with a strong base of references from the period, but adding our own twist to those characters, is what kept us inspired to create new unique characters.

Talk about your inspiration for the artistic look and feel of God of War's transition to a Norse mythological setting.

The past titles of the franchise always had a very strong style and art direction. For this one we wanted to bring the title to the next generation of consoles and the new mythology, but still maintain as much as we could from the past titles. This new mythology allows us to be a lot more realistic on how we treat everything. The characters and environments are a lot more grounded and that way when we introduce the twist of the new setting, the mythological characters, gods and big monuments, it is a lot more impressive than before.

What were the biggest challenges when striving for a no-cut camera? Did this change the way the team approached the game?

In the past titles, camera cuts allowed us to have more resolution on characters during cut scenes, swap meshes around with more polygons, and maintain quality every time the camera was close. For lighting, it was a big hit. If you play any other game you will notice lights shifting around to create a perfect shot for every camera placement. This time around we had to come up with tricks for all of that. Characters need to be 100% during gameplay and cinematics; there is no swapping textures around. Lights had to be kept in the same position for long cinematics and find tricks to move them around without the player noticing. It was painful but worth the effort, you can see the results and feel the immersion when you play the game.

STORY AND NARRATIVE DESIGN LEAD

How did you first become interested in pursuing a career in video games?

I was going to college for a degree in Radio/Television/Film with a minor in Journalism. In fact, most of my writing background was always in journalism (and more specifically, sports journalism). I'd always been a big video game and comic book geek—coming up with game ideas and drawing comic book characters—but it wasn't something I'd really considered as a career.

On the flip side, I had a good friend who decided right out of high school that all he wanted to do was make games. So, when I went off to college, he pursued a job in games. Fast forward to my senior year in college...I was working at a talk radio station in Dallas, and my buddy had recently moved back to town to be one of the first employees of a new video game studio starting up. After a while there, he told me he thought it was something I'd really love doing if I gave it a shot. I figured, "what the hell" and started going to his apartment in the morning when he'd go off to work, and would build levels just to see if it was something I may want to shift careers for. Soon after, I just started showing up to work with him and began fixing levels on a secondary computer he had sitting next to his desk. After a little while of that, the Project Lead realized he'd never actually hired me, but I was doing good work so maybe he should start paying me. And that's how I got my first job in the industry at Ion Storm. I never looked back from there.

By the way, I don't recommend just showing up at a company and starting to work like you already have a job there. Ion Storm was a unique place and it was a LONG time ago when it comes to game development. I think most people would now be escorted out by security and possibly prosecuted.

How long have you been on the team?

3½ years

Give the reader an idea of your day-to-day tasks.

Well, at the time of this interview, most of my day is spent addressing bugs and finding things in the game from the narrative-side that aren't playing out correctly.

As a writer/narrative designer, your day-to-day is wildly different based on what stage of the game's development you're in. In the beginning, a typical day consisted of lots of sit-downs with my writing partner, Rich Gaubert, and Cory (Barlog, the Creative Director) to hash out major beats of the story. We'd write things up on note cards and pin them up on a board—constantly shifting them around as the spine of the plot took shape.

At other times, we spent time writing character breakdowns and monologues for Casting, and then watching and giving feedback on auditions. Sometimes we were holed up for days on end furiously writing scenes or level banter so it was ready for pre-visualization or temp VO recording.

And other days we spent most of our hours taking screenshots and doing paint-overs to explain to implementers how we intend for banter to trigger as a player progresses through the level. Others were spent timing and re-timing banter so that it sounds conversational and leaves room for sound effects and specific animations.

It's kind of a grab-bag that keeps you on your toes, honestly.

What was your favorite aspect about the project?

If you mean, "what's my favorite aspect of the game," it's the depth of the world we've been able to create. Gone are the days of a purely linear romp with each level bookended by cinematics. I'm incredibly proud of what this team has been able to pull together and create.

What was the trickiest task assigned to you and how did you solve it?

I think the trickiest task was to find a way to write Kratos in a way that stayed true to who he is (the character that players have had many games to become familiar with) while evolving him to the point where players can accept that he's different now. He's a man that wants to change—to be more than the "Ghost of Sparta" and remorseless killer of gods. Part of doing it was just digging in and figuring out what aspects of Kratos I found potentially redeemable. Adding Atreus to the mix with Kratos wanting to change FOR someone gave me an "in" to the character that I could relate to. Hopefully players will find this as well.

What are you most proud of concerning the game?

I'm proud we've so far been able to change how players (at this point, playtesters and team members) feel about Kratos as a character. I think to a large degree, people felt like he was largely irredeemable... a notion Kratos himself would agree with. After playing through this game, I've heard almost everyone come around on Kratos and that he's a far more tragic character with more depth of emotion than the pseudo-villain he'd mostly become.

How does God of War fit into the storyline, both as a continuation of the series and as a soft reboot for the franchise?

God of War picks up many MANY years after the events of God of War III. It's a direct continuation because Kratos has grown from his experiences in the previous games. He's still the same man (err... demi-god) that killed most of the Greek pantheon—including his father and his previous family. It fits as a soft reboot because, like Kratos, we've moved to a different place both physically and emotionally, and we're all older and grayer with different outlooks on life. Not to crib too much from our E3 2016 demo, but it's "a new beginning."

What were the overall goals in creating the next chapter of the God of War universe?

The goal was to create a deeper, more intimate experience for players and to tear down a lot of the walls Kratos built around himself to get to the heart of the character.

What key decisions were made to reinforce and accomplish those goals?

By giving Kratos a son to care for, we could tap into the fears Kratos has of passing on the bad parts of himself—the parts Kratos wishes he could forget. From a technical standpoint, pulling the camera in tight and making all the action play out up close makes the gameplay feel more immediate... like you're experiencing everything at Kratos' side, rather than at a distance.

What do you feel has the most impact in making the God of War series stand apart from other video games?

I think it's the scale of things and only being limited by imagination. I spent many of the middle parts of my career working on shooters that are grounded in realism (whether in World War II or a science fiction future). God of War gives the freedom to say, "this is mythology, not history." You want to fight a living statue? Do it! Pull off the fingernail of an enormous Titan? Have at it! Bury your axe in the face of an 18 ft. tall troll throwing fire at you? You got it, pal. It's incredibly freeing from a creativity standpoint.

How would you summarize the experience of God of War?

I'd say God of War is a deep, visceral, emotional experience that I hope surprises players and makes them want to continue playing long after they should have gone to bed. You have work/school in the morning... go to sleep!

NARRATIVE

God of War introduces a father-son theme to the series. What was the inspiration for this, how has it affected Kratos as a character, and what were the challenges in developing this theme?

As Cory tells it, he was at a different point in his life than when he directed God of War II. He became a father to a young son and saw the potential in exploring this aspect of his life through the lens of Kratos. When I joined the project, I could fully identify with that perspective because I'm also a father to a young son, as is Rich. By giving Kratos a son to raise, it gave us the ability to tap into the fears we all have when raising our own sons. As a parent, you're always concerned that your bad traits—the ones you really wish you could change—will become your child's bad traits. I know I personally always feel like I'm screwing up and can only hope I'm a good influence on my son more often than not. Imagine how Kratos feels when you think of all the horrible things he's done and the rage he's constantly striving to contain. "The sins of the father..." so to speak.

How has the transition to the Norse mythological setting impacted the story? What was the inspiration for this? What were the challenges?

Kratos is a stranger in a strange land. He's in a place that doesn't know him. One of the things Kratos has always tried to do is forget his past, and moving far north was a way for him to do that. We'd considered other mythologies to explore before landing on this one, but to me, for a demi-god seeking isolation from the rest of the world, the Norse lands seemed like the perfect place for Kratos to exile himself.

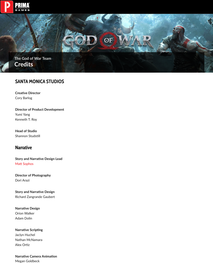

One of the big challenges with regard to Norse mythology is that it's really not terribly well-documented. Unlike Greek mythology, where books still exist that were actually written during that time period, Norse mythology was largely oral stories passed from person-to-person. In fact, the oldest, most extensive written history of the Norse gods was authored by a Christian scholar close to 1000 years after the Norse mythological era. It's all very fragmented, with not much in the way of accepted "facts". This provided both a terrifying challenge and a lot of freedom when it came to mining myths for the game.

Can you speak in general about what lies ahead for Kratos, Atreus, and the franchise? Where does God of War go from here? Are sequels in the works?
